Third Of Jews In Palestine Under Arrest

British Troops Intensify Hunt For Saboteur Killers

101 WOUNDED, 2 SLAIN DURING STRICT CURFEW

Eight Thousand Soldiers Sent To Tel Aviv, Ramat Gan After Bombings

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10 (AP) — British troops arrested 101 Jews and wounded two today during an intensive hunt through Tel Aviv and nearby Ramat Gan for saboteurs responsible for killing three persons and injuring at least 12.

More than one-third of Palestine's Jews were under house arrest through a strict curfew for most of the day.

Fifty-four of the detainees were arrested in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where two men were wounded in "active resistance to the searchers," a communique said.

Forty-seven persons were arrested in the search among Remat Gan's 5,000 inhabitants, the announcement said, and the hunt there unearthed illegal pamphlets, a sten gun and magazine, and some "War Department training manuals."

The announcement also said that troops who searched the Sedot Yam settlement south of Haifa detained four women "for refusing to give particulars about themselves."

The rigid curfew which had been clamped on Tel Aviv was lifted after 16 hours, and in Ramat Gan, which had been completely cordoned off, the search was believed to have been ended. Tension eased somewhat tonight.

Eight thousand troops of the Scottish Gordons and the Sixth Airborne Division had poured into the two cities after the series of bombings and shootings.

A British major, identified by authorities as Maj. Desmond Doran, security officer for Tel Aviv and Jaffa who was scheduled to be returned to England this week; an unidentified British sergeant, and an arab constable were killed.

Authorities said it was possible that at least one of the attackers was killed last night.

Officials blamed the Jewish underground for the bombings and shootings in which buildings were wrecked and rail lines cut at least 50 places.

The Irgun Zvai Leumi, second largest Jewish underground, claimed responsibility for the Sunday night assaults on rail lines, and authorities generally held the same organization responsible for the fatal attacks in Tel Aviv and Northern Palestine Monday.

Palestinian police rode British armored cars through Tel Aviv at dawn. Troops patrolled the streets, and cordoned off the areas hit by four explosions last night.

Lewis Seeks End Government Mining

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators will try again tomorrow to reach contract terms which would permit the government to relinquish operation of the mines, but the operators appeared pessimistic.

A conference was called by Admiral Ben Moreell, federal coal mines administrator. It will be the first formal meeting since the negotiations broke down last May 22 and the government took over the strike-bound coal mines.

The strike was ended May 29 by agreement between Lewis and Secretary of Interior Krug which gave the 400,000 soft coal miners an hourly wage increase, a 5-cent royalty on each ton of coal for a miners' welfare and retirement fund, a federal mine safety rule and other concessions.

Tito Agrees To Pay Loss Of Aviators

No Offer Of Additional Indemnity For Planes Attacked By Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — Yugoslavia has tentatively agreed to pay damages for the loss of five lives in the forced crashes of two unarmed American transport planes, the State Department disclosed today.

Thus far, however, Marshal Tito's government has not consented to pay an additional indemnity for the loss of the planes which were attacked by Yugoslav fighters, Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton told a news conference.

Clayton has said several times that the United States is willing to end the dispute over the crashes if the indemnity issue is settled satisfactorily. He emphasized today, however, that the negotiations, being carried on in Belgrade by Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, Jr., are far from conclusive to date.

The tentative agreement to pay damages for the lives and the question over the additional payment for the property loss constitute only the first official Yugoslav reaction to Patterson's preliminary presentation of the matter, Clayton said.

He declined to disclose the amount of the indemnity asked by the United States.

Clayton reiterated the earlier statement by a State Department press officer that the government has no intention of intervening to prevent UNRRA shipments to Yugoslavia because of the dispute with Tito over the planes incident.

It is a matter for UNRRA to determine, Clayton said. He added the government is sorry the AFL Longshoremen's Union had attempted to take matters into its own hands by refusing to load ships with UNRRA supplies for Yugoslavia.

Any such action, he said, should be determined by UNRRA or the State Department and not by a union.

Living Conditions Hurt By 'Epidemic'

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10—(AP)—Chairman Ira Mosher of the National Manufacturers Association declared tonight that the country is beset by three "epidemics" which are sapping hope of improved living conditions, listing them as "strikes, bureaucratic controls and deficit spending."

Appearing before a regional meeting of the NAM and the Baltimore Association of Commerce, Mosher was particularly critical of the government's labor policies and operations of the OPA.

"A small group of labor leaders are now using this country's productive economy as a cat plays with a mouse," the NAM board chairman said in his prepared address.

He added that "monopolistic powers, in matters which affect the economic life of every American, have fallen into the hands of a few labor leaders through the complete failure of our government to establish a fair, consistent labor relations policy.

"Yet it is possible to establish a fair policy that is in the interest of every worker, organized or not, as well as the public interest. Such a policy cannot be achieved through the makeshift measures proposed to date by those who jockey for power at the expense of the public's vital interest in labor peace."

He charged in recent years labor has shown "an increasing reluctance to bargain out its differences."

Criticizing bureaucratic controls in general, Mosher spoke of OPA in particular, asserting that "OPA is not price control, it is profit control" and does not prevent inflation but merely hides it.

"OPA restrictions have in many cases completely sabotaged normal production and distribution," he said. "Yet OPA is still with us. Black markets are still with us."

Widow Of Capt. Colin Kelly, Jr., Hopes For Return Of Hero's Body

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP) — The widow of Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., today expressed hopes that the body of the legendary hero of the tense days immediately after Pearl Harbor will be returned to this country so that "Colin III will be able to visit his father's grave."

"I thought at first I might like him to stay in the Philippines," she said of the bomber pilot whose body was positively identified by the War Department recently.

The widow, Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, who remarried in 1943, said she would like to have Capt. Kelly buried at the United States Military Academy.

"Then," she declared, "If Colin III goes to West Point, it would be nice to have his father's grave there for him to visit."

President Roosevelt in 1941 recommended to his 1956 successor in the White House that Kelly's son, then an infant, be appointed to the military academy.

"Incidentally," Mrs. Pedlow interjected proudly, "we now call him Colin—we used to call him 'Corky' but he's six now and going to school so the nickname is out."

Mrs. Pedlow, just returned from an extended trip, said she had heard only this past week-end of the War Department announcement. Kelly's body, now lying in Military Cemetery No. 2 at Manila, will be returned, the War Department said, if either his widow or parents desire.

Mrs. Pedlow said she would like to discuss the matter with Capt. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin P. Kelly, Sr., of Madison, Fla., "when they visit us in the next week or two."

"The Kellys may wish him to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia," she added. "And it's really not for me to decide—all three of us will have to talk it over."

"I thought at first that I might like to have him stay in the Philippines but then I realized young Colin might never see him."

Captain Kelly met death in the crash of his bomber while returning from a raid on Japanese warships in the Philippines. The War Department cautiously credited him with making three direct hits on Japanese warships.

KILLER CAPTURED—Mark McCauley, Davis, W. Va., who shot and killed a West Virginia State Trooper and Tucker County Sheriff and wounded the sheriff's son, Monday afternoon, is seen here a few minutes after being captured at 9:30 last night, within a short distance of the scene of the cold-blooded shooting. McCauley offered no resistance when he was captured, after being surrounded by a posse of 250 men for more than 24 hours. (Story and other pictures on page 20)

Trouble In Holy Land Must End, Attlee Declares

Says Britain Is Open To Proposals Other Than Her Own

LONDON Sept. 10 (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee told the London Conference on Palestine today that disturbances in the Holy Land must cease, and said Britain was open to proposals other than her announced federalization plan for solving the Palestine problem.

Only representatives of Britain and the seven Arab League states attended the opening session, but Attlee's statement raised some hopes that Jews might decide to participate. The Jewish Agency has been insisting on discussion of a Jewish state.

Later today an authoritative Jewish source, who insisted upon anonymity, declared Britain had adopted "a policy of appeasement toward the Arabs' because of Arab threats to turn to Russia if their demands were not satisfied.

One Arab leader immediately commented that "there is likely to be a general swing away from Britain and America and toward the Soviet Union" if the British did not grant Arab demands. He also would not permit use of his name.

The Jewish informant said Jewish Agency leaders had discussed Russian influence in the Middle East with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, and that Bevin "takes a serious view of Arab threats."

Attlee urged maintenance of what he called the "natural friendship" between Britain and the Arab peoples, reminding Syria and Lebanon that their presence in the United Nations was "due to British encouragement and assistance," and recalling that in Britain supported Trans-Jordan's application for United Nations membership. The Soviet Union opposed that application.

Only in Palestine, he said, "has there been a conflict in principle between British policy and Arab aspirations." He promised Arabs all possible British aid "to help you in promoting economic expansion and social progress."

Attlee, welcoming the delegates, said the British government deplored the "state of unrest and disturbance into which Palestine has been plunged, to the detriment of interests there," and added "it is a state which cannot be permitted to continue."

PW Camp Refunds $18,000 Upon Closing

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 10 (AP)—Operation of the prisoner-of-war camp near here was so successful that upon its close nearly $18,000 was refunded to persons who had employed its labor.

Although only five cents an hour was charged for the use of prisoners a sufficient surplus remained for refunds of 2.9 for each hour's labor after construction and operating expenses were paid.

Sugar Prices To Rise

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 10. (AP)—An increase in the price of sugar will be announced in a day or two, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced today.

Anderson would not say how great the increase would be but stated that he definitely would authorize it.

O'Dwyer Predicts Trouble If Truck Strike Continues

New York Mayor Says Local 807 Is Completely Out Of Hand Of Its Officers

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer predicted tonight "it is very likely that bloodshed and injury will result" unless Teamsters negotiate a settlement of the crippling New York trucking strike which brought shortages in essential commodities and forced job layoffs in businesses unable to get supplies.

In a telegram to Daniel Tobin, international president of the Teamsters Union (AFL), in Indianapolis, O'Dwyer said that Local 807 which called the strike is "completely out of the hands of its officers" and that "failure of the International to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."

Later, O'Dwyer, speaking to reporters, accused Communists of dominating Local 807.

Express Is Embargoed

Additional hardship was brought to New York City's millions today when the Railway Express Agency embargoed all express shipments into the city. The agency explained that "complete congestion of New York City facilities" and the "unprecedented" amount of shipments arriving by express necessitated the move.

The striking truckmen are clinging to their original demand for a 30 per cent wage increase, and intensified their picketing at city entrances in new efforts to get all trucks off the streets. O'Dwyer suggested a compromise of 18½ cents an hour.

A buying spree seized the city as supplies went lower daily, and many food stores were threatened with complete shutdown.

Max A. Foley, president of the New York Building Congress, said thousands would be thrown out of work and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of construction would stop Saturday because of strike-induced shortages.

O'Dwyer, renewing his promise that food and medicine supplies would remain adequate, told Tobin he understood there were 26 Local Teamster Unions in New York City that "desire to work" and that "I will not permit the tens of thousands of organized teamsters who desire to work to be intimidated and prevented from so doing."

Will Inform Public

O'Dwyer told reporters the public should know "who's leading" the members of Local 807 and "if they don't know let them consult me and I'll tell them."

Asked "can that be a member of the Communist party,?" the mayor replied, "It is."

Later he announced he had sum-

O'Conor Studies Plea Of Clemency For Two Negroes

Convicted Rapists Sentenced To Hang For Molesting WAC

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 10 (AP)—Governor O'Conor studied tonight a clemency plea to commute the sentences of hanging against two convicted rapists to life imprisonment.

The condemned were Roy N. Peters and William D. Demby, Harford County negro youths convicted of raping a WAC sergeant near Nagolia, Harford County, January 8.

Two other negroes, Theodore E. Peters, Jr., and Robert J. Gilbert were found guilty of attempted rape and rape, respectively, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the same trial by the Baltimore City Criminal Court.

Dc ies Reversals

Demby and Roy Peters were recently denied reversals by the court of appeals and brought their final plea to the governor today.

One of their attorneys hinted, however, that if the governor refused to commute the sentences, the case might go to the United States Supreme Court.

In a three-hour hearing today attended by approximately 40 persons, attorneys for Demby and Peters pleaded with the governor to relax the sentence of hanging.

Attorney Joseph Rosenthal argued at length against capital punishment as "barbaric and uncivilized." He contended its application in this case was unjustified by the circumstances.

He declared the rape victim had failed to resist the young negroes and that they had inflicted no physical injury upon her.

In reply Deputy State's Attorney William H. Maynard of Baltimore County said Demby and Peters were "aggressors in the crime," which he said was "premeditated." He added the WAC sergeant submitted "out of fear for her life."

Explains Legal Aspects

Attorney T. F. Cadwalader of Harford County explained to Governor O'Conor the legal aspect of the case, which turned upon admitting a confession of one defendant as evidence against another.

The question was decided by the Court of Appeals which said that in Maryland when courts sit as judge and jury they are judges of the law as well as of the facts, and

"War Of Nerves" Waged On Russia, Minister Charges

Manuilsky Answers Statement Blaming Reds For Aggressive Acts

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 10, (AP)—Dmitri Manuilsky, Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister, told the United Nations Security Council today that a war of nerves is being waged against the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, Manuilsky said, Communists hold government positions in many countries and it was "time to put a stop" to actions against them.

The Ukrainian representative thus gave answer to what he said was an attempt by Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative to the United Nations, to blame Communists for agressive acts in Greece.

Manuilsky gave scant notice to Australia's demand that the council throw his case against Greece and Great Britain out of court because, in the Australian view, it had not been substantiated. He said he did not need a lecture from the Australian delegate and that it was not worth while to return to the Australian's remarks.

Manuilsky attempted in a 2-hour speech to the council to answer everyone who had differed with him in the council debate on charges he filed August 24 alleging that the Greek government, aided by British troops in Greece, was a menace to peace in the Balkans. He urged the council to take measures without delay to allay the threat to peace he said resulted from Greek policy.

The Ukrainian declared that Communists in many countries had contributed heavily toward victory in World War II. He said that Spain, Portugal and Greece were the only countries in Europe carrying on what he called the Hitlerite policy against Communists.

Manuilsky took up the attacks on his charges made by Dendramis, Paul Hasluck, of Australia, Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, and Herschel V. Johnson, United States representative. As he mentioned their answers he looked directly at the delegate concerned.

He said that Cadogan had denied everything in general and did not give any answers to the Ukrainian charge.

Of Johnson's question why Russia did not send observers to Greece to watch the elections last spring and the plebiscite September 1, Manuilsky said the Soviet had taken that stand because it felt that to send observers would interfere in the internal affairs of a country.

Painter Accused Of Killing Widow

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10, (AP) — Howard Elmer Clayton, 40-year-old painter, was charged today with the killing of a 30-year-old widow whose slashed body was found stuffed behind a wardrobe cabinet in his room.

Police Capt. William Murphy said the woman had been identified as Mrs. Sadie Lester Jackson, formerly of Bud, Wyoming County, West Virginia, and the mother of two sons, 10 and 12.

A charge of assaulting and cutting and causing the death of Mrs. Jackson was filed against Clayton soon after Leland Cook, also a former Bud resident, identified the body.

Police first were summoned to Clayton's room by a caller who told them on the telephone they would find a woman's body there. Murphy said today Clayton had placed the call from the home of his brother nearby.

Mrs. Jackson, known also as Mrs. Sadie Brown, was found dressed in a slip and wrapped in a blanket. Medical examiners reported she had been repeatedly slashed across the throat, breast and shoulders.

Murphy said he learned from Clayton that he met the woman in a Baltimore night club Sunday evening and that they had gone to his room. Clayton told the officer he had gone out for a bottle of whiskey but dropped it on the way back. Murphy said the two got into an argument over the missing bottle.

Neighbors said Mrs. Jackson moved from one rooming house to another about a week ago and since then they have not seen one of the two boys who had lived with her.

Police today located one son, Tommy, 10, and turned him over to the juvenile court for care. Tommy told the officers his brother Jimmy was "home in West Virginia."

Howard Hughes Flying After Recent Accident

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—Howard Hughes, millionaire motion picture producer and aircraft manufacturer, dangerously injured nine weeks ago in the flaming crash of an experimental plane, piloted a twin-engine converted B-23 transport into Kansas City today en route to New York.

Hughes said he planned to leave here between 1 and 4 o'clock tomorrow morning to continue his trip from Culver City, Calif., to New York to confer with the Motion Picture Producers Association about his movie, "The Outlaw." The association has charged that Hughes failed to obtain approval for advertising and publicity material used in exploiting the film.

Peace Group Adopts Act To Aid Jews

Romanian Treaty Amendment Accepted Despite Russian Objections

PARIS, Sept. 10, (AP) — A peace conference commission adopted 7 to 5 today over Russian, French and Slavic states' objections a Romanian treaty clause designed to protect Jews and other minorities in the former enemy country from future discrimination.

Offered by Lord Hood of Great Britain to the Romanian Political and Territorial Commission, the amendment was supported by the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, and Britain, and opposed by Russia, France, White Russia, the Ukraine and Yugoslavia on grounds that it was unnecessary. This was the first division among the Big Four on an actual treaty text.

Known As Article 3-A

The amendment, which Lord Hood said would be offered for all the other four treaties before this conference, is designated as article 3-A, and reads:

"Romania further undertakes that the laws in force in Romania shall not either in their content or in their application discriminate or entail any discrimination between persons of Romanian nationality on the ground of their race, sex, language, or religion, whether in reference to their persons, property, business, professional or financial status, in political or civic rights or any other matters."

A half-dozen commissions were at work today, among them the Italian Political and Territorial Commission which voted a full debate on the thorny problem of Trieste's boundaries as a free zone.

Votes Unanimously

The commission voted unanimously to name an eight-nation subcommission to draft a statute for the projected free zone of the Adriatic port, but the group may not begin its work until the entire commission debates the Trieste situation. This stipulation was laid down in an amendment by Yugoslavia, opposed only by Britain in a roll-call vote.

The proposal to appoint the subcommission was advanced by Commission Chairman Leif Egeland, who said it should be instructed to complete its work by October 6, in line with the peace conference's drive to accomplish its tasks before the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

Truman Presses Plans For Army-Navy Unity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — President Truman pushed for Army-Navy unification today in a major conference with heads of the United States Armed Forces.

He called Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Chief of Naval Operations, to an hour-long discussion of the matter, along with Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Navy has been reluctant to agree to merger proposals.

Before the President was a suggestion by Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Military Committee that a part of the merger legislation, on which Congress failed to act, might be put into effect by an executive order.

There were reports at the War Department that this proposal was discussed.

Bowles Seeks Democratic Nomination For Governor

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 10 (AP)—Chester Bowles, war-time boss of the OPA, made a bid for the Democratic nomination for governor of Connecticut today while the state's Republicans were nominating a ticket headed by Governor Raymond E. Baldwin as candidate for United States Senator.

If successful in his quest for the nomination at the Democratic state convention which opens here next Monday, Bowles will have as his Republican rival Dr. James L. McConaughy, retired Wesleyan University president and head of United China Relief.

Heavy Pressure To Relax Limit Brings Caucas

Consideration On $17.50 Raise Curb Expected By Wage Board

OPERATORS SEEK RIGHT TO MEET AFL DEMANDS

Firemen, Cooks And Stewards Threaten To Join Striking Seamen

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL), said early tonight that, effective at midnight, the striking Maritime Unions would permit tugboats to tow barges containing essentials such as food and fuel for New York City.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—(AP)—Bombarded with pleas to relax its wage curbs and thus end America's greatest shipping strike, the wage stabilization board tonight scheduled a secret meeting for tomorrow to chart its course.

The board can:

1. Vote to reconsider, or not to reconsider, its order limiting AFL Maritime Unionists to a raise of $17.50 a month.

2. If it votes to reconsider, decide whether to reverse the order which so angered AFL members that they have tied up every ocean port in the country since Thursday.

As time passed the strike threatened to become greater still, with warnings that firemen, cooks and stewards may join the striking seamen.

Pleads For Union Demands

Ship operators pleaded in a day-long session that the board let them meet union demands. The unions on strike, all of them American Federation of Labor, boycotted the meeting and let their picket lines take the place of argument.

Willard Wirtz, board chairman, told reporters that it is possible the board may decide tomorrow. At any rate, it will consider the whole picture in executive session beginning at 10:30 a. m. EST, he said.

The pressure being applied apparently did not include any from President Truman. Wirtz said in reply to questions that the board has had no communication from the White House.

Warnings that the marine firemen, cooks and stewards may swiftly join the striking seamen were served on the board as it held a hearing on the question of reversing its ruling limiting merchant seamen's pay increases.

From all sides, the board was told that the price of settling the strike is a ruling okaying the union's demands.

First the AFL seamen's unions stood flat on their stand that no ship shall sail from any ocean port until the demands are met.

Fears More Strikes

Second, President J. B. Bryan of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, pleaded with the board to grant the demands, saying: "Before we know it we're going to have two more strikes on our hands, possibly the Marine Firemen and the Marine Cooks and Stewards."

Finally, an assistant secretary of labor, Philip Hannah, reported that his personal negotiations have convinced him that "unless there is a complete reversal, Lundberg won't send his men back to work."

Hannah was referring to Harry Lundberg, leader of the West Coast AFL strike. Lundberg stayed pointedly away from today's hearing.

A letter from the strike committee of the Sailors Union of the Pacific explained to Hannah that Lundeberg "is vitally needed at headquarters" in San Francisco. It said this is true because "outside political forces are injecting themselves into the strike picture."

The letter did not name these forces, but Hannah told reporters that the CIO Committee for Maritime Unity was moving to put pickets out in support of the AFL strike

Severe Meat Shortage Predicted As Price Ceilings Are Restored

Meat went back under retail price ceilings yesterday (Tuesday) but most cities faced a severe shortage which packers and wholesalers predicted would grow progressively worse for the next few weeks.

Recent record livestock marketings, before price controls were reinstated, brought a tempoary abundance in meat in the butcher shops but heavy retail buying over the weekend left little but cold cuts, fish and poultry in the coolers.

George Dressler, secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said many butcher shops were planning to close for a week at a time to accumulate supplies for a few days operations. When these are gone, he added, the shops will close again until new supplies are accumulated.

A spokesman for the National Restaurant Association said the pinch of supplies would affect restaurants in about a week. Uncertainty of future price policies, he said, discouraged most restaurants from stocking up when meat was available.

The dwindling livestock receipts in the nation's principal markets caused widespread layoffs of workers. About 5,000 were laid off in Omaha and nearly twice this number in Chicago. About 4,000 Pittsburgh Packing House workers were told they might be "furloughed."

An Agriculture Department spokesman in Washington predicted the meat famine would end in a month or so. The spring pig crop normally begins coming to market in late October and a substantial movement of cattle from the range and midwest markets also is expected within 60 days.

The Agriculture Department reported that meat production last week dropped 73 per cent below the preceding week, from 269,000,000 pounds to 74,000,000 pounds. The

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10 (AP) — British troops arrested 101 Jews and wounded two today during an intensive hunt through Tel Aviv and nearby Ramat Gan for saboteurs responsible for killing three persons and injuring at least 12.

More than one-third of Palestine's Jews were under house arrest through a strict curfew for most of the day.

Tito Agrees To Pay Loss Of Aviators

No Offer Of Additional Indemnity For Planes Attacked By Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — Yugoslavia has tentatively agreed to pay damages for the loss of five lives in the forced crashes of two unarmed American transport planes, the State Department disclosed today.

Thus far, however, Marshal Tito's government has not consented to pay an additional indemnity for the loss of the planes which were attacked by Yugoslav fighters, Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton told a news conference.

Clayton has said several times that the United States is willing to end the dispute over the crashes if the indemnity issue is settled satisfactorily. He declined to disclose the amount of the indemnity asked by the United States.

Clayton reiterated the earlier statement by a State Department press officer that the government has no intention of intervening to prevent UNRRA shipments to Yugoslavia because of the dispute with Tito over the planes incident.

It is a matter for UNRRA to determine, Clayton said. He added the government is sorry the AFL Longshoremen's Union had attempted to take matters into its own hands by refusing to load ships with UNRRA supplies for Yugoslavia.

Any such action, he said, should be determined by UNRRA or the State Department and not by a union.

Living Conditions Hurt By 'Epidemic'

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10—(AP)—Chairman Ira Mosher of the National Manufacturers Association declared tonight that the country is beset by three "epidemics" which are sapping hope of improved living conditions, listing them as "strikes, bureaucratic controls and deficit spending."

Appearing before a regional meeting of the NAM and the Baltimore Association of Commerce, Mosher was particularly critical of the government's labor policies and operations of the OPA.

"A small group of labor leaders are now using this country's productive economy as a cat plays with a mouse," the NAM board chairman said in his prepared address.

He added that "monopolistic powers, in matters which affect the economic life of every American, have fallen into the hands of a few labor leaders through the complete failure of our government to establish a fair, consistent labor relations policy.

"Yet it is possible to establish a fair policy that is in the interest of every worker, organized or not, as well as the public interest. Such a policy cannot be achieved through the makeshift measures proposed to date by those who jockey for power at the expense of the public's vital interest in labor peace."

He charged in recent years labor has shown "an increasing reluctance to bargain out its differences."

Criticizing bureaucratic controls in general, Mosher spoke of OPA in particular, asserting that "OPA is not price control, it is profit control" and does not prevent inflation but merely hides it.

"OPA restrictions have in many cases completely sabotaged normal production and distribution," he said. "Yet OPA is still with us. Black markets are still with us."

Widow Of Capt. Colin Kelly, Jr., Hopes For Return Of Hero's Body

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP) — The widow of Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., today expressed hopes that the body of the legendary hero of the tense days immediately after Pearl Harbor will be returned to this country so that "Colin III will be able to visit his father's grave."

"I thought at first I might like him to stay in the Philippines," she said of the bomber pilot whose body was positively identified by the War Department recently.

The widow, Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, who remarried in 1943, said she would like to have Capt. Kelly buried at the United States Military Academy.

"Then," she declared, "If Colin III goes to West Point, it would be nice to have his father's grave there for him to visit."

President Roosevelt in 1941 recommended to his 1956 successor in the White House that Kelly's son, then an infant, be appointed to the military academy.

"Incidentally," Mrs. Pedlow interjected proudly, "we now call him Colin—we used to call him 'Corky' but he's six now and going to school so the nickname is out."

Mrs. Pedlow, just returned from an extended trip, said she had heard only this past week-end of the War Department announcement. Kelly's body, now lying in Military Cemetery No. 2 at Manila, will be returned, the War Department said, if either his widow or parents desire.

Mrs. Pedlow said she would like to discuss the matter with Capt. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin P. Kelly, Sr., of Madison, Fla., "when they visit us in the next week or two."

"The Kellys may wish him to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia," she added. "And it's really not for me to decide—all three of us will have to talk it over."

"I thought at first that I might like to have him stay in the Philippines but then I realized young Colin might never see him."

Captain Kelly met death in the crash of his bomber while returning from a raid on Japanese warships in the Philippines. The War Department cautiously credited him with making three direct hits on Japanese warships.

KILLER CAPTURED—Mark McCauley, Davis, W. Va., who shot and killed a West Virginia State Trooper and Tucker County Sheriff and wounded the sheriff's son, Monday afternoon, is seen here a few minutes after being captured at 9:30 last night, within a short distance of the scene of the cold-blooded shooting. McCauley offered no resistance when he was captured, after being surrounded by a posse of 250 men for more than 24 hours. (Story and other pictures on page 20)

Trouble In Holy Land Must End, Attlee Declares

Says Britain Is Open To Proposals Other Than Her Own

LONDON Sept. 10 (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee told the London Conference on Palestine today that disturbances in the Holy Land must cease, and said Britain was open to proposals other than her announced federalization plan for solving the Palestine problem.

Only representatives of Britain and the seven Arab League states attended the opening session, but Attlee's statement raised some hopes that Jews might decide to participate. The Jewish Agency has been insisting on discussion of a Jewish state.

Later today an authoritative Jewish source, who insisted upon anonymity, declared Britain had adopted "a policy of appeasement toward the Arabs' because of Arab threats to turn to Russia if their demands were not satisfied.

One Arab leader immediately commented that "there is likely to be a general swing away from Britain and America and toward the Soviet Union" if the British did not grant Arab demands. He also would not permit use of his name.

The Jewish informant said Jewish Agency leaders had discussed Russian influence in the Middle East with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, and that Bevin "takes a serious view of Arab threats."

Attlee urged maintenance of what he called the "natural friendship" between Britain and the Arab peoples, reminding Syria and Lebanon that their presence in the United Nations was "due to British encouragement and assistance," and recalling that in Britain supported Trans-Jordan's application for United Nations membership. The Soviet Union opposed that application.

Only in Palestine, he said, "has there been a conflict in principle between British policy and Arab aspirations." He promised Arabs all possible British aid "to help you in promoting economic expansion and social progress."

Attlee, welcoming the delegates, said the British government deplored the "state of unrest and disturbance into which Palestine has been plunged, to the detriment of interests there," and added "it is a state which cannot be permitted to continue."

PW Camp Refunds $18,000 Upon Closing

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 10 (AP)—Operation of the prisoner-of-war camp near here was so successful that upon its close nearly $18,000 was refunded to persons who had employed its labor.

Although only five cents an hour was charged for the use of prisoners a sufficient surplus remained for refunds of 2.9 for each hour's labor after construction and operating expenses were paid.

Sugar Prices To Rise

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 10. (AP)—An increase in the price of sugar will be announced in a day or two, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced today.

Anderson would not say how great the increase would be but stated that he definitely would authorize it.

O'Dwyer Predicts Trouble If Truck Strike Continues

New York Mayor Says Local 807 Is Completely Out Of Hand Of Its Officers

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer predicted tonight "it is very likely that bloodshed and injury will result" unless Teamsters negotiate a settlement of the crippling New York trucking strike which brought shortages in essential commodities and forced job layoffs in businesses unable to get supplies.

In a telegram to Daniel Tobin, international president of the Teamsters Union (AFL), in Indianapolis, O'Dwyer said that Local 807 which called the strike is "completely out of the hands of its officers" and that "failure of the International to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."

Later, O'Dwyer, speaking to reporters, accused Communists of dominating Local 807.

Express Is Embargoed

Additional hardship was brought to New York City's millions today when the Railway Express Agency embargoed all express shipments into the city. The agency explained that "complete congestion of New York City facilities" and the "unprecedented" amount of shipments arriving by express necessitated the move.

The striking truckmen are clinging to their original demand for a 30 per cent wage increase, and intensified their picketing at city entrances in new efforts to get all trucks off the streets. O'Dwyer suggested a compromise of 18½ cents an hour.

A buying spree seized the city as supplies went lower daily, and many food stores were threatened with complete shutdown.

Max A. Foley, president of the New York Building Congress, said thousands would be thrown out of work and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of construction would stop Saturday because of strike-induced shortages.

O'Dwyer, renewing his promise that food and medicine supplies would remain adequate, told Tobin he understood there were 26 Local Teamster Unions in New York City that "desire to work" and that "I will not permit the tens of thousands of organized teamsters who desire to work to be intimidated and prevented from so doing."

Will Inform Public

O'Dwyer told reporters the public should know "who's leading" the members of Local 807 and "if they don't know let them consult me and I'll tell them."

Asked "can that be a member of the Communist party,?" the mayor replied, "It is."

Later he announced he had sum-

O'Conor Studies Plea Of Clemency For Two Negroes

Convicted Rapists Sentenced To Hang For Molesting WAC

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 10 (AP)—Governor O'Conor studied tonight a clemency plea to commute the sentences of hanging against two convicted rapists to life imprisonment.

The condemned were Roy N. Peters and William D. Demby, Harford County negro youths convicted of raping a WAC sergeant near Nagolia, Harford County, January 8.

Two other negroes, Theodore E. Peters, Jr., and Robert J. Gilbert were found guilty of attempted rape and rape, respectively, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the same trial by the Baltimore City Criminal Court.

Decies Reversals

Demby and Roy Peters were recently denied reversals by the court of appeals and brought their final plea to the governor today.

One of their attorneys hinted, however, that if the governor refused to commute the sentences, the case might go to the United States Supreme Court.

In a three-hour hearing today attended by approximately 40 persons, attorneys for Demby and Peters pleaded with the governor to relax the sentence of hanging.

Attorney Joseph Rosenthal argued at length against capital punishment as "barbaric and uncivilized." He contended its application in this case was unjustified by the circumstances.

He declared the rape victim had failed to resist the young negroes and that they had inflicted no physical injury upon her.

In reply Deputy State's Attorney William H. Maynard of Baltimore County said Demby and Peters were "aggressors in the crime," which he said was "premeditated." He added the WAC sergeant submitted "out of fear for her life."

Explains Legal Aspects

Attorney T. F. Cadwalader of Harford County explained to Governor O'Conor the legal aspect of the case, which turned upon admitting a confession of one defendant as evidence against another.

The question was decided by the Court of Appeals which said that in Maryland when courts sit as judge and jury they are judges of the law as well as of the facts, and

"War Of Nerves" Waged On Russia, Minister Charges

Manuilsky Answers Statement Blaming Reds For Aggressive Acts

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 10, (AP)—Dmitri Manuilsky, Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister, told the United Nations Security Council today that a war of nerves is being waged against the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, Manuilsky said, Communists hold government positions in many countries and it was "time to put a stop" to actions against them.

The Ukrainian representative thus gave answer to what he said was an attempt by Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative to the United Nations, to blame Communists for agressive acts in Greece.

Manuilsky gave scant notice to Australia's demand that the council throw his case against Greece and Great Britain out of court because, in the Australian view, it had not been substantiated. He said he did not need a lecture from the Australian delegate and that it was not worth while to return to the Australian's remarks.

Manuilsky attempted in a 2-hour speech to the council to answer everyone who had differed with him in the council debate on charges he filed August 24 alleging that the Greek government, aided by British troops in Greece, was a menace to peace in the Balkans. He urged the council to take measures without delay to allay the threat to peace he said resulted from Greek policy.

The Ukrainian declared that Communists in many countries had contributed heavily toward victory in World War II. He said that Spain, Portugal and Greece were the only countries in Europe carrying on what he called the Hitlerite policy against Communists.

Manuilsky took up the attacks on his charges made by Dendramis, Paul Hasluck, of Australia, Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, and Herschel V. Johnson, United States representative. As he mentioned their answers he looked directly at the delegate concerned.

He said that Cadogan had denied everything in general and did not give any answers to the Ukrainian charge.

Of Johnson's question why Russia did not send observers to Greece to watch the elections last spring and the plebiscite September 1, Manuilsky said the Soviet had taken that stand because it felt that to send observers would interfere in the internal affairs of a country.

Painter Accused Of Killing Widow

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10, (AP) — Howard Elmer Clayton, 40-year-old painter, was charged today with the killing of a 30-year-old widow whose slashed body was found stuffed behind a wardrobe cabinet in his room.

Police Capt. William Murphy said the woman had been identified as Mrs. Sadie Lester Jackson, formerly of Bud, Wyoming County, West Virginia, and the mother of two sons, 10 and 12.

A charge of assaulting and cutting and causing the death of Mrs. Jackson was filed against Clayton soon after Leland Cook, also a former Bud resident, identified the body.

Police first were summoned to Clayton's room by a caller who told them on the telephone they would find a woman's body there. Murphy said today Clayton had placed the call from the home of his brother nearby.

Mrs. Jackson, known also as Mrs. Sadie Brown, was found dressed in a slip and wrapped in a blanket. Medical examiners reported she had been repeatedly slashed across the throat, breast and shoulders.

Murphy said he learned from Clayton that he met the woman in a Baltimore night club Sunday evening and that they had gone to his room. Clayton told the officer he had gone out for a bottle of whiskey but dropped it on the way back. Murphy said the two got into an argument over the missing bottle.

Neighbors said Mrs. Jackson moved from one rooming house to another about a week ago and since then they have not seen one of the two boys who had lived with her.

Police today located one son, Tommy, 10, and turned him over to the juvenile court for care. Tommy told the officers his brother Jimmy was "home in West Virginia."

Howard Hughes Flying After Recent Accident

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—Howard Hughes, millionaire motion picture producer and aircraft manufacturer, dangerously injured nine weeks ago in the flaming crash of an experimental plane, piloted a twin-engine converted B-23 transport into Kansas City today en route to New York.

Hughes said he planned to leave here between 1 and 4 o'clock tomorrow morning to continue his trip from Culver City, Calif., to New York to confer with the Motion Picture Producers Association about his movie, "The Outlaw." The association has charged that Hughes failed to obtain approval for advertising and publicity material used in exploiting the film.

Peace Group Adopts Act To Aid Jews

Romanian Treaty Amendment Accepted Despite Russian Objections

PARIS, Sept. 10, (AP) — A peace conference commission adopted 7 to 5 today over Russian, French and Slavic states' objections a Romanian treaty clause designed to protect Jews and other minorities in the former enemy country from future discrimination.

Offered by Lord Hood of Great Britain to the Romanian Political and Territorial Commission, the amendment was supported by the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, and Britain, and opposed by Russia, France, White Russia, the Ukraine and Yugoslavia on grounds that it was unnecessary. This was the first division among the Big Four on an actual treaty text.

Known As Article 3-A

The amendment, which Lord Hood said would be offered for all the other four treaties before this conference, is designated as article 3-A, and reads:

"Romania further undertakes that the laws in force in Romania shall not either in their content or in their application discriminate or entail any discrimination between persons of Romanian nationality on the ground of their race, sex, language, or religion, whether in reference to their persons, property, business, professional or financial status, in political or civic rights or any other matters."

A half-dozen commissions were at work today, among them the Italian Political and Territorial Commission which voted a full debate on the thorny problem of Trieste's boundaries as a free zone.

Votes Unanimously

The commission voted unanimously to name an eight-nation subcommission to draft a statute for the projected free zone of the Adriatic port, but the group may not begin its work until the entire commission debates the Trieste situation. This stipulation was laid down in an amendment by Yugoslavia, opposed only by Britain in a roll-call vote.

The proposal to appoint the subcommission was advanced by Commission Chairman Leif Egeland, who said it should be instructed to complete its work by October 6, in line with the peace conference's drive to accomplish its tasks before the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

Truman Presses Plans For Army-Navy Unity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — President Truman pushed for Army-Navy unification today in a major conference with heads of the United States Armed Forces.

He called Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Chief of Naval Operations, to an hour-long discussion of the matter, along with Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Navy has been reluctant to agree to merger proposals.

Before the President was a suggestion by Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Military Committee that a part of the merger legislation, on which Congress failed to act, might be put into effect by an executive order.

There were reports at the War Department that this proposal was discussed.

Bowles Seeks Democratic Nomination For Governor

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 10 (AP)—Chester Bowles, war-time boss of the OPA, made a bid for the Democratic nomination for governor of Connecticut today while the state's Republicans were nominating a ticket headed by Governor Raymond E. Baldwin as candidate for United States Senator.

If successful in his quest for the nomination at the Democratic state convention which opens here next Monday, Bowles will have as his Republican rival Dr. James L. McConaughy, retired Wesleyan University president and head of United China Relief.

Heavy Pressure To Relax Limit Brings Caucas

Consideration On $17.50 Raise Curb Expected By Wage Board

OPERATORS SEEK RIGHT TO MEET AFL DEMANDS

Firemen, Cooks And Stewards Threaten To Join Striking Seamen

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL), said early tonight that, effective at midnight, the striking Maritime Unions would permit tugboats to tow barges containing essentials such as food and fuel for New York City.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—(AP)—Bombarded with pleas to relax its wage curbs and thus end America's greatest shipping strike, the wage stabilization board tonight scheduled a secret meeting for tomorrow to chart its course.

The board can:

1. Vote to reconsider, or not to reconsider, its order limiting AFL Maritime Unionists to a raise of $17.50 a month.

2. If it votes to reconsider, decide whether to reverse the order which so angered AFL members that they have tied up every ocean port in the country since Thursday.

As time passed the strike threatened to become greater still, with warnings that firemen, cooks and stewards may join the striking seamen.

Pleads For Union Demands

Ship operators pleaded in a day-long session that the board let them meet union demands. The unions on strike, all of them American Federation of Labor, boycotted the meeting and let their picket lines take the place of argument.

Willard Wirtz, board chairman, told reporters that it is possible the board may decide tomorrow. At any rate, it will consider the whole picture in executive session beginning at 10:30 a. m. EST, he said.

The pressure being applied apparently did not include any from President Truman. Wirtz said in reply to questions that the board has had no communication from the White House.

Warnings that the marine firemen, cooks and stewards may swiftly join the striking seamen were served on the board as it held a hearing on the question of reversing its ruling limiting merchant seamen's pay increases.

From all sides, the board was told that the price of settling the strike is a ruling okaying the union's demands.

First the AFL seamen's unions stood flat on their stand that no ship shall sail from any ocean port until the demands are met.

Fears More Strikes

Second, President J. B. Bryan of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, pleaded with the board to grant the demands, saying: "Before we know it we're going to have two more strikes on our hands, possibly the Marine Firemen and the Marine Cooks and Stewards."

Finally, an assistant secretary of labor, Philip Hannah, reported that his personal negotiations have convinced him that "unless there is a complete reversal, Lundberg won't send his men back to work."

Hannah was referring to Harry Lundberg, leader of the West Coast AFL strike. Lundberg stayed pointedly away from today's hearing.

A letter from the strike committee of the Sailors Union of the Pacific explained to Hannah that Lundeberg "is vitally needed at headquarters" in San Francisco. It said this is true because "outside political forces are injecting themselves into the strike picture."

The letter did not name these forces, but Hannah told reporters that the CIO Committee for Maritime Unity was moving to put pickets out in support of the AFL strike

Severe Meat Shortage Predicted As Price Ceilings Are Restored

Meat went back under retail price ceilings yesterday (Tuesday) but most cities faced a severe shortage which packers and wholesalers predicted would grow progressively worse for the next few weeks.

Recent record livestock markets, before price controls were reinstated, brought a tempoary abundance in meat in the butcher shops but heavy retail buying over the weekend left little but cold cuts, fish and poultry in the coolers.

George Dressler, secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said many butcher shops were planning to close for a week at a time to accumulate supplies for a few days operations. When these are gone, he added, the shops will close again until new supplies are accumulated.

A spokesman for the National Restaurant Association said the pinch of supplies would affect restaurants in about a week. Uncertainty of future price policies, he said, discouraged most restaurants from stocking up when meat was available.

The dwindling livestock receipts in the nation's principal markets caused widespread layoffs of workers. About 5,000 were laid off in Omaha and nearly twice this number in Chicago. About 4,000 Pittsburgh Packing House workers were told they might be "furloughed."

An Agriculture Department spokesman in Washington predicted the meat famine would end in a month or so. The spring pig crop normally begins coming to market in late October and a substantial movement of cattle from the range and midwest markets also is expected within 60 days.

The Agriculture Department reported that meat production last week dropped 73 per cent below the preceding week, from 269,000,000 pounds to 74,000,000 pounds. The

India On Brink Of Ruinous War, Moslem Head Says

Declares Civil Battle Can Be Averted Only By Skilled Diplomacy

BOMBAY, Sept. 10 (AP) — Mahomed Ali Jinnah, head of the Moslem league, said tonight that India stands on the brink of a ruinous civil war, which could be averted only by prompt, sincere and skilled diplomatic negotiations.

Jinnah, whose organization has declined to participate in the Hindu-dominated interim government charged with bringing independence to India, declared in an interview that recent bloody riots at Calcutta and Bombay were "undoubtedly symptoms of the nearness of civil war all over India and of the pattern that such a civil war might follow."

Jinnah reiterated that he was willing to participate in a "peace conference" in London for a "fresh start" on the settlement of the Indian problem.

"We dealt with underlings in the negotiations with the cabinet mission and the viceroy, and these have led India to the present dangerous position," he said. "Now, therefore, our remedy must lie with those at the top of the British government."

"The underlings have brought us to the point where we face two choices and only two," he continued. "One is the choice of civil war which would ruin Hindus, Moslems and the nations alike and from which I hope we can be spared, although we are nearer to it than most persons seem able to realize and are willing to admit.

"The other choice is a peaceful settlement through negotiation among leaders of this country and highest authorities in Britain. This would have to be a conference in which the good of the people instead of face-saving of individuals would be the paramount consideration. It would need to be carried out in calm surroundings with sincere determination, honesty and skill."

Jinnah said that more was at stake than the future of India, and added that "this is the sort of situation which breeds world wars."

New Math Teacher Named At Fort Hill

A new mathematics instructor has been added to the faculty of Fort Hill High School, and assumed his duties yesterday, Ralph R. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, announces.

He said Janney McLean Yates, Alexandria, Va., has signed a one-year contract and will assume duties in geometry and algebra, as an additional member of the staff.

Yates is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute class of 1924 and has done post graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

He has taught mathematics at Baltimore Polytechnical Institution as well as at Virginia Military Academy and Western Maryland College.

Rizer said Yates worked as an engineer for the Southeastern Underwriters Association as an inspector in six states from 1926 to 1931. From 1941 to 1943 he was associated with the War Production Training Board and later served in the Army.

Rail Officials

Sample's men on smoke prevention to the city officials.

S. M. Roth, Hagerstown, supervisor of locomotive performance for the Western Maryland Railway, said that experiments are being made on an automatic jet to eliminate the human factor in controlling locomotive smoke. He added, however, that it is preferable to leave the responsibility with the engine crew rather than with such a device.

Roth also pointed out that from 14 to 16 per cent of fuel used in locomotives is lost through the smoke stack without smoke control precautions, one of the chief reasons why the Western Maryland is interested in preventing excessive smoke.

Ordinance Opposed

Stating that the proposed ordinance is to rigid for any railroad to comply with, Roth said that the Western Maryland does not have smoke inspectors but that he and road foreman and their assistants try to cover the system to prevent excessive smoke. Violations of provisions regarding smoke control was inevitable because of the human element, since despite instruction and discipline, firemen may become careless, Roth added.

A. E. Beckman, master mechanic of the B. and O.'s Cumberland division, said that there has been considerable reduction of smoke in South Cumberland. No complaints have been received lately regarding the roundhouse, but nearby residents have complained about excessive smoke from locomotives on the ready track. He stated that he keeps a record book, and that on the third complaint, the fireman who is responsible is called into his office and a statement is taken.

Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins division of the Western Maryland, which includes Cumberland, said that the railroad has no separate organization to control smoke because the system is smaller than the B. and O. He added, however, that smoke is fuel waste and that "what is good for the city is more than good for the railroad," referring to smoke prevention.

County Cannot Repair Road, Board Says

City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett was advised yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners that a road leading from Oldtown road to the city dump, on the southern outskirts of Cumberland, is a private thoroughfare and cannot be repaired by county crews.

Heskett, in a letter to the board, said City Commissioner Myers G. Light had reported the road in bad condition and that the county might join the city in having it repaired. Traffic on the road is now much heavier since a saw mill and stone quarry have been opened in the area.

A petition signed by nine residents of Mt. Savage asked that a side road on Calla Hill be chipped and oiled. The request was referred to County Engineer John H. Carscaden.

Sheriff's Son

the time about a half hour before, and he said it was 3:30 then.

"I don't know why, but McCauley went into the house and Sgt. Horne and Dad followed. It was only about 30 seconds after they entered that I heard three or four shots inside the house. I ran in and Sgt. Horne was lying on the kitchen floor. Dad must have gone out the back way, because I saw him through a window or door, staggering toward the war. I believe he as calling me.

"I ran out of the house and started to help Dad into the car, because he seemed badly hurt. About the same time I saw a flash from an upstairs window and the shot rattled around us. I guess that's when I was hit and Dad said, 'Save yourself Don, get out of here.'

"Somehow I got Dad's gun. I believe he had it in his hand but I'm not sure. I fired three shots at McCauley, who ran from the back of the house toward the woods, but I'm pretty sure I didn't hit him.

"I am sure Dad had not fired his gun and I don't think Sgt. Horne fired either.

"I ran or walked or somehow got up the road 100 yards or so to another house and a couple of fellows took me to Kitzmiller to see a doctor. The doctor was out on a call and a man named Sharpless brought me to the hospital here.

Condition Is Good

"Dad probably died right away, because he was bleeding badly, and I don't know much about what happened afterwards."

Donald said there were two women and he believed a baby at the house at the time of the shooting. One of the women, whom he presumes to be Mrs. Harding, seemed very hysterical and was yelling something about "get the baby out of there."

The young veteran was concerned as to whether or not McCauley had been taken, and said "I hope they get him quickly."

Hovatter's condition is described by his physicians as "not serious," and hospital attendants declared he would be out in a few days if there are no complications.

He declared he did not know McCauley personally, but understood that Sgt. Horne knew McCauley well, as did also his father.

Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney of Mineral county, said last night in his office that McCauley was well known around Davis, W. Va. and Thomas, W. Va., and that he spent a lot of time "loafing around" the sheriff's office. "This was a case where the officers knew their man so well they thought he was all right," Rankin declared.

Wilson Is Appointed Volunteer Officer

Rear Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, has appointed William L. Wilson, Jr., former United States Navy lieutenant, to the local recruiting office as a volunteer officer to swear in enlistees in the navy's V-6 inactive reserve corps, according to Chief Boatswain Mate Bradford Smith.

Wilson, a local attorney served several years with the navy and was put on inactive status at the close of the war. He is a graduate of Allegany High School and Washington and Lee University.

charge of murdering his wife, Hazel, with a baseball bat a week ago yesterday, will be put on trial first.

Landis and Hughes Praised

Rankin, praising Landis and Hughes, said he believed Landis joined the searching party Monday night and stuck to the task of looking for the fugitive. Hughes, he said, returned to Mineral County yesterday from Berkeley County after he had heard of the shooting.

Hughes, son of the late Joseph Hughes, who was Mineral County game warden prior to his death, is known as "Curly" and was a popular amateur boxer in this section before he entered the service where he continued his ring career.

McCauley's capture last night climaxed the biggest manhunt in West Virginia in years. Some 250 Maryland and West Virginia state officers, Keyser and Mineral County authorities, auxiliary policemen and scores of volunteer civilians, all deputized and armed, scoured the Emoryville country-side.

Bloodhound Is Used

To aid in the search a big bloodhound named Toy was brought to the scene early yesterday morning from Charmco, Greenbrier County.

The dog, owned by the West Virginia Conservation Commission, followed several trails left by McCauley and yesterday afternoon led members of the posse along the trail to an abandoned coal mine where officers believed the fugitive might be trapped, but he was not located, however.

On several other occasions, the dog led the posse on other trails of McCauley but each time the scent was lost on rocks in the mountainous isolated section.

When McCauley was captured last night the dog was not in use. There were reports, however, that on two occasions the bloodhound took up trails from the house at Emoryville, followed a pipeline and then circled back to the Harding home. Officers said they believed McCauley might try to get back to that location.

West Virginia authorities last night were high in their praise of Maryland State Police who offered their two-way radio cars to provide communications.

There were no telephones in the section where the shootings occurred, but Cpl. Karrickhoff said Maryland police dispatched their radio cars to strategic points in the Emoryville section, to road blocks on Route 50 and to Romney, where the West Virginia State Police radio station is located.

Prosecutor Rankin yesterday filled in the details in the fatal shootings of Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter and the wounding of the sheriff's son, a veteran of service in the Navy.

According to Rankin, Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter obtained a warrant in Keyser Monday charging McCauley with the theft of a five-ton truck from the Dodd and Archer strip mining firm at Thomas a week ago.

They drove to Emoryville to arrest McCauley but when he couldn't be located there, the sheriff and his son waited while Sgt. Horne started driving back toward Keyser.

Arrested At Service Station

McCauley, along with James Harding had driven to Cumberland and to Keyser Monday to get paint with which to paint the truck, Rankin said. He added that Sgt. Horne located him at Mott's service station at Allegheny Front, took him into custody and drove back to the James Harding home where McCouley boarded.

Rankin said Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter neglected to search McCauley because he and the Sheriff were good friends, McCauley having loafed frequently in the sheriff's office.

When they arrived at the Harding home, the officers went to the house with McCauley to get the keys for the truck, parked nearby, Rankin related, but soon after they entered, McCauley pulled a revolver he was carrying in his belt and fired one shot at the sheriff and two at Sgt. Horne. Both men were struck in the abdomen. Sgt. Horne died in the house within 10 minutes.

The sheriff, staggered from the house and his son went to help him, but McCauley had dashed to the second floor where he got a shotgun he took to Harding's for squirrel hunting purposes and fired at young Hovatter. Then he fled, the youth firing three shots at him from his father's pistol before he disappeared. The sheriff died on the way to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser.

Women Give Statements

Other details were filled in by West Virginia State Trooper L. E. Proudfoot who yesterday morning took statements from Mrs. Helen Harding, James Harding's sister-in-law, and from Mrs. James Harding, who were at the house when the shootings occurred.

Mrs. Helen Harding, he said, related that McCauley denied at the house that he had the keys to the truck and jerked away from the officer.

She repeated the story of McCauley reaching to his belt for the pistol and added that at that point she ran out the back door. She said she heard shots and heard someone run upstairs and knew that it was McCauley because he roomed there.

Mrs. Harding said she ran back into the house, grabbed Mrs. James Harding's 15-months-old baby that had been upset in its high chair during the shooting and left the house again.

She said she helped young Hovatter with his father until McCauley fired the shotgun blast at the youth and that she then fled to a neighbor's home.

Mrs. James Harding told authorities she left the house as soon as she saw trouble brewing at the front door and knows nothing of what happened inside.

Prosecutor Rankin said Sgt. Horne once before had arrested McCauley on a motor vehicle violation and that McCauley boasted then:

"If he ever tries to arrest me again, I'll fill him full of lead."

Horne Shot Twice

Monday night at Potomac Valley Hospital, two 38 caliber slugs were removed from Sgt. Horne's body and one was taken from the body of Sheriff Hovatter, according to Rankin, and they will be used as evidence.

McCauley was employed as a trucker on a coal stripping operation at Hartmansville, hauling coal to a Western Maryland Railway loading point at Shaw, W. Va.

Funeral Rites Arranged

He recently returned to Davis from California where he spent several years, and went to Emoryville about a month ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McCauley, Davis, highly respected citizens. His father is a retired Pentecostal minister and his brother was said to be still active in the ministry.

McCauley was married to Ethel Digman, Parsons, but they have been separated in recent years. They have a son about 10 years old.

The body of Sheriff Hovatter was taken back to Parsons from Keyser and funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Greenlief Funeral Home, Parsons.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. R. E. Hiller, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. R. Nelson, pastor of First Baptist Church, Parsons. Burial will be in the Parsons cemetery.

Sgt. Horne's body was taken to the Fike-Watson Funeral Home at Terra Alta, W. Va., where services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Victim Of Crash Sues For $5,000

Charging negligence, David Dively, this city Monday filed suit for $5,000 damages in Circuit Court against Melvin M. Miller, Grand avenue, as a result of an accident on Hilltop drive September 7, 1945.

Dively said he was a passenger in the car driven by Miller when it hit a tree on Hilltop drive. He said he suffered a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and that his right arm was fractured in four places.

Represented by Edward J. Ryan, Dively said he was not able to return to work until January 15 this year because of his injuries.

Asking $2,500 damages, Emma W. Smith, this city, filed suit against the G. C. Murphy Company, charging that she was injured in a fall last November 21 in the firm's Cumberland store, located at 136 Baltimore street. She said she slipped and fell because of oil or grease on the floor and suffered a broken arm. Through her attorney, Harold E. Naughton, Mrs. Smith charged the firm with negligence.

moned representatives of six locals to meet with him tomorrow morning.

John E. Strong, president of Local 807, denied that the membership was out of control of their officers and said "we simply have a proposition from the membership which they have indicated they will refuse to deviate from."

Telegraphs Tobin

He said he meant the local's original demands.

In his telegram to Tobin the mayor said:

"Unless you or an authorized representative of the International Brotherhood assume responsibility and take control of this union and negotiate terms for the settlement of the strike, it is very possible that bloodshed and injury will result.

"The people of this city will have food and medicine and I have so guaranteed it and I have had the co-operation of 26 Teamster Unions in New York City to carry out my guarantee. Only the opposition of members of Local 807 prevent it. Failure of the International to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."

O'Dwyer told Tobin in the telegram that Local 807 is "completely out of the hands of its officers" and that it would not negotiate, while Locals 282 and 816, also of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, were ready to negotiate.

Severe Meat

drop reflected a sharp decline in farm marketings of livestock, which were put back under controls September 1.

The Retail Meat Dealers Association estimated 60 per cent of Chicago's shops were without meat. An estimated 90 per cent of New York's City's meat dealers had no meat of any kind. Los Angeles reported the most critical meat shortage in its history. Oklahoma city reported supplies only 5 per cent of normal.

Other reports of severe shortages came from New Orleans, Boston, Newark, N. J., Philadelphia and Cleveland.

Reports of adequate supplies came from Chattanooga, Portland, Ore.; Spokane, Wash., and Little Rock, Ark.

An estimated 500 New Jersey kosher butcher shops closed their doors until meats become available from wholesalers at OPA levels. Another 500 meat shops were closed in Philadelphia. In Columbus, O., William Anderson, a frequent critic of the OPA, announced his meat market would be closed indefinitely "until the control of it is given back to the one who owns it."

and that Lundeberg's union was opposing this.

East Not Represented

No union representatives appeared for the East Coast either. Arguing in behalf of the $27.50 raise for the East and Gulf Coast Seamen were L. A. Parks, a director, and A. V. Cherbonnier, labor relations counsel for the Atlantic and Gulf Ship Operators Association.

They contended that the agreement worked out on the East and Gulf Coast with the AFL Seafarers International Union confirms with the stabilization formula. Cherbonnier said the agreement amounts to creation of one standard set of working rules in place of eight.

"It is not going to cost the government any more than having all different sorts of wages and working rules," he said.

At the White House, Senator Radcliffe (D-Md) told reporters after calling on President Truman:

"I think the Navy ought to operate the ships, if necessary. I wouldn't stop at anything to operate them."

The seacoast senator didn't make that exact statement to the president, he added, but did tell him that something would have to be done as the strike now affects the whole economy.

No Indictment Returned In Triple Drowning

The grand jury of the September term of Circuit Court in Garrett County, which convened Monday in Oakland, completed its study yesterday of evidence in connection with a triple drowning at Deep Creek Lake Sunday afternoon, and returned no indictment, according to Neil C. Fraley, state's attorney of Garrett County. Investigation into the case is closed.

Two men and a boy, all of Swissvale, Pa., were drowned when two power launches which passed on either side of their flat-bottomed boat "kicked up" large waves which caused it to capsize, witnesses said.

No arrests were made in the case, although Fraley stated earlier yesterday that charges of criminal negligence would be brought against the operators of the power launches if the jury's findings justified such action. Ten witnesses were questioned during the jury's investigation.

State Police said that state regulations for the operation of power boats require such craft to give clearance of at least 150 feet to other craft, when possible.

Unusual Accident Victim Has Relatives Here

The News learned last night that the midget, Guy Slippey, who was killed in an unusual accident near Altoona, Pa., yesterday, is a brother of two local women, Mrs. Julia Colbert, 34 Grand avenue, and Mrs. Hazel Bryant, Cresaptown.

Slippey, a 36 inch tall 68 year old midget, was perched on a guard rail along the highway at Geeseytown, when a driver swerved his truck against the rail, attempting to avoid striking a 4 year old boy on the highway. The truck then careened head-on against an automobile and overturned, crushing Slippey to death. Two occupants of the car died in the crash and the 86-year-old mother of the one victim fell dead at her home in Altoona, upon hearing of the tragedy.

James Alkire Draws Jail Sentence

A sentence of 20 days in the city jail in default of a $20 fined was imposed in Police Court yesterday morning on James W. Alkire, 241 Virginia avenue, who police said "wrecked his home" Monday night and later attempted to hit an officer. He was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Testimony revealed that Alkire accosted Officer Joseph H. Stitcher on Virginia avenue after causing a disturbance at his home and began swearing. He "made a pass" at the officer following his arrest.

Officer Stitcher testified he had to hit Alkire with his night stick to subdue him. Alkire was treated in Memorial Hospital for scalp lacerations before being lodged in jail.

India On Brink Of Ruinous War, Moslem Head Says

Declares Civil Battle Can Be Averted Only By Skilled Diplomacy

BOMBAY, Sept. 10 (AP) — Mahomed Ali Jinnah, head of the Moslem league, said tonight that India stands on the brink of a ruinous civil war, which could be averted only by prompt, sincere and skilled diplomatic negotiations.

Jinnah, whose organization has declined to participate in the Hindu-dominated interim government charged with bringing independence to India, declared in an interview that recent bloody riots at Calcutta and Bombay were "undoubtedly symptoms of the nearness of civil war all over India and of the pattern that such a civil war might follow."

Jinnah reiterated that he was willing to participate in a "peace conference" in London for a "fresh start" on the settlement of the Indian problem.

"We dealt with underlings in the negotiations with the cabinet mission and the viceroy, and these have led India to the present dangerous position," he said. "Now, therefore, our remedy must lie with those at the top of the British government."

"The underlings have brought us to the point where we face two choices and only two," he continued. "One is the choice of civil war which would ruin Hindus, Moslems and the nations alike and from which I hope we can be spared, although we are nearer to it than most persons seem able to realize and are willing to admit.

"The other choice is a peaceful settlement through negotiation among leaders of this country and highest authorities in Britain. This would have to be a conference in which the good of the people instead of face-saving of individuals would be the paramount consideration. It would need to be carried out in calm surroundings with sincere determination, honesty and skill."

Jinnah said that more was at stake than the future of India, and added that "this is the sort of situation which breeds world wars."

New Math Teacher Named At Fort Hill

A new mathematics instructor has been added to the faculty of Fort Hill High School, and assumed his duties yesterday, Ralph R. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, announces.

He said Janney McLean Yates, Alexandria, Va., has signed a one-year contract and will assume duties in geometry and algebra, as an additional member of the staff.

Yates is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute class of 1924 and has done post graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

He has taught mathematics at Baltimore Polytechnical Institution as well as at Virginia Military Academy and Western Maryland College.

Rizer said Yates worked as an engineer for the Southeastern Underwriters Association as an inspector in six states from 1926 to 1931. From 1941 to 1943 he was associated with the War Production Training Board and later served in the Army.

Rail Officials

Sample's men on smoke prevention to the city officials.

S. M. Roth, Hagerstown, supervisor of locomotive performance for the Western Maryland Railway, said that experiments are being made on an automatic jet to eliminate the human factor in controlling locomotive smoke. He added, however, that it is preferable to leave the responsibility with the engine crew rather than with such a device.

Roth also pointed out that from 14 to 16 per cent of fuel used in locomotives is lost through the smoke stack without smoke control precautions, one of the chief reasons why the Western Maryland is interested in preventing excessive smoke.

Ordinance Opposed

Stating that the proposed ordinance is to rigid for any railroad to comply with, Roth said that the Western Maryland does not have smoke inspectors but that he and road foreman and their assistants try to cover the system to prevent excessive smoke. Violations of provisions regarding smoke control was inevitable because of the human element, since despite instruction and discipline, firemen may become careless, Roth added.

A. E. Beckman, master mechanic of the B. and O.'s Cumberland division, said that there has been considerable reduction of smoke in South Cumberland. No complaints have been received lately regarding the roundhouse, but nearby residents have complained about excessive smoke from locomotives on the ready track. He stated that he keeps a record book, and that on the third complaint, the fireman who is responsible is called into his office and a statement is taken.

Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins division of the Western Maryland, which includes Cumberland, said that the railroad has no separate organization to control smoke because the system is smaller than the B. and O. He added, however, that smoke is fuel waste and that "what is good for the city is more than good for the railroad," referring to smoke prevention.

County Cannot Repair Road, Board Says

City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett was advised yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners that a road leading from Oldtown road to the city dump, on the southern outskirts of Cumberland, is a private thoroughfare and cannot be repaired by county crews.

Heskett, in a letter to the board, said City Commissioner Myers G. Light had reported the road in bad condition and that the county might join the city in having it repaired. Traffic on the road is now much heavier since a saw mill and stone quarry have been opened in the area.

A petition signed by nine residents of Mt. Savage asked that a side road on Calla Hill be chipped and oiled. The request was referred to County Engineer John H. Carscaden.

Sheriff's Son

the time about a half hour before, and he said it was 3:30 then.

"I don't know why, but McCauley went into the house and Sgt. Horne and Dad followed. It was only about 30 seconds after they entered that I heard three or four shots inside the house. I ran in and Sgt. Horne was lying on the kitchen floor. Dad must have gone out the back way, because I saw him through a window or door, staggering toward the war. I believe he as calling me.

"I ran out of the house and started to help Dad into the car, because he seemed badly hurt. About the same time I saw a flash from an upstairs window and the shot rattled around us. I guess that's when I was hit and Dad said, 'Save yourself Don, get out of here.'

"Somehow I got Dad's gun. I believe he had it in his hand but I'm not sure. I fired three shots at McCauley, who ran from the back of the house toward the woods, but I'm pretty sure I didn't hit him.

"I am sure Dad had not fired his gun and I don't think Sgt. Horne fired either.

"I ran or walked or somehow got up the road 100 yards or so to another house and a couple of fellows took me to Kitzmiller to see a doctor. The doctor was out on a call and a man named Sharpless brought me to the hospital here.

Condition Is Good

"Dad probably died right away, because he was bleeding badly, and I don't know much about what happened afterwards."

Donald said there were two women and he believed a baby at the house at the time of the shooting. One of the women, whom he presumes to be Mrs. Harding, seemed very hysterical and was yelling something about "get the baby out of there."

The young veteran was concerned as to whether or not McCauley had been taken, and said "I hope they get him quickly."

Hovatter's condition is described by his physicians as "not serious," and hospital attendants declared he would be out in a few days if there are no complications.

He declared he did not know McCauley personally, but understood that Sgt. Horne knew McCauley well, as did also his father.

Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney of Mineral county, said last night in his office that McCauley was well known around Davis, W. Va. and Thomas, W. Va., and that he spent a lot of time "loafing around" the sheriff's office. "This was a case where the officers knew their man so well they thought he was all right," Rankin declared.

Wilson Is Appointed Volunteer Officer

Rear Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, has appointed William L. Wilson, Jr., former United States Navy lieutenant, to the local recruiting office as a volunteer officer to swear in enlistees in the navy's V-6 inactive reserve corps, according to Chief Boatswain Mate Bradford Smith.

Wilson, a local attorney served several years with the navy and was put on inactive status at the close of the war. He is a graduate of Allegany High School and Washington and Lee University.

charge of murdering his wife, Hazel, with a baseball bat a week ago yesterday, will be put on trial first.

Landis and Hughes Praised

Rankin, praising Landis and Hughes, said he believed Landis joined the searching party Monday night and stuck to the task of looking for the fugitive. Hughes, he said, returned to Mineral County yesterday from Berkeley County after he had heard of the shooting.

Hughes, son of the late Joseph Hughes, who was Mineral County game warden prior to his death, is known as "Curly" and was a popular amateur boxer in this section before he entered the service where he continued his ring career.

McCauley's capture last night climaxed the biggest manhunt in West Virginia in years. Some 250 Maryland and West Virginia state officers, Keyser and Mineral County authorities, auxiliary policemen and scores of volunteer civilians, all deputized and armed, scoured the Emoryville country-side.

Bloodhound Is Used

To aid in the search a big bloodhound named Toy was brought to the scene early yesterday morning from Charmco, Greenbrier County.

The dog, owned by the West Virginia Conservation Commission, followed several trails left by McCauley and yesterday afternoon led members of the posse along the trail to an abandoned coal mine where officers believed the fugitive might be trapped, but he was not located, however.

On several other occasions, the dog led the posse on other trails of McCauley but each time the scent was lost on rocks in the mountainous isolated section.

When McCauley was captured last night the dog was not in use. There were reports, however, that on two occasions the bloodhound took up trails from the house at Emoryville, followed a pipeline and then circled back to the Harding home. Officers said they believed McCauley might try to get back to that location.

West Virginia authorities last night were high in their praise of Maryland State Police who offered their two-way radio cars to provide communications.

There were no telephones in the section where the shootings occurred, but Cpl. Karrickhoff said Maryland police dispatched their radio cars to strategic points in the Emoryville section, to road blocks on Route 50 and to Romney, where the West Virginia State Police radio station is located.

Prosecutor Rankin yesterday filled in the details in the fatal shootings of Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter and the wounding of the sheriff's son, a veteran of service in the Navy.

According to Rankin, Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter obtained a warrant in Keyser Monday charging McCauley with the theft of a five-ton truck from the Dodd and Archer strip mining firm at Thomas a week ago.

They drove to Emoryville to arrest McCauley but when he couldn't be located there, the sheriff and his son waited while Sgt. Horne started driving back toward Keyser.

Arrested At Service Station

McCauley, along with James Harding had driven to Cumberland and to Keyser Monday to get paint with which to paint the truck, Rankin said. He added that Sgt. Horne located him at Mott's service station at Allegheny Front, took him into custody and drove back to the James Harding home where McCouley boarded.

Rankin said Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter neglected to search McCauley because he and the Sheriff were good friends, McCauley having loafed frequently in the sheriff's office.

When they arrived at the Harding home, the officers went to the house with McCauley to get the keys for the truck, parked nearby, Rankin related, but soon after they entered, McCauley pulled a revolver he was carrying in his belt and fired one shot at the sheriff and two at Sgt. Horne. Both men were struck in the abdomen. Sgt. Horne died in the house within 10 minutes.

The sheriff, staggered from the house and his son went to help him, but McCauley had dashed to the second floor where he got a shotgun he took to Harding's for squirrel hunting purposes and fired at young Hovatter. Then he fled, the youth firing three shots at him from his father's pistol before he disappeared. The sheriff died on the way to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser.

Women Give Statements

Other details were filled in by West Virginia State Trooper L. E. Proudfoot who yesterday morning took statements from Mrs. Helen Harding, James Harding's sister-in-law, and from Mrs. James Harding, who were at the house when the shootings occurred.

Mrs. Helen Harding, he said, related that McCauley denied at the house that he had the keys to the truck and jerked away from the officer.

She repeated the story of McCauley reaching to his belt for the pistol and added that at that point she ran out the back door. She said she heard shots and heard someone run upstairs and knew that it was McCauley because he roomed there.

Mrs. Harding said she ran back into the house, grabbed Mrs. James Harding's 15-months-old baby that had been upset in its high chair during the shooting and left the house again.

She said she helped young Hovatter with his father until McCauley fired the shotgun blast at the youth and that she then fled to a neighbor's home.

Mrs. James Harding told authorities she left the house as soon as she saw trouble brewing at the front door and knows nothing of what happened inside.

Prosecutor Rankin said Sgt. Horne once before had arrested McCauley on a motor vehicle violation and that McCauley boasted then:

"If he ever tries to arrest me again, I'll fill him full of lead."

Horne Shot Twice

Monday night at Potomac Valley Hospital, two 38 caliber slugs were removed from Sgt. Horne's body and one was taken from the body of Sheriff Hovatter, according to Rankin, and they will be used as evidence.

McCauley was employed as a trucker on a coal stripping operation at Hartmansville, hauling coal to a Western Maryland Railway loading point at Shaw, W. Va.

Funeral Rites Arranged

He recently returned to Davis from California where he spent several years, and went to Emoryville about a month ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McCauley, Davis, highly respected citizens. His father is a retired Pentecostal minister and his brother was said to be still active in the ministry.

McCauley was married to Ethel Digman, Parsons, but they have been separated in recent years. They have a son about 10 years old.

The body of Sheriff Hovatter was taken back to Parsons from Keyser and funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Greenlief Funeral Home, Parsons.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. R. E. Hiller, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. R. Nelson, pastor of First Baptist Church, Parsons. Burial will be in the Parsons cemetery.

Sgt. Horne's body was taken to the Fike-Watson Funeral Home at Terra Alta, W. Va., where services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Victim Of Crash Sues For $5,000

Charging negligence, David Dively, this city Monday filed suit for $5,000 damages in Circuit Court against Melvin M. Miller, Grand avenue, as a result of an accident on Hilltop drive September 7, 1945.

Dively said he was a passenger in the car driven by Miller when it hit a tree on Hilltop drive. He said he suffered a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and that his right arm was fractured in four places.

Represented by Edward J. Ryan, Dively said he was not able to return to work until January 15 this year because of his injuries.

Asking $2,500 damages, Emma W. Smith, this city, filed suit against the G. C. Murphy Company, charging that she was injured in a fall last November 21 in the firm's Cumberland store, located at 136 Baltimore street. She said she slipped and fell because of oil or grease on the floor and suffered a broken arm. Through her attorney, Harold E. Naughton, Mrs. Smith charged the firm with negligence.

moned representatives of six locals to meet with him tomorrow morning.

John E. Strong, president of Local 807, denied that the membership was out of control of their officers and said "we simply have a proposition from the membership which they have indicated they will refuse to deviate from."

Telegraphs Tobin

He said he meant the local's original demands.

In his telegram to Tobin the mayor said:

"Unless you or an authorized representative of the International Brotherhood assume responsibility and take control of this union and negotiate terms for the settlement of the strike, it is very possible that bloodshed and injury will result.

"The people of this city will have food and medicine and I have so guaranteed it and I have had the co-operation of 26 Teamster Unions in New York City to carry out my guarantee. Only the opposition of members of Local 807 prevent it. Failure of the International to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."

O'Dwyer told Tobin in the telegram that Local 807 is "completely out of the hands of its officers" and that it would not negotiate, while Locals 282 and 816, also of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, were ready to negotiate.

Severe Meat

drop reflected a sharp decline in farm marketings of livestock, which were put back under controls September 1.

The Retail Meat Dealers Association estimated 60 per cent of Chicago's shops were without meat. An estimated 90 per cent of New York's City's meat dealers had no meat of any kind. Los Angeles reported the most critical meat shortage in its history. Oklahoma city reported supplies only 5 per cent of normal.

Other reports of severe shortages came from New Orleans, Boston, Newark, N. J., Philadelphia and Cleveland.

Reports of adequate supplies came from Chattanooga, Portland, Ore.; Spokane, Wash., and Little Rock, Ark.

An estimated 500 New Jersey kosher butcher shops closed their doors until meats become available from wholesalers at OPA levels. Another 500 meat shops were closed in Philadelphia. In Columbus, O., William Anderson, a frequent critic of the OPA, announced his meat market would be closed indefinitely "until the control of it is given back to the one who owns it."

and that Lundeberg's union was opposing this.

East Not Represented

No union representatives appeared for the East Coast either. Arguing in behalf of the $27.50 raise for the East and Gulf Coast Seamen were L. A. Parks, a director, and A. V. Cherbonnier, labor relations counsel for the Atlantic and Gulf Ship Operators Association.

They contended that the agreement worked out on the East and Gulf Coast with the AFL Seafarers International Union confirms with the stabilization formula. Cherbonnier said the agreement amounts to creation of one standard set of working rules in place of eight.

"It is not going to cost the government any more than having all different sorts of wages and working rules," he said.

At the White House, Senator Radcliffe (D-Md) told reporters after calling on President Truman:

"I think the Navy ought to operate the ships, if necessary. I wouldn't stop at anything to operate them."

The seacoast senator didn't make that exact statement to the president, he added, but did tell him that something would have to be done as the strike now affects the whole economy.

No Indictment Returned In Triple Drowning

The grand jury of the September term of Circuit Court in Garrett County, which convened Monday in Oakland, completed its study yesterday of evidence in connection with a triple drowning at Deep Creek Lake Sunday afternoon, and returned no indictment, according to Neil C. Fraley, state's attorney of Garrett County. Investigation into the case is closed.

Two men and a boy, all of Swissvale, Pa., were drowned when two power launches which passed on either side of their flat-bottomed boat "kicked up" large waves which caused it to capsize, witnesses said.

No arrests were made in the case, although Fraley stated earlier yesterday that charges of criminal negligence would be brought against the operators of the power launches if the jury's findings justified such action. Ten witnesses were questioned during the jury's investigation.

State Police said that state regulations for the operation of power boats require such craft to give clearance of at least 150 feet to other craft, when possible.

Unusual Accident Victim Has Relatives Here

The News learned last night that the midget, Guy Slippey, who was killed in an unusual accident near Altoona, Pa., yesterday, is a brother of two local women, Mrs. Julia Colbert, 34 Grand avenue, and Mrs. Hazel Bryant, Cresaptown.

Slippey, a 36 inch tall 68 year old midget, was perched on a guard rail along the highway at Geeseytown, when a driver swerved his truck against the rail, attempting to avoid striking a 4 year old boy on the highway. The truck then careened head-on against an automobile and overturned, crushing Slippey to death. Two occupants of the car died in the crash and the 86-year-old mother of the one victim fell dead at her home in Altoona, upon hearing of the tragedy.

James Alkire Draws Jail Sentence

A sentence of 20 days in the city jail in default of a $20 fined was imposed in Police Court yesterday morning on James W. Alkire, 241 Virginia avenue, who police said "wrecked his home" Monday night and later attempted to hit an officer. He was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Testimony revealed that Alkire accosted Officer Joseph H. Stitcher on Virginia avenue after causing a disturbance at his home and began swearing. He "made a pass" at the officer following his arrest.

Officer Stitcher testified he had to hit Alkire with his night stick to subdue him. Alkire was treated in Memorial Hospital for scalp lacerations before being lodged in jail.

Mormon Officials Will Speak Here

Antoine R. Ivins, Salt Lake City, Utah, one of the general authorities of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) will come here with Mrs. Ivins to address a one-day conference set for Monday, Septumber 16, at 7:30 p. m.

The conference will be held in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 41 Oak street, according to Charles I. Roby, 16 West First street, the only local elder of the Latter Day Saints.

Ivins, who will be making his first official visit to Cumberland to address the conference, is one of the seven presidents of the First Council of Seventy, who work under the direction of the Twelve Apostles and the First Presidency of the church.

He lived in Mexico for a number of years and was graduated from Juarez Academy and attended the School of Jurisprudence in Mexico City for three years. Later he studied law at the University of Michigan and was graduated from the University of Utah with a degree in engineering

For ten years Ivins and his wife were in the Hawaiian Islands as missionaries of the church. For the past 15 years he has traveled widely throughout this country.

Graham Doxey, Salt Lake City, president of the East Central States Mission, Louisville, Ky., will also give an address at the conference, to which the public is invited.

Proper Use Of Priority Vital, Steiding Says

Home builders of Western Maryland can more speedily obtain the critical materials they need under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program by making prompt and proper use of their HH priorities, E. Price Steiding, Locality Expediter of NHA, said yesterday.

"New regulations require dealers to hold virtually all critically short building materials exclusively for veterans' housing for an indefinite period, and the builder who does not handle his HH rated order properly will cause unnecessary delay in securing the materials he needs," Steiding said.

All purchase orders for scarce building materials based on HH ratings must be in writing and have the proper certification signed by the holder of the priority, the Mayor's Emergency Housing Committee chairman emphasized. Telephone orders are not valid for HH rated purchases of building materials. Also, he explained, the requisitions authorized for priority ratings must specify a date for delivery of the items.

Should a supplier refuse to honor a properly rated priority order, the builder should ask by letter for a written statement as to reasons for refusal. A copy of the rejected order and the supplier's statement should be turned over the the nearest CPA compliance office or sent to Compliance Division, CPA, Washington, D. C.

Maine May Foreshadow Results Next November

As President Truman will not be running himself, the drop in popularity which all polls show he has suffered may prove only a minor factor in the November elections. But that it will have some very noticeable effect can hardly be doubted. If the voters do not like the Administration as well as they once did, the fair assumption is that they will vote against candidates who pledge themselves to support its policies and to travel in the direction it is going.

Republicans, therefore, have considerable warrant for the optimism they feel and for their belief that they face a genuine opportunity to win control of both branches of Congress this Fall. On the face merely of political conditions in the country since 1932 this seems like a difficult assignment. For fourteen years the Republican Party has been in the minority and some of the time in an utterly hopeless and helpless minority. Yet to so great a degree has the party alignment in Congress been narrowed that all Republicans need to do next November to capture control of both Houses of Congress is to elect 26 additional Representatives and nine more Senators.

The first indication of that possibility came from the election Monday in Maine where Republican candidates overwhelmed their opponents. Maine, of course, consistently votes Republican in its September election, but it has not always held true that "As Maine Goes, So Goes the Nation." In 1884 and again in 1892 Maine had voted Republican while the nation as a whole was to vote Democratic. Furthermore, when Wilson was reelected in 1916, Maine voted for Hughes. Hoover carried only six states in 1932; one of them was Maine. In 1940 Maine voted for Willkie, who received only 82 of the 451 electoral votes; in 1944 for Dewey, who got 99.

In those instances the vote in Maine between Republican and Democratic candidates was closer than is usual, but when the margin of victory for Republican candidates is as large as that of this week it has proven a good barometer, and sweeping Republican results Monday is a very accurate forecast of how the nation will vote in less than eight weeks from now.

This theory is partly borne out by the fact that in 1928 the Republican senatorial candidate in Maine got 70 percent of the vote; the presidential election was a Republican landslide. In 1936, a Democratic landslide year, the GOP senatorial candidate had barely scraped through in Maine with 51 percent of the vote. In 1940 he had 59 percent of the vote. Roosevelt again won the presidency easily.

As for midterm election years, in 1930 the Maine GOP senatorial candidate had 61 percent of the vote; the national House of Representatives was to be almost evenly divided. In 1934, he barely got 50 percent; the House was to be overwhelmingly Democratic.

In the Maine senatorial battle Monday, the Republican candidate polled better than 64 percent of the ballots, a gain of nine percent over the 55 percent with which he won his Senate seat in 1940 after three terms in the House. So it goes. Considering the situation as it exists today and as it gives promise of moving in the next eight weeks, the task of capturing control of both House and Senate does not appear beyond the Republican Party.

American planes flying near the Yugoslav border now are fully armed, which poses the question: Whose idea was it that they should go unarmed?

Wallace Has Not Become Distinguished As A Prophet

Government figures show employment at a new high—around 59,000,000 workers. So Secretary of Commerce Wallace chooses this occasion to predict that it won't last; that it's abnormal. Mr. Wallace hasn't distinguished himself as a prophet. He belongs to the group that saw from seven millions to ten millions jobless within a year after V-J Day. It didn't happen.

It was his department that fanned the great conflagration of strikes with a preposterous claim that wages could be increased 25 per cent with no change in prices. Events have thoroughly riddled that theory. It is his group which forecast a wild wave of price increases without OPA—a forecast that proved to be thoroughly exaggerated.

But Mr. Wallace may be right in the long run about a drop in employment. He and his fellow-bureaucrats have tried so hard to spread fear and unrest that it will be a miracle if they don't finally succeed. Being in positions of authority and power, their dire forecasts can't miss having some adverse effect of the country's economic life. The uncertainty which they have created is in itself a great handicap.

The barriers against production created by strikes, conflicting regulations and pessimistic forecasts—to all of which the Wallace crowd of bureaucrats has contributed—have helped keep our creative machinery sputtering and stalling.

There seems to be in this country certain men who are hell-bent on proving that things are going to smash unless they are permitted to do all the steering. Mr. Wallace is their leader.

Clothing budget for the college girl is reported to average $750. Inculding $740 for a fur coat, presumably.

Chance To Do A Job In Promoting Highway Safety

What can be an important development in the promotion of highway safety on a national basis is an executive order just issued by President Truman. The order directs the establishment of a federal committee to carry on a continuing campaign for the reduction of traffic accidents. The committee will include representatives of the Public Roads Administration, the National Bureau of Standards, the Bureau of Census, the Federal Works Agency, the Office of Education, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Federal Interdepartmental Safety Council and the Agriculture, Interior, War, Navy and Post Office Departments.

In its work the committee will cooperate with state and local governments and with national highway safety organizations. Ignorance of different conditions over state lines is a constant source of trouble. If the committee can contrive to reduce such trouble to an appreciable extent, it will justify its establishment. This latest federal undertaking should not be permitted, though, to become an excuse for additions to the federal payroll, or for the retention of drones.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

HOW HEALTHY IS YOUR CHILD?

NOW that the youngsters are back in school and the old routine is resumed, mother can relax once more. Many will ponder over the forthcoming year and wonder whether junior will pass or improve in reading. The chances are that the majority will leave such problems to the teacher and pray that the sprouts will remain healthy.

What are the chances of your child's becoming ill? A research project performed in Hagerstown, Md., revealed that during the autumn and spring each grade school pupil can be expected to lose four days out of every 100 because of sickness. In the winter the figure jumps to six; during epidemics to 11.3. Colds and other respiratory diseases, including the grippe, head the list. Next come digestive disturbances, headaches, and contagious maladies — measles, mumps, and chicken pox. Other statistics give accidents a high place among the causes of absenteeism.

Tots between 5 and 7 are kept at home more often but, as age increases, fewer bouts may be anticipated. Studies have shown that the delicate child is likely to remain that way for approximately five years. Furthermore, some families have frail children; in others, all are husky. On the whole, the ailments will not be serious and remedies are available. Fortunately, chronic afflictions are less common but, when present, demand more time off. Rheumatic fever and tuberculosis are encountered most frequently; nervousness, asthma, hernia, anemia, and nephritis should also be mentioned.

Parents are less likely to worry about the health of their offspring of high school age (13-18) because in this period the incidence of illness is low and recuperative powers are great. But the draft boards learned that many young inductees were not as perfect as their mothers and fathers thought. It is true that some of the defects had been present since birth and were beyond help or prevention by a physician. Others resulted from conditions of unknown origin. Nevertheless, there were numerous abnormalities that could have been corrected months or years before. This should be a lesson to all parents of adolescents. They should not be neglected and periodic checkups are in order.

An analysis of a series of 900 boys who attended a private school and presumably came from homes of better than average means, showed that 6 per cent were either obese or underweight and an additional 15 per cent could be considered borderline. A similar percentage needed eye tests; 80 per cent had dental caries of which one-quarter required immediate treatment. Nine had hernia; a similar number suffered from back strain and hammer toe. A few stuttered and 6 per cent were discovered to have personality disorders. These lads had knowledge and intelligence but a distorted attitude toward life.

To pass a physical does not mean necessarily that stamina or endurence is present. While these factors are important, there is more to the question. The foundation of fitness and well being should be laid early, which is the best insurance we have of health in the years to come.

DISPLACED TOE

R. T. writes: The second toe on my right foot overlaps the big one. Is this a bunion?

REPLY

This deformity may be associated with bunion formation. The enlargement itself is located on the inner side of the foot at the base of the big toe. In other cases, overlapping toes usually result from poorly fitting shoes or the existence of a defect present since birth.

THE YOUNGSTER WINS

T. H. writes: If a child with worms is not given any medicine, what would be the result five years later?

REPLY

The child usually wins, unless reinfection occurs. If no symptoms appear it can be assumed that the parasites are dead.

KIDNEY INFLAMMATION

F. M. writes: Would a diet of liquids, apple juice, grapes, or peaches help pyelitis?

REPLY

The diet in the presence of kidney inflammation depends upon the reaction of the urine. If it is alkaline, high proteins are indicated. Acid urine, on the other hand, calls for fruits and vegetables. No shotgun regimen can be recommended.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I was among the fifteen-hundred kids to compete recently in the All-Western Model Airplane meet sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce. Too bad I was disqualified....I spent weeks training that pigeon.

Those little models were wonderful examples of skilled craftsmanship, and the midget gas-motors were really something to marvel at. They developed one-eighth horsepower and could fit in one's pocket. I never should have tried it, though ....those kids know how to use their wrenches.

The highlight of the four day meet was the flying of jet-powered planes. Of course the kids don't use the same type of fuel the real planes do but they get the desired results with seltzer tablets.

The wire-controlled models attained speeds up to a hundred miles per hour....Records were smashed and so were a couple of windows. There was the usual amount of crackups, but those boys are not easily discouraged. They'll pick up the pieces and start all over again.

Five thousand dollars in cash prizes were awarded the winners, so don't get sore the next time junior removes the elastic from your best girdle... He's likely to pay the mortgage with it.

I've started construction on one of my own models but I'm having trouble getting balsa wood .... It seems they're using it for homes now!

WHILE WE ARE WAITING FOR WORLD PEACE

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Government Bungled Maritime Strike; Big Business Exiled Securities and Exchange Commission; Brynes and Soviet War Over Germany

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Inside fact on the jumbled maritime strike is that both the AFL and the CIO maritime unions could have had a $22.50 monthly increase as early as last June if there hadn't been friction between two powerful labor leaders—Harry Bridges of the West Coast Longshoremen and Joe Curran of the Maritime Union.

What happened was that last May Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Granville Conway, war shipping administrator, had a talk with Hoyt Haddock, Washington representative for Curran's CIO Maritime Union. Both agreed that the seamen were entitled to a substantial wage boost. The tentative figure of $30 a month was mentioned, with time-and-a-half for work over 48 hours.

Haddock later sent a telegram to both Bridges and Curran reporting this, and to his amazement got a hot wire back from Bridges telling Haddock to mind his own business. Bridges even told Haddock to go back to Schwellenbach and Conway and inform them to disregard their previous conversation. This Haddock did.

Labor Retreats

Later, when the CIO maritime strike was called, public reaction flared. The railroad strike had occurred only a short time before and Congress was seething with labor resentment. The Case bill was under discussion and labor leaders knew that if the CIO maritime unions went out on strike, drastic anti-labor legislation not only would pass Congress but would not be vetoed by the White House.

So in the end, CIO leaders settled for $17.50 a month increase. This was far below the $30 figure tentatively discussed by Haddock with Schwellenbach and Conway before Harry Bridges had wired him to mind his own business.

On June 26, just twelve days after the $17.50 award was fixed, Captain Conway, who, as war shipping administrator, operated 70 percent of the nation's ships, completely ignored the $17.50 for the CIO and agreed to $22.50 for AFL seamen.

Obviously this meant bitter war between the CIO-AFL rivals. Also it meant trouble with the wage Stabilization Board, which had just set the increase at $17.50. However, Mr. Conway blundered ahead just the same.

So later, when the Wage Stabilization Board scaled down the AFL's $22.50 to the CIO's $17.50, the AFL struck. The whole tie-up could have been avoided by a little more government foresight—largely on the part of Captain Conway.

FDR's Exiled SEC

While the diplomats battle publicly over "displaced persons" and migration to Palestine, big business is battling privately over a "displaced agency" in Washington.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, exiled to Philadelphia in 1942, now wants to come back home. But reactionary congressmen and bureaucrats, secretly egged on by big business, are opposed.

SEC, watchdog of the stock market, was one of Franklin Roosevelt's first and best reforms. Remembering the watered stock and phoney deals which helped bring on the 1929 crash, nobody can deny SEC's importance. However, pro-big business and pro-utility elements in Congress and the Budget Bureau have sniped at SEC for years, cutting its appropriations, considered it a major victory to get SEC out of Washington.

Now these defenders-of-the-dividend have vowed to keep SEC in Philadelphia where it can't defend itself, can't cooperate closely with other bureaus, can't crack down on utility lobbyists now running wild in the capitol.

Soviet Giveth and Taketh

Final decision for the Jimmy Byrnes speech on Germany was imparted to high officials in Washington about 12 days before he made it. The suspicion is that the Russians learned about it at the same time.

Byrnes phoned President Truman about 12 days in advance, told him the Russians were on the rampage, that nothing could be done to satisfy them. He therefore proposed that the United States and Great Britain try to set up a German government which could be won over to democracy and which could serve as a bulwark against Russia.

President Truman, who has come to put complete trust in Byrnes' judgement, agreed.

Whether or not the Russians tapped the trans-Atlantic phone, or whether they had other ways of knowing what was going on is anyone's guess. Maybe it was just coincidence.

Anyway, it was shortly after this that Foreign Minister Molotov made his sudden, mystery flight to Moscow. Simultaneously, inspired stories began to leak out of Poland that Russia would take Silesia away from Poland and give it to Germany. Obviously this was German-bait to counteract the offers Byrnes was going to make to Germany.

If Russia goes ahead with this policy of "the Soviet giveth and the Soviet taketh away," it will cause the toughest showdown so far experienced between Moscow and Washington.

The categorical Byrnes-Truman position is that the Soviet can neither "giveth nor taketh" without the consent of its Allies, that Germany's boundaries are to be decided only at the final peace treaty—which Russia so far has refused to call.

Radio Trust-Busting

The Federal Communications Commission's attempt to break the radio boycott against "frequency modulation" at last has received help from the International Ladies Garment Workers.

FCC has suspected radio-set manufacturers of ganging up against new F. M. radio (which supplies a clearer signal) because they wanted to sell as many standard radio sets as possible before F. M. got really started.

However, the Unity Broadcasting Company, owned by the Ladies Garment Workers, has made a deal with a radio manufacturer to put out 25,000 combination F. M.-standard sets by Christmas. The union will spend $1,000,000 to purchase these sets for distribution to members.

Note—The Ladies Garment Workers have received grants to operate F. M. radio stations in Chattanooga and St. Louis, with applications pending in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

National Honor--Where It Starts And Where It Ends

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

New York City averages about one murder a day—160 during the first half of this year. Whites kill blacks, blacks kill whites, blacks kill blacks, whites kill whites—all colors.

One city—160 murders—to say nothing of rape, arson, burglary, embezzlement by trustees. There are even frauds on government, city, state and national governments. Strange, is it not, that none of these governments yell that their honor is involved? They try to catch the killers, thieves, firebugs, etc., but no honor is claimed to be at stake.

Yet these killings take place where no foreign government has any jurisdiction whatever, where only our government can act. But the "honor" of the city, state or nation is not besmirched. No, not at all. The old escutcheon is as bright as ever.

"National Honor" Becomes Involved

But let some foreign thugs kill an American in some God-forsaken land, and our "national honor" is involved at once. The headlines scream, the State Department "views with alarm," the President is grave, and seven warships make forced draft to the bloody scene. If the American killed was wearing a uniform, it involves our honor more than if he was business man or tourist.

Four negroes are brutally lynched by white cowards in the South. That makes more headlines than many times that number of negroes killed in Harlem by other negroes. However, no honor is involved. There is no secret conference of the Chief of Staff; the warships ride at anchor, and the editorial writers soon turn to the Balkans for more exciting news.

Either by design or accident a warship is blown up in Havana Harbor and "Remember the Maine" sends men to fill their flesh with yellow fever germs from which many thousands suffer the rest of their days. However, the nation's honor has been avenged. But a Capone gang may do much damage to America without even giving the nation's honor a black and blue spot.

One would think that frauds against the purity of the ballot, involving the very integrity of state and national elections, would be a really black blot on the escutcheon. Or a fraudulent theft of the nation's property as at Teapot Dome. But no, after a few years, the President of the United States pardons seventeen of the vote thieves and restores their citizenship so that they may vote, be elected and hold positions of honor and trust under the government.

If a religious sect in our country tells its school children to disobey a statute and refuse to salute the flag, the Supreme Court excuses them as within their religious rights. But let no foreign power refuse to salute a visiting battleship! Our honor is sullied, and the Secretary of State rushes to the White House for a conference and emerges with white lips and furrowed brow.

Viewed Through Distorted Glasses

160 murders in New York City in one half a year. That is about twenty times the number of American seamen killed by Hitler before we went to war. The total number of murders in the United States in a year is more than those killed by the Japs at Pearl Harbor. But do we appropriate three hundred billion dollars to avenge the Americans butchered by Americans? No, our honor is not involved!

We are hot and bothered about the United Nations and other plans to end war. But when we view affairs through such distorted glasses, what results may we expect? If we can't see straight on this matter of honor at home, with what wisdom can we govern the world? Let the drums beat and the headlines scream, and we stop thinking.

Freedom Of Speech "Limited" By Wagner Law, Labor Board Rules

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. — The Constitution of the United States says that Congress shall make no law "abridging freedom of speech". It doesn't say that employers are to make only a certain kind of speeches or that some other conduct in which they may engage separate from the speech-making is to cause them to forfeit their rights of expression.

Yet Paul Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, says that freedom of speech where employers are concerned is now "limited" by the Wagner law and what the Labor Relations Board considers privileged. Mr. Herzog is an able and conscientious public servant and believes implicitly in the doctrine which he expounds but it looks, unfortunately, as if he has adopted the New Deal philosophy, which is that the Constitution shall be interpreted by government boards in such a way as to please labor unions irrespective of the damage it does to the economic life of the country or public confidence in a system of constitutional law.

Interest Centers On Clark Case

Mr. Herzog's address reviews recent decisions on the freedom of speech issue but interest centers now on the Clark Brothers case which he endeavors to explain in his latest speech. The labor board chairman says that in some cases what the employer may do by way of threat or coercion separate from the speech constitutes an "unfair labor practice" within the meaning of the Wagner law. But in the Clark case he frankly states that the employer's speech, standing by itself, and though containing in its language no threats or reprisals is a violation of the law because the employer compelled his audience to listen by assembling them during working hours.

The board's decision said the chief sin was that the employer used his "superior economic power in coercing his employees to listen to speeches relating to their organizational activities, and thereby independently violated section 8 (1) of the act."

This language from the decision appears to go contrary to the final paragraph of the labor board chairman's address in which he says:

"When words are only words, they are — and should be—immune from action by the board. When words become, or portend, or are closely associated with acts of interference by an employer exercising superior economic power they cease to be words alone. Free speech is one thing; unrestrained conduct is another. The board must be careful neither to inhibit the first nor wink at the second."

But actually is there any employer who doesn't today possess "superior economic power" in the opinion of the National Labor Relations Board? The board's decision could, therefore, as well have said that "all employers" lose their constitutional right of free speech because they possess "superior economic power." Perhaps as the strike weapon is intensified, employers will lose their "superior economic power," in which case presumably the board will some day reverse itself.

Employers Given No Guide

Neither the board nor its chairman, however, tells employers what definitions are to guide them so as not to run afoul of a labor board charge of "unfair labor practice". The board chairman, for instance, in speaking of the Clark case, quotes from that decision as follows:

"Thus, standing alone and in the absence of other evidence, the presentation of an argument, temperate in form and containing no intimations of reprisal . . . may not support an inference of coercion sufficient to outweigh the employer right of free speech."

Who is to say what is "temperate in form"? The employer in the Clark case read a speech prepared in advance and which contains no threats or hints of reprisals and appears in every respect to an impartial eye to be "temperate in form". Yet the labor board wasn't satisfied with the "Words-alone-theory" and declared that because the speech was delivered in working hours, this was an act of "coercion". Will the next limitation be that the employer must allow employees to circulate scurrilous literature in his plant attacking the management and yet he cannot mail a reply to the homes of the employees because he alone possesses the mailing list and that's "superior economic power"?

Jurist Views Disagree

The constitution says nothing about freedom of speech in "temperate form" or about limiting it to those who do not possess "superior economic power." A great liberal jurist in the Supreme Court said that freedom of speech meant "freedom for the thought we hate," but the labor board says it must be "temperate in form" and, of course, the judge of what is temperate is the labor union which brings the charge and the National Labor Relations Board which sets itself up as a mind-reading or motive-reading tribunal or what is or is not "temperate".

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I'd like to sneak into the Hall of Fame some night and chop up some of the statues. I think we're worshipping the wrong heroes. A little bug in my ear keeps whispering that too many of our historical hot-shots were in the business of hurting people. You can't sell me that Hiram Maxim, inventor of the machine gun, is worth a hundred pounds of bronze. It would be all right with me if they took the busts of certain generals, politicians and inventors and melted them down for earrings. I don't think many of the guys we put on pedestals left the world any sweeter than they found it.

Billy Rose

Most of the people who put a little sugar in our bitter tea are as nameless as alley cats. If some eccentric millionaire is wondering how to spend part of his loot, I suggest he build an opposition Hall of Fame.

I recommend he reserve the first niche for the obscure Italian who invented ice cream. General Sherman said, "War is hell," and spent his life proving it. The N. Y. U. Hall of Fame can have the General —I'll take vanilla.

My second nomination would be the man who invented the chair. If I were running the show, they'd let school out and close the banks on his birthday.

Number three is the inspired plumber who came up with hot-and-cold running water. In addition to a statute, I think he rates a byline on every bathtub.

I'd like to see a bust in solid gold to honor the darling who invented Santa Claus. He must be a pretty special fellow who can come up with a gimmick that makes Democrats give something to Republicans once a year.

My fifth candidate is the only man who ever did anything that actually helped the common cold—the inventor of the handkerchief.

Next on the list is the humanitrain who gave us bedroom slippers. His should be a full-length statue —people will want to lay flowers at his feet because of what he did for theirs.

I'd thumbs-down the inventors of the pilotless plane and smokeless powder. But the fellow who disappeared into a greenhouse and came out several years later with the seedless grape—that's my boy for statue number seven.

As a fellow who believes America's finest actor is Donald Duck, I'd like to save a niche for the hero who created the animated cartoon. It's the greatest contribution to world gaiety since popcorn.

I hope my millionaire friend has plenty of checkbooks, because we'll need a big building. There should be space for the shepherd who first blew into a reed and made music, for the Neanderthal who first brought flowers into a cave, for the benefactor who invented doorknobs so we wouldn't have to climb through windows, for the artist who first painted a fire-engine red, for the immortals who produced toothpicks, buttonholes, mosquito netting, and green shutters for white houses. There would be a spot-lighted alcove for the composer who first wrote the final high note which makes a coloratura stop singing.

And finally, at the top of a marble staircase—like the Winged Victory in the Louvre—I would erect a twice-life-size statue to the most impetuous man in the history of the world. I mean the audacious fellow who, dim centuries ago, said, "Nuts to the single life. I'm going to get married!"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I often think of how great a debtor I am. The innumerable things that I gain, without paying for them. For weeks I have eaten at my summer cabin table, delicious blue-berries gathered from the grounds upon my island. And now the huckleberries are abundant. How these thousands of bushes came to this place is a mystery. No visible gardener about. No cultivation—just the sunshine and the dew, or rain—and they ripen for both birds and man.

I view sunsets and cloud formations that no artist ever born has been able to adequately paint, or represent upon canvas. Today I watched the beautiful surf of the Atlantic wash its waves upon the rocky shore of Nova Scotia. The breaking of the waters, as they tumbled and rolled, over and over again, with the sunlight riding the crests in silver array, a Winslow Homer, or a Waugh, have put to canvas in masterly style, but there is always something else there that no artist has yet captured. I didn't pay for these views today!

I was recently one of the guests of the industrialist, Cyrus Eaton, at his beautiful summer home at Deep Cove, Nova Scotia. For years I had read and heard about his unique position in the world of business and finance, and his innumerable interests, but the man himself stood out as unique. I talked with him as the father and lover of children, and as concerned with the rights and justice toward all men, especially the workers in his great enterprises. I saw him as the friend, lover of nature, and delightful human companion. There was light in his eyes and in his smile an understanding vision of the human heart. No one could buy such things in a man. So I took them away with me, as I wended my way back to Weskawenaak.

Hospitality is something that folks give away. They exact no pay, whatsoever. People give to us encouragement, but they ask no return. The only bank, from which we can draw a check in payment, is the Bank of Appreciation. And it costs nothing to open an account there!

I picked up a white chunk of rock crystal upon my little island and broke it. Upon one piece were small tracts of pure gold. I have it upon my work desk to remind me of the treasures that lie hidden all about in God's beautiful world. I plucked a pure white pond lily from the lagoon before my Lodge, and placed it in a dish near my writing machine, where I could look upon it in wonder. It came out of the mud! It wasn't for sale. It was created for someone to love.

Maine May Foreshadow Results Next November

As President Truman will not be running himself, the drop in popularity which all polls show he has suffered may prove only a minor factor in the November elections. But that it will have some very noticeable effect can hardly be doubted. If the voters do not like the Administration as well as they once did, the fair assumption is that they will vote against candidates who pledge themselves to support its policies and to travel in the direction it is going.

Republicans, therefore, have considerable warrant for the optimism they feel and for their belief that they face a genuine opportunity to win control of both branches of Congress this Fall. On the face merely of political conditions in the country since 1932 this seems like a difficult assignment. For fourteen years the Republican Party has been in the minority and some of the time in an utterly hopeless and helpless minority. Yet to so great a degree has the party alignment in Congress been narrowed that all Republicans need to do next November to capture control of both Houses of Congress is to elect 26 additional Representatives and nine more Senators.

The first indication of that possibility came from the election Monday in Maine where Republican candidates overwhelmed their opponents. Maine, of course, consistently votes Republican in its September election, but it has not always held true that "As Maine Goes, So Goes the Nation." In 1884 and again in 1892 Maine had voted Republican while the nation as a whole was to vote Democratic. Furthermore, when Wilson was reelected in 1916, Maine voted for Hughes. Hoover carried only six states in 1932; one of them was Maine. In 1940 Maine voted for Willkie, who received only 82 of the 451 electoral votes; in 1944 for Dewey, who got 99.

In those instances the vote in Maine between Republican and Democratic candidates was closer than is usual, but when the margin of victory for Republican candidates is as large as that of this week it has proven a good barometer, and sweeping Republican results Monday is a very accurate forecast of how the nation will vote in less than eight weeks from now.

This theory is partly borne out by the fact that in 1928 the Republican senatorial candidate in Maine got 70 percent of the vote; the presidential election was a Republican landslide. In 1936, a Democratic landslide year, the GOP senatorial candidate had barely scraped through in Maine with 51 percent of the vote. In 1940 he had 59 percent of the vote. Roosevelt again won the presidency easily.

As for midterm election years, in 1930 the Maine GOP senatorial candidate had 61 percent of the vote; the national House of Representatives was to be almost evenly divided. In 1934, he barely got 50 percent; the House was to be overwhelmingly Democratic.

In the Maine senatorial battle Monday, the Republican candidate polled better than 64 percent of the ballots, a gain of nine percent over the 55 percent with which he won his Senate seat in 1940 after three terms in the House. So it goes. Considering the situation as it exists today and as it gives promise of moving in the next eight weeks, the task of capturing control of both House and Senate does not appear beyond the Republican Party.

American planes flying near the Yugoslav border now are fully armed, which poses the question: Whose idea was it that they should go unarmed?

Wallace Has Not Become Distinguished As A Prophet

Government figures show employment at a new high—around 59,000,000 workers. So Secretary of Commerce Wallace chooses this occasion to predict that it won't last; that it's abnormal. Mr. Wallace hasn't distinguished himself as a prophet. He belongs to the group that saw from seven millions to ten millions jobless within a year after V-J Day. It didn't happen.

It was his department that fanned the great conflagration of strikes with a preposterous claim that wages could be increased 25 per cent with no change in prices. Events have thoroughly riddled that theory. It is his group which forecast a wild wave of price increases without OPA—a forecast that proved to be thoroughly exaggerated.

But Mr. Wallace may be right in the long run about a drop in employment. He and his fellow-bureaucrats have tried so hard to spread fear and unrest that it will be a miracle if they don't finally succeed. Being in positions of authority and power, their dire forecasts can't miss having some adverse effect of the country's economic life. The uncertainty which they have created is in itself a great handicap.

The barriers against production created by strikes, conflicting regulations and pessimistic forecasts—to all of which the Wallace crowd of bureaucrats has contributed—have helped keep our creative machinery sputtering and stalling.

There seems to be in this country certain men who are hell-bent on proving that things are going to smash unless they are permitted to do all the steering. Mr. Wallace is their leader.

Clothing budget for the college girl is reported to average $750. Including $740 for a fur coat, presumably.

Chance To Do A Job In Promoting Highway Safety

What can be an important development in the promotion of highway safety on a national basis is an executive order just issued by President Truman. The order directs the establishment of a federal committee to carry on a continuing campaign for the reduction of traffic accidents. The committee will include representatives of the Public Roads Administration, the National Bureau of Standards, the Bureau of Census, the Federal Works Agency, the Office of Education, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Federal Interdepartmental Safety Council and the Agriculture, Interior, War, Navy and Post Office Departments.

In its work the committee will cooperate with state and local governments and with national highway safety organizations. Ignorance of different conditions over state lines is a constant source of trouble. If the committee can contrive to reduce such trouble to an appreciable extent, it will justify its establishment. This latest federal undertaking should not be permitted, though, to become an excuse for additions to the federal payroll, or for the retention of drones.

A research project performed in Hagerstown, Md., revealed that during the autumn and spring each grade school pupil can be expected to lose four days out of every 100 because of sickness. In the winter the figure jumps to six; during epidemics to 11.3. Colds and other respiratory diseases, including the grippe, head the list. Next come digestive disturbances, headaches, and contagious maladies — measles, mumps, and chicken pox. Other statistics give accidents a high place among the causes of absenteeism.

Tots between 5 and 7 are kept at home more often but, as age increases, fewer bouts may be anticipated. Studies have shown that the delicate child is likely to remain that way for approximately five years. Furthermore, some families have frail children; in others, all are husky. On the whole, the ailments will not be serious and remedies are available. Fortunately, chronic afflictions are less common but, when present, demand more time off. Rheumatic fever and tuberculosis are encountered most frequently; nervousness, asthma, hernia, anemia, and nephritis should also be mentioned.

Parents are less likely to worry about the health of their offspring of high school age (13-18) because in this period the incidence of illness is low and recuperative powers are great. But the draft boards learned that many young inductees were not as perfect as their mothers and fathers thought. It is true that some of the defects had been present since birth and were beyond help or prevention by a physician. Others resulted from conditions of unknown origin. Nevertheless, there were numerous abnormalities that could have been corrected months or years before. This should be a lesson to all parents of adolescents. They should not be neglected and periodic checkups are in order.

An analysis of a series of 900 boys who attended a private school and presumably came from homes of better than average means, showed that 6 per cent were either obese or underweight and an additional 15 per cent could be considered borderline. A similar percentage needed eye tests; 80 per cent had dental caries of which one-quarter required immediate treatment. Nine had hernia; a similar number suffered from back strain and hammer toe. A few stuttered and 6 per cent were discovered to have personality disorders. These lads had knowledge and intelligence but a distorted attitude toward life.

To pass a physical does not mean necessarily that stamina or endurance is present. While these factors are important, there is more to the question. The foundation of fitness and well being should be laid early, which is the best insurance we have of health in the years to come.

DISPLACED TOE

R. T. writes: The second toe on my right foot overlaps the big one. Is this a bunion?

REPLY

This deformity may be associated with bunion formation. The enlargement itself is located on the inner side of the foot at the base of the big toe. In other cases, overlapping toes usually result from poorly fitting shoes or the existence of a defect present since birth.

THE YOUNGSTER WINS

T. H. writes: If a child with worms is not given any medicine, what would be the result five years later?

REPLY

The child usually wins, unless reinfection occurs. If no symptoms appear it can be assumed that the parasites are dead.

KIDNEY INFLAMMATION

F. M. writes: Would a diet of liquids, apple juice, grapes, or peaches help pyelitis?

REPLY

The diet in the presence of kidney inflammation depends upon the reaction of the urine. If it is alkaline, high proteins are indicated. Acid urine, on the other hand, calls for fruits and vegetables. No shotgun regimen can be recommended.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I was among the fifteen-hundred kids to compete recently in the All-Western Model Airplane meet sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce. Too bad I was disqualified....I spent weeks training that pigeon.

Those little models were wonderful examples of skilled craftsmanship, and the midget gas-motors were really something to marvel at. They developed one-eighth horsepower and could fit in one's pocket. I never should have tried it, though ....those kids know how to use their wrenches.

The highlight of the four day meet was the flying of jet-powered planes. Of course the kids don't use the same type of fuel the real planes do but they get the desired results with seltzer tablets.

The wire-controlled models attained speeds up to a hundred miles per hour....Records were smashed and so were a couple of windows. There was the usual amount of crackups, but those boys are not easily discouraged. They'll pick up the pieces and start all over again.

Five thousand dollars in cash prizes were awarded the winners, so don't get sore the next time junior removes the elastic from your best girdle... He's likely to pay the mortgage with it.

I've started construction on one of my own models but I'm having trouble getting balsa wood .... It seems they're using it for homes now!

WHILE WE ARE WAITING FOR WORLD PEACE

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Inside fact on the jumbled maritime strike is that both the AFL and the CIO maritime unions could have had a $22.50 monthly increase as early as last June if there hadn't been friction between two powerful labor leaders—Harry Bridges of the West Coast Longshoremen and Joe Curran of the Maritime Union.

What happened was that last May Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Granville Conway, war shipping administrator, had a talk with Hoyt Haddock, Washington representative for Curran's CIO Maritime Union. Both agreed that the seamen were entitled to a substantial wage boost. The tentative figure of $30 a month was mentioned, with time-and-a-half for work over 48 hours.

Haddock later sent a telegram

to both Bridges and Curran reporting this, and to his amazement got a hot wire back from Bridges telling Haddock to mind his own business. Bridges even told Haddock to go back to Schwellenbach and Conway and inform them to disregard their previous conversation. This Haddock did.

Labor Retreats

Later, when the CIO maritime strike was called, public reaction flared. The railroad strike had occurred only a short time before and Congress was seething with labor resentment. The Case bill was under discussion and labor leaders knew that if the CIO maritime unions went out on strike, drastic anti-labor legislation not only would pass Congress but would not be vetoed by the White House.

So in the end, CIO leaders settled for $17.50 a month increase. This was far below the $30 figure tentatively discussed by Haddock with Schwellenbach and Conway before Harry Bridges had wired him to mind his own business.

On June 26, just twelve days after the $17.50 award was fixed, Captain Conway, who, as war shipping administrator, operated 70 percent of the nation's ships, completely ignored the $17.50 for the CIO and agreed to $22.50 for AFL seamen.

Obviously this meant bitter war between the CIO-AFL rivals. Also it meant trouble with the wage Stabilization Board, which had just set the increase at $17.50. However, Mr. Conway blundered ahead just the same.

So later, when the Wage Stabilization Board scaled down the AFL's $22.50 to the CIO's $17.50, the AFL struck. The whole tie-up could have been avoided by a little more government foresight—largely on the part of Captain Conway.

FDR's Exiled SEC

While the diplomats battle publicly over "displaced persons" and migration to Palestine, big business is battling privately over a "displaced agency" in Washington.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, exiled to Philadelphia in 1942, now wants to come back home. But reactionary congressmen and bureaucrats, secretly egged on by big business, are opposed.

SEC, watchdog of the stock market, was one of Franklin Roosevelt's first and best reforms. Remembering the watered stock and phoney deals which helped bring on the 1929 crash, nobody can deny SEC's importance. However, pro-big business and pro-utility elements in Congress and the Budget Bureau have sniped at SEC for years, cutting its appropriations, considered it a major victory to get SEC out of Washington.

Now these defenders-of-the-dividend have vowed to keep SEC in Philadelphia where it can't defend itself, can't cooperate closely with other bureaus, can't crack down on utility lobbyists now running wild in the capitol.

Soviet Giveth and Taketh

Final decision for the Jimmy Byrnes speech on Germany was imparted to high officials in Washington about 12 days before he made it. The suspicion is that the Russians learned about it at the same time.

Byrnes phoned President Truman about 12 days in advance, told him the Russians were on the rampage, that nothing could be done to satisfy them. He therefore proposed that the United States and Great Britain try to set up a German government which could be won over to democracy and which could serve as a bulwark against Russia.

President Truman, who has come to put complete trust in Byrnes' judgement, agreed.

Whether or not the Russians tapped the trans-Atlantic phone, or whether they had other ways of knowing what was going on is anyone's guess. Maybe it was just coincidence.

Anyway, it was shortly after this that Foreign Minister Molotov made his sudden, mystery flight to Moscow. Simultaneously, inspired stories began to leak out of Poland that Russia would take Silesia away from Poland and give it to Germany. Obviously this was German-bait to counteract the offers Byrnes was going to make to Germany.

If Russia goes ahead with this policy of "the Soviet giveth and the Soviet taketh away," it will cause the toughest showdown so far experienced between Moscow and Washington.

The categorical Byrnes-Truman position is that the Soviet can neither "giveth nor taketh" without the consent of its Allies, that Germany's boundaries are to be decided only at the final peace treaty—which Russia so far has refused to call.

Radio Trust-Busting

The Federal Communications Commission's attempt to break the radio boycott against "frequency modulation" at last has received help from the International Ladies Garment Workers.

FCC has suspected radio-set manufacturers of ganging up against new F. M. radio (which supplies a clearer signal) because they wanted to sell as many standard radio sets as possible before F. M. got really started.

However, the Unity Broadcasting Company, owned by the Ladies Garment Workers, has made a deal with a radio manufacturer to put out 25,000 combination F. M.-standard sets by Christmas. The union will spend $1,000,000 to purchase these sets for distribution to members.

Note—The Ladies Garment Workers have received grants to operate F. M. radio stations in Chattanooga and St. Louis, with applications pending in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

National Honor--Where It Starts And Where It Ends

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

New York City averages about one murder a day—160 during the first half of this year. Whites kill blacks, blacks kill whites, blacks kill blacks, whites kill whites—all colors.

One city—160 murders—to say nothing of rape, arson, burglary, embezzlement by trustees. There are even frauds on government, city, state and national governments. Strange, is it not, that none of these governments yell that their honor is involved? They try to catch the killers, thieves, firebugs, etc., but no honor is claimed to be at stake.

Yet these killings take place where no foreign government has any jurisdiction whatever, where only our government can act. But the "honor" of the city, state or nation is not besmirched. No, not at all. The old escutcheon is as bright as ever.

"National Honor" Becomes Involved

But let some foreign thugs kill an American in some God-forsaken land, and our "national honor" is involved at once. The headlines scream, the State Department "views with alarm," the President is grave, and seven warships make forced draft to the bloody scene. If the American killed was wearing a uniform, it involves our honor more than if he was business man or tourist.

Four negroes are brutally lynched by white cowards in the South. That makes more headlines than many times that number of negroes killed in Harlem by other negroes. However, no honor is involved. There is no secret conference of the Chief of Staff; the warships ride at anchor, and the editorial writers soon turn to the Balkans for more exciting news.

Either by design or accident a warship is blown up in Havana Harbor and "Remember the Maine" sends men to fill their flesh with yellow fever germs from which many thousands suffer the rest of their days. However, the nation's honor has been avenged. But a Capone gang may do much damage to America without even giving the nation's honor a black and blue spot.

One would think that frauds against the purity of the ballot, involving the very integrity of state and national elections, would be a really black blot on the escutcheon. Or a fraudulent theft of the nation's property as at Teapot Dome. But no, after a few years, the President of the United States pardons seventeen of the vote thieves and restores their citizenship so that they may vote, be elected and hold positions of honor and trust under the government.

If a religious sect in our country tells its school children to disobey a statute and refuse to salute the flag, the Supreme Court excuses them as within their religious rights. But let no foreign power refuse to salute a visiting battleship! Our honor is sullied, and the Secretary of State rushes to the White House for a conference and emerges with white lips and furrowed brow.

Viewed Through Distorted Glasses

160 murders in New York City in one half a year. That is about twenty times the number of American seamen killed by Hitler before we went to war. The total number of murders in the United States in a year is more than those killed by the Japs at Pearl Harbor. But do we appropriate three hundred billion dollars to avenge the Americans butchered by Americans? No, our honor is not involved!

We are hot and bothered about the United Nations and other plans to end war. But when we view affairs through such distorted glasses, what results may we expect? If we can't see straight on this matter of honor at home, with what wisdom can we govern the world? Let the drums beat and the headlines scream, and we stop thinking.

Freedom Of Speech "Limited" By Wagner Law, Labor Board Rules

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. — The Constitution of the United States says that Congress shall make no law "abridging freedom of speech". It doesn't say that employers are to make only a certain kind of speeches or that some other conduct in which they may engage separate from the speech-making is to cause them to forfeit their rights of expression.

Yet Paul Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, says that freedom of speech where employers are concerned is now "limited" by the Wagner law and what the Labor Relations Board considers privileged. Mr. Herzog is an able and conscientious public servant and believes implicitly in the doctrine which he expounds but it looks, unfortunately, as if he has adopted the New Deal philosophy, which is that the Constitution shall be interpreted by government boards in such a way as to please labor unions irrespective of the damage it does to the economic life of the country or public confidence in a system of constitutional law.

Interest Centers On Clark Case

Mr. Herzog's address reviews recent decisions on the freedom of speech issue but interest centers now on the Clark Brothers case which he endeavors to explain in his latest speech. The labor board chairman says that in some cases what the employer may do by way of threat or coercion separate from the speech constitutes an "unfair labor practice" within the meaning of the Wagner law. But in the Clark case he frankly states that the employer's speech, standing by itself, and though containing in its language no threats or reprisals is a violation of the law because the employer compelled his audience to listen by assembling them during working hours.

The board's decision said the chief sin was that the employer used his "superior economic power in coercing his employees to listen to speeches relating to their organizational activities, and thereby independently violated section 8 (1) of the act."

This language from the decision appears to go contrary to the final paragraph of the labor board chairman's address in which he says:

"When words are only words, they are — and should be—immune from action by the board. When words become, or portend, or are closely associated with acts of interference by an employer exercising superior economic power they cease to be words alone. Free speech is one thing; unrestrained conduct is another. The board must be careful neither to inhibit the first nor wink at the second."

But actually is there any employer who doesn't today possess "superior economic power" in the opinion of the National Labor Relations Board? The board's decision could, therefore, as well have said that "all employers" lose their constitutional right of free speech because they possess "superior economic power." Perhaps as the strike weapon is intensified, employers will lose their "superior economic power," in which case presumably the board will some day reverse itself.

Employers Given No Guide

Neither the board nor its chairman, however, tells employers what definitions are to guide them so as not to run afoul of a labor board charge of "unfair labor practice". The board chairman, for instance, in speaking of the Clark case, quotes from that decision as follows:

"Thus, standing alone and in the absence of other evidence, the presentation of an argument, temperate in form and containing no intimations of reprisal . . . may not support an inference of coercion sufficient to outweigh the employer right of free speech."

Who is to say what is "temperate in form"? The employer in the Clark case read a speech prepared in advance and which contains no threats or hints of reprisals and appears in every respect to an impartial eye to be "temperate in form". Yet the labor board wasn't satisfied with the "Words-alone-theory" and declared that because the speech was delivered in working hours, this was an act of "coercion". Will the next limitation be that the employer must allow employees to circulate scurrilous literature in his plant attacking the management and yet he cannot mail a reply to the homes of the employees because he alone possesses the mailing list and that's "superior economic power"?

Jurist Views Disagree

The constitution says nothing about freedom of speech in "temperate form" or about limiting it to those who do not possess "superior economic power." A great liberal jurist in the Supreme Court said that freedom of speech meant "freedom for the thought we hate," but the labor board says it must be "temperate in form" and, of course, the judge of what is temperate is the labor union which brings the charge and the National Labor Relations Board which sets itself up as a mind-reading or motive-reading tribunal or what is or is not "temperate".

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I'd like to sneak into the Hall of Fame some night and chop up some of the statues. I think we're worshipping the wrong heroes. A little bug in my ear keeps whispering that too many of our historical hot-shots were in the business of hurting people. You can't sell me that Hiram Maxim, inventor of the machine gun, is worth a hundred pounds of bronze. It would be all right with me if they took the busts of certain generals, politicians and inventors and melted them down for earrings. I don't think many of the guys we put on pedestals left the world any sweeter than they found it.

Billy Rose

Most of the people who put a little sugar in our bitter tea are as nameless as alley cats. If some eccentric millionaire is wondering how to spend part of his loot, I suggest he build an opposition Hall of Fame.

I recommend he reserve the first niche for the obscure Italian who invented ice cream. General Sherman said, "War is hell," and spent his life proving it. The N. Y. U. Hall of Fame can have the General —I'll take vanilla.

My second nomination would be the man who invented the chair. If I were running the show, they'd let school out and close the banks on his birthday.

Number three is the inspired plumber who came up with hot-and-cold running water. In addition to a statute, I think he rates a byline on every bathtub.

I'd like to see a bust in solid gold to honor the darling who invented Santa Claus. He must be a pretty special fellow who can come up with a gimmick that makes Democrats give something to Republicans once a year.

My fifth candidate is the only man who ever did anything that actually helped the common cold—the inventor of the handkerchief.

Next on the list is the humanitarian who gave us bedroom slippers. His should be a full-length statue —people will want to lay flowers at his feet because of what he did for theirs.

I'd thumbs-down the inventors of the pilotless plane and smokeless powder. But the fellow who disappeared into a greenhouse and came out several years later with the seedless grape—that's my boy for statue number seven.

As a fellow who believes America's finest actor is Donald Duck, I'd like to save a niche for the hero who created the animated cartoon. It's the greatest contribution to world gaiety since popcorn.

I hope my millionaire friend has plenty of checkbooks, because we'll need a big building. There should be space for the shepherd who first blew into a reed and made music, for the Neanderthal who first brought flowers into a cave, for the benefactor who invented doorknobs so we wouldn't have to climb through windows, for the artist who first painted a fire-engine red, for the immortals who produced toothpicks, buttonholes, mosquito netting, and green shutters for white houses. There would be a spot-lighted alcove for the composer who first wrote the final high note which makes a coloratura stop singing.

And finally, at the top of a marble staircase—like the Winged Victory in the Louvre—I would erect a twice-life-size statue to the most impetuous man in the history of the world. I mean the audacious fellow who, dim centuries ago, said, "Nuts to the single life. I'm going to get married!"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I often think of how great a debtor I am. The innumerable things that I gain, without paying for them. For weeks I have eaten at my summer cabin table, delicious blue-berries gathered from the grounds upon my island. And now the huckleberries are abundant. How these thousands of bushes came to this place is a mystery. No visible gardener about. No cultivation—just the sunshine and the dew, or rain—and they ripen for both birds and man.

I view sunsets and cloud formations that no artist ever born has been able to adequately paint, or represent upon canvas. Today I watched the beautiful surf of the Atlantic wash its waves upon the rocky shore of Nova Scotia. The breaking of the waters, as they tumbled and rolled, over and over again, with the sunlight riding the crests in silver array, a Winslow Homer, or a Waugh, have put to canvas in masterly style, but there is always something else there that no artist has yet captured. I didn't pay for these views today!

I was recently one of the guests of the industrialist, Cyrus Eaton, at his beautiful summer home at Deep Cove, Nova Scotia. For years I had read and heard about his unique position in the world of business and finance, and his innumerable interests, but the man himself stood out as unique. I talked with him as the father and lover of children, and as concerned with the rights and justice toward all men, especially the workers in his great enterprises. I saw him as the friend, lover of nature, and delightful human companion. There was light in his eyes and in his smile an understanding vision of the human heart. No one could buy such things in a man. So I took them away with me, as I wended my way back to Weskawenaak.

Hospitality is something that folks give away. They exact no pay, whatsoever. People give to us encouragement, but they ask no return. The only bank, from which we can draw a check in payment, is the Bank of Appreciation. And it costs nothing to open an account there!

I picked up a white chunk of rock crystal upon my little island and broke it. Upon one piece were small tracts of pure gold. I have it upon my work desk to remind me of the treasures that lie hidden all about in God's beautiful world. I plucked a pure white pond lily from the lagoon before my Lodge, and placed it in a dish near my writing machine, where I could look upon it in wonder. It came out of the mud! It wasn't for sale. It was created for someone to love.

For the interesting if true department: John Jacob Astor wants to go to Russia to study communism ....Strikes and reconversion costs have forced one of the major electrical equipment manufacturers to borrow $52,000,000 from 49 banks.... The American Guild of Musical Artists to get a new Metropolitan Opera contract this week....Soviet Russia has reconditioned 700 radio stations, and plans to expand to 800 more, mostly in Soviet-liberated areas, for a giant propaganda campaign, most against the British. Which is why Britain, hitherto cool to the U. S. proposal for a world-wide conference on short-wave radio, is now plugging for same, come April. Incidentally, the Soviets' new Latvian transmitter, already in use, is said to blanket the British Broadcasting Company's most powerful station. One minor squabble going on between the U.S. and Russia right now concerns authors' squabbles.

It's called Dixon's Steak House and is more East Side than West Side in style and appointments. And, incidentally, good.

Local Nurse Volunteers To Aid Polio Victims

Mrs. Clarence Llewelyn, 106 Le Fever street, has volunteered for emergency nursing duty in the polio-stricken area of Gastonia, N. C., according to Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of the Allegany chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Llewelyn is the third special nurse who has been sent there to care for infantile paralysis victims. Her assignment makes a total of 63 nurses who have been recruited through the eastern area of the Red Cross for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

LeOra Eggleston Chooses Nov. 2 For Wedding Date

Will Become Bride Of Joseph Franklin Watkins, Jr., In Local Church

Miss LeOra Irene Eggleston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Eggleston, 829 Braddock Road, has selected November 2 for the date of her marriage to Joseph Franklin Watkins, Jr., son of Mrs. Joseph F. Watkins, 122 Race street, and the late Mr. Watkins.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 12:30 o'clock in Emmanuel Episcopal Church, with Rev. David C. Watson officiating.

Mrs. Frederick H. Canfield, Jr., New York, will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. Karl Bachman will serve as Mr. Watkins' best man, and the ushers will be Frederick Steiding, Lloyd Buchanan, Mortimer C. Schaidt, and Earl Gower.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Central High School, Springfield, Mass., and Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School, New York City. She was employed as secretary to J. E. Bludworth for five years at the local plant of the Celanese Corporation of America and served in the same capacity at the Texas plant, for approximately one year.

Mr. Watkins is a graduate of Pennsylvania Avenue High School and prior to World War II, he was employed for one and one-half years on an engineering project in Persia. A veteran of 30 months army duty, he served two years in the European and Pacific theaters with the 1053rd Engineers. Since his discharge Mr. Watkins is associated with the Queen City Glass Company, LaVale.

LaVale Club Plans Homemakers Booth

The LaVale Homemakers Club formulated plans for a "Homemaker's Booth," to feature the program at the October meeting, at the regular business session, Monday at the firemen's hall. Mrs. John Fisher presided and named Mrs. Albert Tase, nutrition chairman, in charge of the next meeting. Each member will donate different articles of her canned foods, jellies, cakes and fruits for the booth, which will be on sale.

One new member was enrolled; the group sang, "Onward Christian Soldiers," under the direction of Mrs. Edith Comp; Mrs. George Ward, Fair chairman, gave the report of the club's exhibits at the Cumberland fair, which included six winners.

Roll call was answered with safety hints in the home and Miss Maude A. Bean led a discussion on safety, and hazards in the home, illustrating her talk with posters.

Girl Scouts Need Of Leaders Is Stressed

The Organization Committee of the Cumberland Girl Scouts discussed an expansion program at the meeting yesterday at the little house, with Mrs. George Miller presiding.

The extreme need of six new leaders for existing troops, before the program can be launched, was pointed out. Anyone who will assume a leadership is asked to contact the headquarters at the little house.

The expansion program calls for two new troops in South Cumberland, two in Northend and two in Eastside.

Crowns and coronets originally had no regal significance. They were made of leaves or flowers and conferred on the winners in athletic contests.

Grace Baptist WMS Plans Study Course; Season Of Prayer

Members of Grace Baptist Church Women's Missionary Society voted to observe the Season of Prayer for State Missions, September 25, and to have a study course October 10, at the meeting Monday night with Mrs. James Kirkpatrick presiding. The study book will be "The WMS at Work," the teacher will be selected later.

Miss Sjoeke Hesfelink, Utrecht, Holland, was the guest speaker and discussed the conditions in Holland, touching both on the spiritual and physical conditions. She explained that the morals in Holland, like in America, were not as good as before the war, but were worse than here. Although American moving pictures are shown there, she said that they are of a very poor type, depicting mostly night club and drinking scenes.

During the question period she said that both countries have very much the same type of religion; they also have labor troubles and although the Communistic party has grown since the war, it has not grown to alarming proportions.

Mrs. Virginia Lester was chairman of the program which was on the topic, "The Christian Foundation for the Good Neighbor Policy." Mrs. Kirkpatrick gave the Bible study.

William Edward Cassell To Wed Janet Herring

Double Ring Ceremony To Be Performed Tonight In Grace Church

Miss Janet Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Herring, 471 Baltimore avenue, will become the bride of William Edward Cassell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowden, 7 Browning street, today.

The double ring ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 tonight in Grace Methodist church, with Rev. Arthur L. Hunter officiating.

The bridal party will include the four sisters and sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Joseph Holmes will be the matron of honor; Mrs. Legard Appell, Mrs. William Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Engelbach and Mrs. Neff Herring will be the bridesmaids. Ann Holmes and Paul Herring, niece and nephew of the bride, will be her flower girl and ring bearer.

Neff Herring, brother of the bride, will serve as Mr. Cassell's best man and Joseph Holmes, William Carpenter and Legard Appell will be the ushers.

The church will be decorated with bouquets of white flowers and candelabra of cathedral tapers. Miss Anetta Yates will sing the "Lord's Prayer," "Because," and "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony and "At Dawning," during the ceremony. She will be accompanied at the organ by Arthur Amtower, who will also play the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a white satin and net gown, made with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point at the hand, and a full net skirt ending in a court train. Her full-length veil of net will be held by a tiara of white rosebuds and she will carry a bridal bouquet of roses. A cameo necklace belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Myra Koontz, will be her only ornament.

Her matron of honor will be attired in a dusty rose colored crepe gown, made similar to the brides. Her headdress will be of matching net and flowers and she will carry an arm bouquet of tallisman roses.

The bridesmaids will wear off the shoulder gowns of organdy, made with fitted bodice and tiered skirts, with which they will have shoulder length veils. Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Engelbach will wear pink and carry pink roses; Mrs. Appell and Mrs. Herring will be in blue and carry tallisman roses.

Her little flower girl will be in a white organdy floor length dress, made like the bridesmaids. She too will wear a shoulder length veil and carry a nosegay of white rosebuds. The little ring bearer will wear a white long trouser suit.

Mrs. Herring has chosen a black and blue gown for her daughter's wedding, with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Bowden will be in black and have a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Fort Hill and is store manager for the South End Cleaners Company. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Fort Hill, and a veteran of three years service in the 11th air force, and served 18 months in the Aleutians.

Mr. and Mrs. Herring will entertain with a reception at the VFW home, following the ceremony. A tiered wedding cake, white flowers and candles will decorate the table. Assisting the hostess in serving will be Mrs. C. H. Lehr, Akron, O.; Mrs. James Jeffries, Miss Stella Koontz, Frostburg, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Fred Wagner, city. Arrangements have been made for 100 guests.

For traveling the bride has chosen a pink and black suit with black topper and accessories and a corsage of pink roses will complete her costume. Upon their return from their wedding trip Mr. Cassell and his bride will reside at 51 Boone street.

Central Methodist Men's Club Holds Anniversary Event

J. H. Simmons was elected president of the Men's Club of Central Methodist Church at the first anniversary of the church group last night. Other officers are Calvin Keiter, vice president, and Ernest Spriggs, secretary-treasurer.

The occasion was celebrated with a wiener and corn roast for members and their wives at Constitution Park and a business and musical session at Central church later in the evening.

Robert Powell, who was named to head the group organized September 19, 1945, presided at the business meeting. Simmons has been vice president of the club and V. D. Eackles secretary-treasurer.

The club, which started with 13 members, now numbers 40 and sponsors the music program of the church. Its chief contribution has been the development of the men's quartet.

The musical program, directed by A. Florian Wilson, included piano duets by Miss Virginia Simmons and Mrs. B. Ralph Mark; selections by the male quartet composed of Virgil Eackles, W. M. Petrea, E. R. Spriggs, Jr., and William Campbell, a solo by Miss Gloria Roppolo, organ numbers by John Gridley and solos by Earl Nonnamon.

The program concluded with a mock marriage in which Lester Bloom represented Mr. Men's Club, Elmer Robosson, Miss Central Methodist Church and Rev. B. Ralph Mark the father of the bride. Mrs. Mark played traditional wedding music.

LOCAL NURSES WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Several nurses from Cumberland are planning to attend the 14th joint biennial session of the American Nurses' Association, National League of Nursing Education, and National Organization for Public Health Nursing, to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., September 23 to 27.

Miss Frances Loftus, director of nurses at Memorial Hospital, and Mrs. Howard Tolson, in charge of the educational program at the hospital's school of nursing, are planning to attend.

Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, said that no nurses have been assigned as delegates from the Health Department, but that a few may attend.

No Allegany Hospital nurse have expressed intentions so far of attending the session.

Twelve thousand nurses from all parts of the country are expected to attend the convention, the theme of which will be "Nursing in the Nation's Plans for Health." Guest speakers will include Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota; United States Senator Claude Pepper of Florida; Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service; and Dr. Howard A. Rusk, associate editor of the New York Times.

Star Of East Sisterhood To Hold Nomination

Star of the East Sisterhood, No. III, Dames of Malta will nominate officers at the meeting at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Junior Order hall. A penny supper will follow lodge meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Bishop, delegate, will report on the venodocia, held in Miami, September 9-12, at the meeting September 24; and officers will be elected.

Rec Club Registration Dates Are Selected

Registration for all Rec club members will be held Friday, September 20, and Friday, September 27, at weekly Rec club dances at Central YMCA, according to Robert L. Sisson, general secretary.

The dates were set at the first meeting this season of the Rec club council, which met last night at the "Y" with Tom Powers, president, presiding.

Other action taken by the council was to name a committee to arrange for the purchase of benches for the gymnasium. The group is headed by Lyndon Gump and includes Delores Chase, Pattie Bowie and Linn Sheetz. The committee will make a report next week.

The council also decided to furnish 1,500 football schedules of Fort Hill, Ridgeley, Allegany and La-Salle High School games, to be distributed to Rec club members. A board will be set up in the "Y" lobby with a similar schedule and the scores as the games are played. Attendance records of Rec club dances will also be shown on the board.

"Splash parties" for Rec club members will be held each Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. instead of on Mondays. The YMCA cafeteria will be opened each Friday night, starting September 27, to serve light lunches to those attending Rec club dances.

Woman's Group Plans Meeting, School Of Missions

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church held its opening meeting of the fall season, Monday night in the lecture hall, with Mrs. Albert H. Macey presiding, at which time plans were discussed for the various circles to have charge of the meetings; the district meeting and School of Missions outlined.

The fall luncheon-meeting of the Western Maryland Branch of the Presbyterial Society for Missions will be held October 1, at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Chalmers H. Goshorn, Lonaconing, will direct the program. Two representatives from each circle will serve as hostesses. Each person will bring their own lunch and the association will serve the tea and coffee.

Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards will give the program for the School of Missions, to be held October 4, and will teach the study book on India. Registrations will begin at 9:30 and the program, at 10 o'clock. A box luncheon will be held at noon.

An appeal was made for used candles for the people in need of light in the war devastated countries. Contributions may be made to Mrs. William Eisenberger, or sent directly to the Presbyterian Mission at New Windsor.

Mrs. Macy's staff of new officers includes Mrs. Karl G. Perry, Mrs. Alvin B. Storey, Mrs. Knight Reynolds, Mrs. J. B. Waugh and Mrs. R. F. Potter.

"Our Part in Winning a Better World," was the topic of the program. It consisted of an explanation of the restoration fund being raised by all the churches in America to rebuild the churches in devastated countries. Mrs. Eisenberger was the leader, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Upham and Mrs. Gilbert Miller. All members of the Taylor-Miller and Spier-Eisenberger Circles also took part.

A social hour concluded the meeting with Circle 3 as hostess.

Will Become Bride Of Joseph Franklin Watkins, Jr., In Local Church

Miss LeOra Irene Eggleston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Eggleston, 829 Braddock Road, has selected November 2 for the date of her marriage to Joseph Franklin Watkins, Jr., son of Mrs. Joseph F. Watkins, 122 Race street, and the late Mr. Watkins.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 12:30 o'clock in Emmanuel Episcopal Church, with Rev. David C. Watson officiating.

Mrs. Frederick H. Canfield, Jr., New York, will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. Karl Bachman will serve as Mr. Watkins' best man, and the ushers will be Frederick Steiding, Lloyd Buchanan, Mortimer C. Schaidt, and Earl Gower.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Central High School, Springfield, Mass., and Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School, New York City. She was employed as secretary to J. E. Bludworth for five years at the local plant of the Celanese Corporation of America and served in the same capacity at the Texas plant, for approximately one year.

Mr. Watkins is a graduate of Pennsylvania Avenue High School and prior to World War II, he was employed for one and one-half years on an engineering project in Persia. A veteran of 30 months army duty, he served two years in the European and Pacific theaters with the 1053rd Engineers. Since his discharge Mr. Watkins is associated with the Queen City Glass Company, LaVale.

LaVale Club Plans Homemakers Booth

The LaVale Homemakers Club formulated plans for a "Homemaker's Booth," to feature the program at the October meeting, at the regular business session, Monday at the firemen's hall. Mrs. John Fisher presided and named Mrs. Albert Tase, nutrition chairman, in charge of the next meeting. Each member will donate different articles of her canned foods, jellies, cakes and fruits for the booth, which will be on sale.

One new member was enrolled; the group sang, "Onward Christian Soldiers," under the direction of Mrs. Edith Comp; Mrs. George Ward, Fair chairman, gave the report of the club's exhibits at the Cumberland fair, which included six winners.

Roll call was answered with safety hints in the home and Miss Maude A. Bean led a discussion on safety, and hazards in the home, illustrating her talk with posters.

Girl Scouts Need Of Leaders Is Stressed

The Organization Committee of the Cumberland Girl Scouts discussed an expansion program at the meeting yesterday at the little house, with Mrs. George Miller presiding.

The extreme need of six new leaders for existing troops, before the program can be launched, was pointed out. Anyone who will assume a leadership is asked to contact the headquarters at the little house.

The expansion program calls for two new troops in South Cumberland, two in Northend and two in Eastside.

Grace Baptist WMS Plans Study Course; Season Of Prayer

Members of Grace Baptist Church Women's Missionary Society voted to observe the Season of Prayer for State Missions, September 25, and to have a study course October 10, at the meeting Monday night with Mrs. James Kirkpatrick presiding. The study book will be "The WMS at Work," the teacher will be selected later.

Miss Sjoeke Hesfelink, Utrecht, Holland, was the guest speaker and discussed the conditions in Holland, touching both on the spiritual and physical conditions. She explained that the morals in Holland, like in America, were not as good as before the war, but were worse than here. Although American moving pictures are shown there, she said that they are of a very poor type, depicting mostly night club and drinking scenes.

During the question period she said that both countries have very much the same type of religion; they also have labor troubles and although the Communistic party has grown since the war, it has not grown to alarming proportions.

Mrs. Virginia Lester was chairman of the program which was on the topic, "The Christian Foundation for the Good Neighbor Policy." Mrs. Kirkpatrick gave the Bible study.

Crowns and coronets originally had no regal significance. They were made of leaves or flowers and conferred on the winners in athletic contests.

William Edward Cassell To Wed Janet Herring

Double Ring Ceremony To Be Performed Tonight In Grace Church

Miss Janet Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Herring, 471 Baltimore avenue, will become the bride of William Edward Cassell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowden, 7 Browning street, today.

The double ring ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 tonight in Grace Methodist church, with Rev. Arthur L. Hunter officiating.

The bridal party will include the four sisters and sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Joseph Holmes will be the matron of honor; Mrs. Legard Appell, Mrs. William Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Engelbach and Mrs. Neff Herring will be the bridesmaids. Ann Holmes and Paul Herring, niece and nephew of the bride, will be her flower girl and ring bearer.

Neff Herring, brother of the bride, will serve as Mr. Cassell's best man and Joseph Holmes, William Carpenter and Legard Appell will be the ushers.

The church will be decorated with bouquets of white flowers and candelabra of cathedral tapers. Miss Anetta Yates will sing the "Lord's Prayer," "Because," and "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony and "At Dawning," during the ceremony. She will be accompanied at the organ by Arthur Amtower, who will also play the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a white satin and net gown, made with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point at the hand, and a full net skirt ending in a court train. Her full-length veil of net will be held by a tiara of white rosebuds and she will carry a bridal bouquet of roses. A cameo necklace belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Myra Koontz, will be her only ornament.

Her matron of honor will be attired in a dusty rose colored crepe gown, made similar to the brides. Her headdress will be of matching net and flowers and she will carry an arm bouquet of tallisman roses.

The bridesmaids will wear off the shoulder gowns of organdy, made with fitted bodice and tiered skirts, with which they will have shoulder length veils. Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Engelbach will wear pink and carry pink roses; Mrs. Appell and Mrs. Herring will be in blue and carry tallisman roses.

Her little flower girl will be in a white organdy floor length dress, made like the bridesmaids. She too will wear a shoulder length veil and carry a nosegay of white rosebuds. The little ring bearer will wear a white long trouser suit.

Mrs. Herring has chosen a black and blue gown for her daughter's wedding, with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Bowden will be in black and have a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Fort Hill and is store manager for the South End Cleaners Company. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Fort Hill, and a veteran of three years service in the 11th air force, and served 18 months in the Aleutians.

Mr. and Mrs. Herring will entertain with a reception at the VFW home, following the ceremony. A tiered wedding cake, white flowers and candles will decorate the table. Assisting the hostess in serving will be Mrs. C. H. Lehr, Akron, O.; Mrs. James Jeffries, Miss Stella Koontz, Frostburg, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Fred Wagner, city. Arrangements have been made for 100 guests.

For traveling the bride has chosen a pink and black suit with black topper and accessories and a corsage of pink roses will complete her costume. Upon their return from their wedding trip Mr. Cassell and his bride will reside at 51 Boone street.

Central Methodist Men's Club Holds Anniversary Event

J. H. Simmons was elected president of the Men's Club of Central Methodist Church at the first anniversary of the church group last night. Other officers are Calvin Keiter, vice president, and Ernest Spriggs, secretary-treasurer.

The occasion was celebrated with a wiener and corn roast for members and their wives at Constitution Park and a business and musical session at Central church later in the evening.

Robert Powell, who was named to head the group organized September 19, 1945, presided at the business meeting. Simmons has been vice president of the club and V. D. Eackles secretary-treasurer.

The club, which started with 13 members, now numbers 40 and sponsors the music program of the church. Its chief contribution has been the development of the men's quartet.

The musical program, directed by A. Florian Wilson, included piano duets by Miss Virginia Simmons and Mrs. B. Ralph Mark; selections by the male quartet composed of Virgil Eackles, W. M. Petrea, E. R. Spriggs, Jr., and William Campbell, a solo by Miss Gloria Roppolo, organ numbers by John Gridley and solos by Earl Nonnamon.

The program concluded with a mock marriage in which Lester Bloom represented Mr. Men's Club, Elmer Robosson, Miss Central Methodist Church and Rev. B. Ralph Mark the father of the bride. Mrs. Mark played traditional wedding music.

LOCAL NURSES WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Several nurses from Cumberland are planning to attend the 14th joint biennial session of the American Nurses' Association, National League of Nursing Education, and National Organization for Public Health Nursing, to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., September 23 to 27.

Miss Frances Loftus, director of nurses at Memorial Hospital, and Mrs. Howard Tolson, in charge of the educational program at the hospital's school of nursing, are planning to attend.

Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, said that no nurses have been assigned as delegates from the Health Department, but that a few may attend.

No Allegany Hospital nurse have expressed intentions so far of attending the session.

Twelve thousand nurses from all parts of the country are expected to attend the convention, the theme of which will be "Nursing in the Nation's Plans for Health." Guest speakers will include Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota; United States Senator Claude Pepper of Florida; Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service; and Dr. Howard A. Rusk, associate editor of the New York Times.

Star Of East Sisterhood To Hold Nomination

Star of the East Sisterhood, No. III. Dames of Malta will nominate officers at the meeting at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Junior Order hall. A penny supper will follow lodge meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Bishop, delegate, will report on the venodocia, held in Miami, September 9-12, at the meeting September 24; and officers will be elected.

Rec Club Registration Dates Are Selected

Registration for all Rec club members will be held Friday, September 20, and Friday, September 27, at weekly Rec club dances at Central YMCA, according to Robert L. Sisson, general secretary.

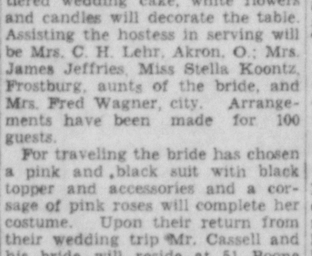
The dates were set at the first meeting this season of the Rec club council, which met last night at the "Y" with Tom Powers, president, presiding.

Other action taken by the council was to name a committee to arrange for the purchase of benches for the gymnasium. The group is headed by Lyndon Gump and includes Delores Chase, Pattie Bowie and Linn Sheetz. The committee will make a report next week.

The council also decided to furnish 1,500 football schedules of Fort Hill, Ridgeley, Allegany and La-Salle High School games, to be distributed to Rec club members. A board will be set up in the "Y" lobby with a similar schedule and the scores as the games are played. Attendance records of Rec club dances will also be shown on the board.

"Splash parties" for Rec club members will be held each Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. instead of on Mondays. The YMCA cafeteria will be opened each Friday night, starting September 27, to serve light lunches to those attending Rec club dances.

WIFE PRESERVERS



Colored fabric gloves may be washed just as white ones are, in lukewarm suds, rinsed well, then rolled for a minute in a towel to remove excess moisture. When ready for drying, slip them over the ends of a towel rack. Ironing is not necessary. They will smooth out as they are drawn over the hands.

Woman's Group Plans Meeting, School Of Missions

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church held its opening meeting of the fall season, Monday night in the lecture hall, with Mrs. Albert H. Macey presiding, at which time plans were discussed for the various circles to have charge of the meetings; the district meeting and School of Missions outlined.

The fall luncheon-meeting of the Western Maryland Branch of the Presbyterial Society for Missions will be held October 1, at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Chalmers H. Goshorn, Lonaconing, will direct the program. Two representatives from each circle will serve as hostesses. Each person will bring their own lunch and the association will serve the tea and coffee.

Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards will give the program for the School of Missions, to be held October 4, and will teach the study book on India. Registrations will begin at 9:30 and the program, at 10 o'clock. A box luncheon will be held at noon.

An appeal was made for used candles for the people in need of light in the war devastated countries. Contributions may be made to Mrs. William Eisenberger, or sent directly to the Presbyterian Mission at New Windsor.

Mrs. Macy's staff of new officers includes Mrs. Karl G. Perry, Mrs. Alvin B. Storey, Mrs. Knight Reynolds, Mrs. J. B. Waugh and Mrs. R. F. Potter.

"Our Part in Winning a Better World," was the topic of the program. It consisted of an explanation of the restoration fund being raised by all the churches in America to rebuild the churches in devastated countries. Mrs. Eisenberger was the leader, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Upham and Mrs. Gilbert Miller. All members of the Taylor-Miller and Spier-Eisenberger Circles also took part.

A social hour concluded the meeting with Circle 3 as hostess.

Testifying that the month after their marriage his wife "spent a night in a hotel with another man," Thomas E. Bagent, 640 Columbia avenue, was granted an absolute divorce from Mrs. Julia M. Bagent in a decree signed in Circuit Court by Chief Judge William A. Huster.

Bagent said he and his wife were married August 25, 1945, in Baltimore and that they separated in April of this year. He said she was "paying too much attention to another man." Mrs. Bagent was given the right to resume use of her maiden name. Edwin M. Horchler was Bagent's attorney.

An absolute divorce from Mrs. Martha E. Dennison, Hay street, was granted to Howard B. Dennison, 29 Offutt street, in a decree signed by Judge Huster. He said his wife refused to live with him "for no reason" after his return from overseas duty in the Army. Clarence Shutter was his attorney.

Judge Huster also granted an absolute divorce to Virgil L. Maphis, Maryland avenue, from Mrs. Georgianna G. Maphis and allowed her to resume use of her maiden name of Pratt. Maphis, an employe of the Cumberland Steel Company, said his wife left him "because she wanted to run around and have a good time." Edward J. Ryan was his attorney.

Mrs. Blanche E. McElwee Myers, 407 Decatur street, was granted an absolute divorce from Earl Myers, Baltimore, in another decree signed by Judge Huster. Mrs. Myers testified that her husband beat her, shoved her down the stairs and that "because of his conduct, our landlady ordered us out." Ryan was her attorney.

Warren Mallow Weds Fawn Ilene Roby

The marriage of Miss Fawn Ilene Roby, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Roby Firle, LaVale, to Warren Wade Mallow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mallow, Flintstone, has been announced.

The ceremony was perfomed September 7 with Rev. Gerge E. Baughman, Methodist minister, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mallow, Flintstone, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

The bride attended Flintstone High School and prior to her resignation was employed in Washington. The bridegroom is a veteran of World War II, and received his discharge May 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Firle entertained in honor of the latter's daughter and her bridal party, with a wedding reception, following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallow are residing with the bridegroom's parents.

Roscoe Snoeberger Is Honored On Birthday

Mrs. Reta Snoeberger entertained with a surprise party honoring her husband, Roscoe, in celebration of his 25th birthday, Saturday night, at their home, 102 East First street.

Various games were played and prizes for the pinning the tail on the donkey were won by Mrs. Ruth Snoeberger and James Holt. An all white color scheme was carried out in the flowers and candles centering the refreshment table and the large birthday cake decorated in green with birthday wishes. Twenty-four guests attended.

Robert Hershberger Weds Isabelle Hess

C. H. Hess, 112 Karns avenue, has announced the marriage of his daughter, Miss Isabelle Hess, to Robert Hershberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hershberger LaVale.

The ceremony was performed August 30, in the Cresaptown Methodist Church, with Rev. Louis P. Chastain officiating. Miss Marilyn Hershberger, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershberger are residing with the bride's father.

Jewels in Jet

The most perfect fashions are always in black. Beautifully dressed women always prefer it. Each season there are a certain number of perfect jewels developed in jet black—in gabardine suits, in casually clever coats, in exquisitely draped dresses. Our blacks this year have an enchanting elegance . . . sometimes subdued . . . sometimes unrestrained and glittering. We invite you to see the new collection now!

The stunning clothes worn by Mrs. Mary Sherman in Theatregate's "Personal Appearance" at the West Side School are all from Evelyn Barton Brown's

ARE WOMEN INDEPENDENT?

Lots doing politically, these days. And of course they're all counting on the feminine vote to influence the big fireworks ahead.

One lady in particular, a charming and aggressive leader in her party, believes that all women should figure largely in our nation's government.

"Because," says she, "women are such independent thinkers and know their own minds."

Oh yeh?

I'd like to believe it, sister, but my tongue is in my cheek.

Are women independent thinkers? Do they really know their own minds?

Obviously there are many women who are and who do. But taken en masse I sadly doubt if we gals are the free thinkers of the race.

For instance, look at our slavish adherence to fashions and fads. Take hats. Some swank modiste grabs a birdcage, decorates it with a few sprigs of parsley and a bedspring, and perches it upon milady's head. Presto and pronto, every female from Cape Cod to the Golden Gate bedecks herself with similar hardware or raises Cain until she can.

And that's only a beginning. Take a look-see at any of our beaches. We are at present in the throes of the great tripe expose. Some honey chile with a beautiful flat tummy decided that she needed no further adornment than a bip ruffle and a chest pad. All intermediate stations are to be left "doing what comes naturally." Which may be a perfectly ducky idea if you wear a size 12 and have the general contours of a flounder. But unfortunately the fashion was immediately seized by femmes of all sizes up to 56 who forthwith threw both discretion and undershirts to the wind and proceeded to expose contours that would make a billow blush. Why? Don't ask me. But if this sort of strip tease burlesque is a proof of feminine independence and free thinking, then I'm a dill pickle.

From which you may think I have a dim view of feminine intelligence. You're wrong. I truly believe that women have all the intelligence they need to take them any place they want to go. And some day they'll do something with that intelligence which will be worth while.

But at present, in spite of her vaunted rights, the average American woman is displaying about as much independence as the Ubangi savage. They are sheep-minded to a tragic degree. With every opportunity to assert their individuality they surge around in dizzy flocks following any cockeyed leader that comes along. Their lives are regimented and their activities snchronized to a point where they often appear to be nothing but well dressed zombies.

However, being one of them, I still have hopes.

Keep it up, girls! Some day you may be free rolling human beings, even yet. If you try.

Auto Crash Victim Undergoes Operation

William Hutt, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hutt, Ridgeley, W. Va., was reported in a "good" condition last night in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an emergency operation yesterday.

Hutt suffered possible fractures of the skull and nose, a deep puncture wound above the right eye and brush burns of the face as a result of an automobile accident on Route 28 near Fort Ashby, W. Va., Monday night.

Five-year-old Jerry Bennett, LaVale, received treatment Monday afternoon in Allegany Hospital for minor injuries sustained when struck by a taxicab on North Centre street. Attaches were told that the boy who suffered slight abrasions and bruises, stepped in front of the machine operated by Raymond W. Shearer, 313 Independence street.

Cats were believed sacred by the Egyptians, and were embalmed and entombed after death.

Kopp To Confer With Dr. Hamon

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, left yesterday for Washington tc confer with Dr. Ray Hamon, specialist on school buildings of the United States Office of Education.

Kopp said he will discuss the advance plans for three school projects in this county. He named them as the Lonaconing, Ellerslie and Mt. Savage school buildings.

The superintendent explained that he has met with Dr. Hamon twice already to discuss the three projects, but said yesterday the plans are now in the final stages and a consultation with the school building specialist is considered necessary.

A final study of the proposed plans will be completed tomorrow, Kopp said, and he plans to return to Cumberland the following day.

Dispite the completion of the proposed plans, the superintendent, said there is no prospect of beginning construction work in the near future. A lack of material and money places the construction of the three schools on the indefinite list, Kopp said.

Slogan Is Adopted For Letter Writing

"Someone feels better when you write a letter" will be the slogan of National Letter Writing Week, October 13-19.

To help make that someone feel better the Post Office department is participating in the nation-wide observance for the first time since the war, Thomas B. Cumiskey, assistant postmaster, said yesterday.

Throughout the week the department will distribute leaflets urging letter-writing, pointing out that "disinclination to write a letter arises from our lack of realization of how much letters mean to others." They continue, "there are no gloomy statistics on the number of cherished and interesting relationships that have been destroyed or diminished because of failure to nourish them with personal letters. But Americans of all people on earth, know the value of letters. . ."

The post office, knowing its phychology, has printed the leaflets on pink, reputedly the most persuasive of colors.

Thus it hopes to encourage you to send all the letters you've been meaning to write for years.

England has a campaign against seaside landladies who overcharge.

Licot Named Park Recreation Head

Nestor J. "Ted" Licot, manager of the Constitution Park swimming pool for several years, was named recreation director at the park by the Mayor and Council Monday.

According to the order Licot will be placed under Civil Service and will be a full time employe. He will be paid $170 monthly including bonuses.

Commissioner Myers G. Light, who introduced the order, explained after the meeting that the action is the first step toward starting a recreational program in the city over and above the usual playground activity.

Light said that among the projects planned for the winter are the building of a ski trail, a sled riding course and ice skating. He explained the athletic field will be used at the site for ice skating.

The commissioner also said it is planned to expand the summer program at the park and that Licot will continue in charge of the pool. Among pool improvements listed is a project calling for the installation of a filtration plant.

Auto Crash Victim Undergoes Operation

William Hutt, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hutt, Ridgeley, W. Va., was reported in a "good" condition last night in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an emergency operation yesterday.

Hutt suffered possible fractures of the skull and nose, a deep puncture wound above the right eye and brush burns of the face as a result of an automobile accident on Route 28 near Fort Ashby, W. Va., Monday night.

Five-year-old Jerry Bennett, LaVale, received treatment Monday afternoon in Allegany Hospital for minor injuries sustained when struck by a taxicab on North Centre street. Attaches were told that the boy who suffered slight abrasions and bruises, stepped in front of the machine operated by Raymond W. Shearer, 313 Independence street.

Cats were believed sacred by the Egyptians, and were embalmed and entombed after death.

Kopp To Confer With Dr. Hamon

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, left yesterday for Washington to confer with Dr. Ray Hamon, specialist on school buildings of the United States Office of Education.

Kopp said he will discuss the advance plans for three school projects in this county. He named them as the Lonaconing, Ellerslie and Mt. Savage school buildings.

The superintendent explained that he has met with Dr. Hamon twice already to discuss the three projects, but said yesterday the plans are now in the final stages and a consultation with the school building specialist is considered necessary.

A final study of the proposed plans will be completed tomorrow, Kopp said, and he plans to return to Cumberland the following day.

Dispite the completion of the proposed plans, the superintendent, said there is no prospect of beginning construction work in the near future. A lack of material and money places the construction of the three schools on the indefinite list, Kopp said.

Slogan Is Adopted For Letter Writing

"Someone feels better when you write a letter" will be the slogan of National Letter Writing Week, October 13-19.

To help make that someone feel better the Post Office department is participating in the nation-wide observance for the first time since the war, Thomas B. Cumiskey, assistant postmaster, said yesterday.

Throughout the week the department will distribute leaflets urging letter-writing, pointing out that "disinclination to write a letter arises from our lack of realization of how much letters mean to others."

They continue, "there are no gloomy statistics on the number of cherished and interesting relationships that have been destroyed or diminished because of failure to nourish them with personal letters. But Americans of all people on earth, know the value of letters. . ."

The post office, knowing its phychology, has printed the leaflets on pink, reputedly the most persuasive of colors.

Thus it hopes to encourage you to send all the letters you've been meaning to write for years.

England has a campaign against seaside landladies who overcharge.

Licot Named Park Recreation Head

Nestor J. "Ted" Licot, manager of the Constitution Park swimming pool for several years, was named recreation director at the park by the Mayor and Council Monday.

According to the order Licot will be placed under Civil Service and will be a full time employe. He will be paid $170 monthly including bonuses.

Commissioner Myers G. Light, who introduced the order, explained after the meeting that the action is the first step toward starting a recreational program in the city over and above the usual playground activity.

Light said that among the projects planned for the winter are the building of a ski trail, a sled riding course and ice skating. He explained the athletic field will be used at the site for ice skating.

The commissioner also said it is planned to expand the summer program at the park and that Licot will continue in charge of the pool. Among pool improvements listed is a project calling for the installation of a filtration plant.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Man Falls In Love With Much Younger Girl; Has He A Right To Try And Win Her?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love And Marriage

Most of us, I'm afraid, when confronted with a problem, try to figure it out on the basis of what's going to bring us most happiness. It is only a rare person who is more interested in finding the solution that will make someone else happy.

Here is a touching letter from a young man who is falling in love with a much younger girl and is uncertain as to whether or not he would be doing the right thing to try to win her. All he asks is to see the thing clearly enough so that he can do whatever will be best for this young girl in the end.

This is what he says:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am a young man 23 years old. Recently, I went into partnership with my Dad and my future seems well secured. Here in the same place where I work, I met a girl of whom I became very fond. I have taken her out two or three times and have just discovered that she is only 16 years old—will be 17 soon—and is only a junior in high school. She doesn't look her age, but looks very much older, and I took her for at least 20.

"Now, what I want to know is, do I have a right to keep on seeing this girl, or should I stop it altogether, before she or I get hurt? I told her my age and she said it didn't matter. But I think it does, because, since she is in high school with all the boys and girls of her own age, her feeling might change later on. Also, our religions are different. Do you thing that matters when two people are in love? I like her very much and want to be with her every second, but I don't know whether or not I have the right to go with her. I found out from her brother, who is a good friend of mine, that she is interested in me.

"Miss Fairfax, it is very funny when a fellow is very much in love, but is willing to give it all up so that the girl will be happier later on.

"WATERTOWN"

The only reason it seems "funny," as you say, for a person to be willing to give up what he wants most in the world, for the sake of someone else, is because most of us are so selfish that we want what we want at all costs. The fact that you are so ready to stop seeing this girl, if that is for her best good, is very convincing evidence that you really love her.

Under ordinary circumstances, I would certainly feel that the average 23-year-old man should not try to develop a romance between himself and a 16-year-old girl. But you are quite obviously not an "average" young man, but one with an unusual amount of maturity, commonsense, and character. And, for this reason, I am going to give you the following advice:

I suggest you continue to be friendly with this girl but do not try to rush her. Instead of being "with her every second," as you say you would like to be, take her out only once or twice a week for a while. That will give her opportunity to see other people and follow whatever interests she chooses, while showing her, without your saying anything, that you are fond of her and like to be with her.

I would try to keep things on this basis until she has graduated from high school. That may be hard to do, but after all, she only has one more year to go and you are so anxious to do right by her that you make me feel you would make any effort required.

When she is through with school, if you still feel as you do now, and she has come to love you, and her family is willing, then I think it would be perfectly all right to have a more definite understanding with this girl. Seven years isn't too great a difference between a husband and wife, if they are truly in love and their interests are congenial.

As for the matter of your different religions, of course that is another problem, and a more complicated one. Would you like to write me a personal letter, giving me your name and address, so that I could discuss it with you at greater length than I am able to do in this column?

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Second Army Seeks Volunteer Officers

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 10, (AP)—The Second Army today asked engineers who are Reserve or National Guard officers to volunteer for extended active duty.

The plea was made in a letter to former engineer officers who have returned to civilian life in Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky. The letter said there was a need for a large number of engineer officers but gave no details.

Second Army headquarters pointed out Reserve or National Guard officers could sign up for 12, 18, or 24 months or unlimited active duty but the agreements are not binding six months after the official end of the war.

Applicants must meet overseas physical standards and temporary commissions are offered at grades held immediately before separation.

THE THREE SCOURGES OF MAN

★ Devastating epidemics have ranked with war and famine as population levelers. Of these three scourges of man, pestilence was most dreaded. During the Black Plague epidemic of 1348, it was estimated that in some places over two-thirds of the population was wiped out.

The discovery of bacteria as the cause of infectious disease is still within the memory of the living. Pasteur developed the first vaccine for rabies in 1885. Since that time many immunizing procedures have become routine. As a consequence, deaths from infectious diseases have been drastically reduced.

Everyone should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria as an absolute minimum. Do not wait for an epidemic to break out. Then it is often too late.

We maintain complete stocks of biologicals, subject to the orders of your physician.

Funeral Services Held For Owner Of Brady Hotel

By MARIE MERRBACH

LONACONING, Sept. 9.—Funeral services for Patrick Doolan, 65, well-known owner of the Brady Hotel were held Monday at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church.

High requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Daniel Cummings. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Doolan died Friday at 3:30 p. m. at his residence after a lingering illness. His wife, Mrs. Catherine McHugh Doolan, died last November.

Charles Sullivan Buried

Funeral services for Charles Melvin Sullivan, 37, husband of Mrs. Ann Henry Sullivan, Dundee Street, Piedmont, W. Va., were held Monday afternoon in the Trinity Methodist Church, Piedmont.

Interment was made in Philos Cemetery at Westernport. Mr. Sullivan died Friday night at 9 o'clock in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, after being in the hospital for nearly a month.

Announces Enrollment

Miss Mary Longridge, principal of Jackson school, announced that 203 students enrolled on September 6. The first grade, 40; second, 30; third, 35; fourth, 37; fifth, 28; and sixth, 35.

Mrs. Dudley is taking a year's leave of absence due to illness. Miss Mary Myers who was a member of the Hammond street faculty of Westernport has been appointed in her place as first grade teacher.

The first meeting of the parent-teachers association will be held on Monday, September 16 at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be directed by Mrs. Elsie Wilson, the newly-elected president.

Miss Verna Miller, principal at Detmold elementary school, announced yesterday that 60 pupils are enrolled in the school for the 1946-47 term.

Eight are enrolled in grade one; 16 in grade two; 13 in grade three; eight in grade four; 11 in grade five; and 10 in grade six.

To Hold Rehearsal

The Young People's Choir of the First Presbyterian Church will hold its first rehearsal in resuming the fall and winter schedule on Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the church.

Miss Verna Miller, director of the choir, is interested in having all the members come to the first rehearsal. All ninth graders in school may become members of the choir this fall.

Personals

John D. Robertson, Douglas avenue, is reported ill. He was former councilman for the town of Lonaconing.

James Harrison, of East Main street, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Miss Janet Marie Bond, daughter of Mrs. Etta Bond, Baltimore, is here.

Miss Betty Lou Dudley left Sunday by plane from Washington, D. C., to return to her duties at Mercy College of Nursing, San Diego, California. Miss Dudley has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ruth Dudley, and her grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Miller, Watercliffe street, Lonaconing. She was accompanied to Washington by her mother, her sister, Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins and daughter, Maxine, Mr. Robert Burkett and caughter, Jean, Cumberland, who will remain in Washington, D. C., for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Howell of Barton announce the birth of a daughter August 30 in the Hodgson clinic. Mrs. Howell is the former Lucy Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. George Loar, Dan's mountain, announce the birth of a caughter in Miners' Hospital, Frostburg, on Thursday, September 5. Mrs. Loar is the former Gladys Ross.

Francis Carrington, physical education instructor at Central, received word of the death of his sister in Waterbury, Conn. He left to attend the funeral.

Gen. Wedemeyer Arrives To Assume New Duties

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer arrived today for a preliminary look around prior to taking over command of the United States Second Army, with headquarters here.

Gen. Wedemeyer, until recently commander of Nanking Headquarters Command in China, will assume his new duties at the end of this month, succeeding Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson, who is retiring.

For two years chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the new Second Army commander described the Chinese Nationalist leader as "a selfless man, and a real christian who wants to help his people."

Speaking at a press conference he said Chiang is still handicapped by a lack of trained administrators and technicians.

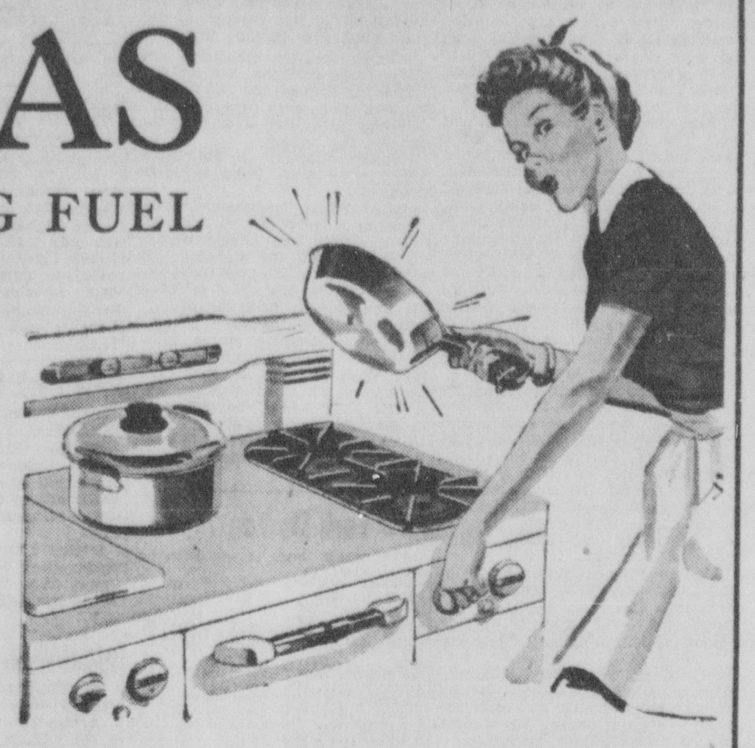
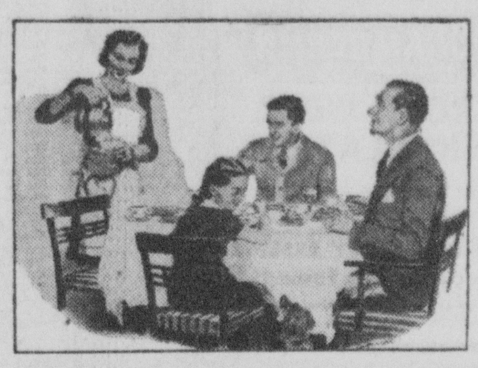
at the Strand Theatre



MISS EDALENE STOHR
noted foods expert of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, who will conduct The Times-News Cooking School at The Strand Theatre, Sept. 10-11-12-13th.

Millions of housewives know that gas is the most economical, most satisfactory cooking fuel. In Cumberland the average housewife cooks with gas for less than a dollar a month . . . and that includes three square meals a day, company, snacks, midnight lunches, everything! And in these days of rising costs, kitchen economy becomes increasingly important. It's great to save money by cooking with Gas.



Food tastes better too if it is cooked with Gas. Perhaps this is why most of America's top chefs use this accurately controllable cooking fuel to prepare tasty dishes and appetizing meals. At the cooking school you will see how easy it is to cook a juicy steak or a tender rost . . . even with less tender cuts . . . if you cook with Gas. Preparing meals becomes a pleasure when you let a new Gas range help do your work.

Bracer Attempt Fails In Market As Another Broad Slump Develops

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — Sporadic attempts to brace the stock market failed today, and another broad slump developed in the final half hour of an erratic session when heavy selling knocked over leaders 1 to 12 points, many to new lows for the past 18 months or longer.

Prices tended to see-saw from the start. The ticker tape was late three times during the proceedings, once in the first hour as prices stiffened, again around noon when a burst of offerings flooded the exchange floor, and in the concluding 30 minutes as early recoveries were erased in most cases and numerous pivotals dived to bottoms of the day. Transfers of 3,300,000 shares compared with 2,830,000 Monday and were among the largest since 1940.

It was the broadest market on record, 1,108 issues registering. Of these, 851 fell and 140 rose.

Dow Chemical dropped 12 points at $158 on 300 shares, Eastman Kodak 7½ at $208.50 on 1,000 shares and International Business Machines 7¼ at $195.25 on 800 shares, confirming the exceptional "thinness" of the list. Bethlehem conceded 6 at $89.50, Sante Fe 5¾ at $88.50, Allied Chemical 5 at $160, Chrysler 4½ at $89.12 and United States Steel 2¾ at $70.25.

Modest advances were retained by Baltimore and Ohio, United States Gypsum, American Smelting, National Steel and American Airlines. Railway bonds tumbled with stocks.

Among curb casualties were Breeze Corp., Cities Service, Brown-Forman Distillers, Crosley Motors, Humble Oil, Standard Cap and Textron. Turnover here was 920,000 shares versus 860,000 yesterday.

A new selling drive crashed through feeble resistance in the bond market today and drove rail obligations on the average to the lowest level since January 1945.

Declines in the industrial and utility divisions were smaller but utilities ran through the 1945 low and the industrials were close behind.

Closing prices wer at or near the lows for the session.

Volume expanded to $10,372,000, largest since April, from $6,900,000 Monday.

United States government issues developed a trend of their own after the Victory Loan Decembers had cracked through 102 Monday. In quiet dealings in the over-the-counter market the Dec. 2½s of '67-72 advanced 4-32 to 101 23-32 bid.

Corporates marked down included American Telephone 3s at 132½, Baltimore & Ohio convertibles at 48½, Alton 3s at 39, St. Paul Convertibles at 57, North Western 4½s at 72¼, Rock Island convertibles at 20 and refunding 4s at 43, and Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s at 65.

Foreign dollar loans declined over a broad front.

Chicago Grain Prices

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Late rallies in the nearby deliveries of wheat and oats carried grain futures well up from the day's low and sent January wheat to 1¾ cents above yesterday's close.

At the start all deliveries reflected the weakness in securities with the exception of September oats, which held about steady with the previous close. Midway through the session buying said to have been short covering in the September oats delivery started and as the rally developed it spread to corn and wheat, especially the January delivery of the flour cereal.

Closing grain futures:

WHEAT—January 1.97½, March 1.89, May 1.85⅝.

OATS—September 77⅝-¾, November 73¼-⅜, December 73-73⅛, March 71⅛-¾.

Bracer Attempt Fails In Market As Another Broad Slump Develops

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — Sporadic attempts to brace the stock market failed today, and another broad slump developed in the final half hour of an erratic session when heavy selling knocked over leaders 1 to 12 points, many to new lows for the past 18 months or longer.

Prices tended to see-saw from the start. The ticker tape was late three times during the proceedings, once in the first hour as prices stiffened, again around noon when a burst of offerings flooded the exchange floor, and in the concluding 30 minutes as early recoveries were erased in most cases and numerous pivotals dived to bottoms of the day. Transfers of 3,300,000 shares compared with 2,820,000 Monday and were among the largest since 1940.

It was the broadest market on record, 1,108 issues registering. Of these, 851 fell and 140 rose.

Dow Chemical dropped 12 points at $158 on 300 shares, Eastman Kodak 7½ at $208.50 on 1,000 shares and International Business Machines 7¼ at $195.25 on 800 shares, confirming the exceptional "thinness" of the list. Bethlehem conceded 6 at $89.50, Sante Fe 5⅞ at $88.50, Allied Chemical 5 at $160, Chrysler 4¼ at $89.12 and United States Steel 2¾ at $70.25.

Modest advances were retained by Baltimore and Ohio, United States Gypsum, American Smelting, National Steel and American Airlines. Railway bonds tumbled with stocks.

Among curb casualties were Breeze Corp., Cities Service, Brown-Forman Distillers, Crosley Motors, Humble Oil, Standard Cap and Textron. Turnover here was 920,000 shares versus 863,000 yesterday.

A new selling drive crashed through feeble resistance in the bond market today and drove rail obligations on the average to the lowest level since January 1945.

Declines in the industrial and utility divisions were smaller but utilities ran through the 1945 low and the industrials were close behind.

Closing prices wer at or near the lows for the session.

Volume expanded to $10,372,000, largest since April, from $6,900,000 Monday.

United States government issues developed a trend of their own after the Victory Loan Decembers had cracked through 102 Monday. In quiet dealings in the over-the-counter market the Dec. 2½s of '67-72 advanced 4-32 to 101 23-32 bid.

Corporates marked down included American Telephone 3s at 132½, Baltimore & Ohio convertibles at 48½, Alton 3s at 39, St. Paul Convertibles at 57, North Western 4½s at 72¼, Rock Island convertibles at 20 and refunding 4s at 43, and Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s at 65.

Foreign dollar loans declined over a broad front.

Chicago Grain Prices

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Late rallies in the nearby deliveries of wheat and oats carried grain futures well up from the day's low and sent January wheat to 1¾ cents above yesterday's close.

At the start all deliveries reflected the weakness in securities with the exception of September oats, which held about steady with the previous close. Midway through the session buying said to have been short covering in the September oats delivery started and as the rally developed it spread to corn and wheat, especially the January delivery of the flour cereal.

Closing grain futures:

WHEAT—January 1.97½, March 1.89, May 1.85¾.

OATS—September 77⅝-¾, November 73¼-⅛, December 73-73⅛, March 71¼-⅜.

CORN — January 1.32-1.32⅛, March 1.30⅝-¾.

BARLEY — November 1.37½, December 1.39, March 1.37½.

Cash grain:

WHEAT—No. 2 red tough 2.03½.

CORN—No. 2 yellow 1.84; No. 3 yellow 1.84; sample grade yellow 1.74.

OATS—No. 1 heavy mixed 79-80 cents; No. 1 mixed 78; No. 3 mixed 76; No. 1 heavy white 79½-80½; No. 1 white 78½-79; No. 2 heavy white 79½; No. 2 white 78½; sample grade white must 75½.

BARLEY—Malting 1.53-1.78; feed 1.16-1.42 (nominal).

Methodist Church In Frostburg Is 75 Years Old

Anniversary Will Be Observed During Week Of October 6

By RUDLOPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Sept. 10—The seventy-fifth anniversary of the dedication of First Methodist Church will be observed by the congregation for one week beginning Sunday, October 6. The opening sermon will be delivered by Rev. J. W. R. Sumwalt, who was pastor of the church from 1901 to 1903, and is now completing his fiftieth year in the ministry at Danville, Ill. The evening sermon will be preached by Rev. William F. Wright, Hagerstown, district superintendent.

October 7 will be observed as community night; October 8, men's night; October 9, former pastor's night, with remarks by Rev. Ralph W. Wott, Baltimore; Rev. J. Luther Neff, Annapolis; Rev. F. Reid Isaac, Baltimore, a member of the Board of Child Care, and Rev. Edgar W. Beckett, Hyattsville; October 10, fellowship banquet sponsored by the W.S.C.S.; October 11, banquet for returned servicemen and women.

On Sunday, October 13, there will be the opening of a drive for funds for a proposed educational building to be dedicated to members of the congregation who served in World War II. The speaker at this meeting will be a former pastor, Rev. Allan F. Poore of Wilson Memorial Church, Washington, D. C. Special music will be furnished during all the services by the combined choirs under direction of Prof. Arthur Thomas.

The Methodist Church was established in Frostburg in 1832 and worshipped in various smaller church structures before the present building was dedicated in 1871, after being erected at a cost of $42,236.62.

The building was described in a booklet issued in 1932 in connection with the observance of the 100th anniversary, as follows:

"The style of the church is decorative Gothic, with a tower in the center of the front, which, with the spire reaches an altitude of 167 feet. The main walls are built of good Cumberland brick. The building is 85 by 52 feet, with a recess in the rear 11 by 21 feet. The masonry was done by James Fuller and the stone cutting by Henry Williams of Frostburg, the whole being under the supervision of J. B. Walton of Cumberland. P. Hanson and Company, of Baltimore, furnished the house and Lankan and Kriger did the frescoing. Frank E. Davis of Baltimore, was the architect."

Harvey's Death Will Be Probed By Authorities

Man Is Found Dead In Bed At Blaine; Had Gash In His Head

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 10 — An inquest, scheduled for today into the death of Melvin Harvey, 37, who was found dead in bed yesterday morning at his home at Blaine, was postponed due to the extensive search by West Virginia officers for Mark McCauley wanted for the slaying of Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter, Parsons, and Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, of the West Sirginia State Police.

According to Mineral County authorities, Harvey was found dead in bed, when a friend entered the home yesterday morning. Sheriff James A. Dixon, of Mineral County, said a laceration was found on the back of Harvey's head.

Officers said Harvey's father, L. C. Harvey, was asleep in bed with his dead son when the body was discovered. Melvin Harvey had gone to bed in an intoxicated condition, Sheriff Dixon said he was told. It was believed that the cut on his head, resulted from a fall down the steps of his home Saturday evening, according to his father.

Dr. Ralph Calendrella, of Kitzmiller, said Harvey had been dead about 12 hours when the body was discovered. Dr. Thad Huffman will conduct another examination, Sheriff Dixon said.

The body is at the Sharpless Funeral Home in Blaine where services are scheduled to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Nethkin Hill church with burial in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

A son of Leumel Carl Harvey, of Shaw, and the late Susan Rebecca Paugh Harvey, in addition to his father he is survived by a brother, Robert Harvey, Bayard, W. Va., and three sisters, Mrs. Avis Moreland and Mrs. Margaret Henwood, Morgantown, W. Va., and Mrs. Mildred Sharpless, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Three Held on Bond

Three men charged with felonies appeared before George C. Ludwig, justice of the peace, and after pleading not guilty each waived a hearing and were held under $500 bond for action of the Mineral County Grand Judy which meets October 15. They are John C. Shannon, charged with theft of an automobile from C. S. Bosley sometime in August; George Moomau, charged with assault upon John E. Rowe and John G. Willison, charged with assault upon his brother, Oscar Willison.

Reunion Is Held

Methodist Church In Frostburg Is 75 Years Old

Anniversary Will Be Observed During Week Of October 6

By RUDLOPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Sept. 10—The seventy-fifth anniversary of the dedication of First Methodist Church will be observed by the congregation for one week beginning Sunday, October 6. The opening sermon will be delivered by Rev. J. W. R. Sumwalt, who was pastor of the church from 1901 to 1903, and is now completing his fiftieth year in the ministry at Danville, Ill. The evening sermon will be preached by Rev. William F. Wright, Hagerstown, district superintendent.

October 7 will be observed as community night; October 8, men's night; October 9, former pastor's night, with remarks by Rev. Ralph W. Wott, Baltimore; Rev. J. Luther Neff, Annapolis; Rev. F. Reid Isaac, Baltimore, a member of the Board of Child Care, and Rev. Edgar W. Beckett, Hyattsville; October 10, fellowship banquet sponsored by the W.S.C.S.; October 11, banquet for returned servicemen and women.

On Sunday, October 13, there will be the opening of a drive for funds for a proposed educational building to be dedicated to members of the congregation who served in World War II. The speaker at this meeting will be a former pastor, Rev. Allan F. Poore of Wilson Memorial Church, Washington, D. C. Special music will be furnished during all the services by the combined choirs under direction of Prof. Arthur Thomas.

The Methodist Church was established in Frostburg in 1832 and worshipped in various smaller church structures before the present building was dedicated in 1871, after being erected at a cost of $42,236.62.

The building was described in a booklet issued in 1932 in connection with the observance of the 100th anniversary, as follows:

"The style of the church is decorative Gothic, with a tower in the center of the front, which, with the spire reaches an altitude of 167 feet. The main walls are built of good Cumberland brick. The building is 85 by 52 feet, with a recess in the rear 11 by 21 feet. The masonry was done by James Fuller and the stone cutting by Henry Williams of Frostburg, the whole being under the supervision of J. B. Walton of Cumberland. P. Hanson and Company, of Baltimore, furnished the house and Lankan and Kriger did the frescoing. Frank E. Davis of Baltimore, was the architect."

Harvey's Death Will Be Probed By Authorities

Man Is Found Dead In Bed At Blaine; Had Gash In His Head

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 10 — An inquest, scheduled for today into the death of Melvin Harvey, 37, who was found dead in bed yesterday morning at his home at Blaine, was postponed due to the extensive search by West Virginia officers for Mark McCauley wanted for the slaying of Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter, Parsons, and Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, of the West Sirginia State Police.

According to Mineral County authorities, Harvey was found dead in bed, when a friend entered the home yesterday morning. Sheriff James A. Dixon, of Mineral County, said a laceration was found on the back of Harvey's head.

Officers said Harvey's father, L. C. Harvey, was asleep in bed with his dead son when the body was discovered. Melvin Harvey had gone to bed in an intoxicated condition, Sheriff Dixon said he was told. It was believed that the cut on his head, resulted from a fall down the steps of his home Saturday evening, according to his father.

Dr. Ralph Calendrella, of Kitzmiller, said Harvey had been dead about 12 hours when the body was discovered. Dr. Thad Huffman will conduct another examination, Sheriff Dixon said.

The body is at the Sharpless Funeral Home in Blaine where services are scheduled to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Nethkin Hill church with burial in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

A son of Leumel Carl Harvey, of Shaw, and the late Susan Rebecca Paugh Harvey, in addition to his father he is survived by a brother, Robert Harvey, Bayard, W. Va., and three sisters, Mrs. Avis Moreland and Mrs. Margaret Henwood, Morgantown, W. Va., and Mrs. Mildred Sharpless, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Three Held on Bond

Three men charged with felonies appeared before George C. Ludwig, justice of the peace, and after pleading not guilty each waived a hearing and were held under $500 bond for action of the Mineral County Grand Judy which meets October 15. They are John C. Shannon, charged with theft of an automobile from C. S. Bosley sometime in August; George Moomau, charged with assault upon John E. Rowe and John G. Willison, charged with assault upon his brother, Oscar Willison.

Reunion Is Held

The eighth annual reunion of the Joseph McDowell family was held Sunday at the old homestead, 180 attending. A brief program was held in the forenoon with Rev. W. E. Thomas, Cresaptown, as the chief speaker, George Thomas McDowell, president of the group, presided.

Tables for the entire group were placed on the lawn and a picnic dinner was served.

Interspersed through the program and throughout the day was singing of sacred and folk songs by members of the group. There were special numbers by a select group. At the business session the following officers were elected: George Thomas McDowell, president; Carl McDowell, vice president; Mrs. Louise Cannon, secretary; Mrs. Tirza Grove, treasurer; Luke McDowell, historian and Lowell R. Rogers, program committee chairman.

Mrs. Nellie Roberts who will be 87, November 1, was the oldest member present. The two-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDowell, Bowling Green, was the youngest member there.

10 Arrests Made

City police officers made 10 arrests over the weekend: S. Folk was fined $10 for drunkenness; W. L. Lloyd fined $10 for drunkenness; Howard Dawson was arrested on a state warrant and placed in jail. C. A. Parsons, Terra Alta, fined $20 for being drunk and disorderly; Norman Evans, Headville, traffic violation, will appear for hearing; J. W. Mason, $10 bond to appear on drunk and disorderly conduct charge; Arthur Sloan Wolford, to appear for traffic violation; Frank Emmart, Cumberland, to appear on a traffic violation; Arthur Washington, Piedmont, to appear on a traffic violation, Melvin Saville, permitting unlicensed operator to drive his car, to appear for hearing.

Enrollment Remains Same

A tabulation of the enrollment of Mineral County schools released today by Haven L. Idleman, county superintendent of schools shows little change from the preliminary report of last year. Total enrollment this year 4,413, and for last year it was 4,418. Burlington elementary school, Miss Bernie Judy, principal, shows an increase or 30 over last year; in other schools the variation from last year is slight.

In Keyser High School; the enrollment is 710 as against 717 last year; Keyser elementary school 758 this year against 753 last year. Total in Keyser this year 1,468; last year 1,470.

Benjamin Rotruck Dies In Keyser At Age Of 67

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 10—Benjamin Andrew Rotruck, 67, died Monday night at his home on Maryland avenue, from a paralytic stroke suffered a week ago. He was a carpenter.

A native of Grant County, he was the son of the late Samuel and Nancy Harris Rotruck. His first wife, Miss Maude Berg, died in 1913. He later married Miss Ura Tyler.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four children, Tyler Rotruck, Chicago; Dorsey Rotruck, Johnstown; Mrs. Madalyn Westby, Chicago; and Mrs. Elizabeth Brummage, Keyser; three brothers, Jackson, Frank and Amby Rotruck, and two sisters, Miss Addie and Mrs. Anna Rotruck, all of Keyser. He also had four grandchildren.

Mr. Rotruck was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Boyce-Houser Post, American Legion. He was also a member of the Church of the Brethren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 11 a. m. in the Church of the Brethren. Rev. A. R. Showalter, pastor will officiate, assisted by Rev O. H. Dorsey of the First Methodist Church. Interment will be in Queens Point Cemetery with military honors.

Streets-Spencer Wedding

Miss Olive Streets and Melvin Spencer were married in First Methodist Church, Saturday morning. Rev. Owen H. Dorsey, pastor, performed the ceremony using the double ring service. Only members of the immediate famililes were present.

Mrs. William Roby sister of the bride was matron of honor, and Mr. Roby served as best man.

The bride wore a light blue wool dress and a corsage of bride's roses. Mrs. Roby wore an aqua blue dress and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Spencer, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Streets, Hartmonsville, is a graduate of Elk Garden High School and Potomac State School. For several years she has been financial secretary in the Mineral County Board of Education office.

Spencer is a World War II veteran, having served 22 months in the European theater. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Spencer, Reeses Mill.

The couple are on a wedding tour through New York and other eastern states. They will visit Niagara Falls and other points in Canada. Upon their return they will live on Mozelle street.

Miss Snyder Married

Miss Eula Mae Snyder and Oliver Leatherman were married in Grace Methodist Church, Monday, with Rev. Harry S. Myerly, pastor, officiating.

The bride wore a blue street length dress with black accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Snyder brother and sister-in-law of the bride were their attendants. Mrs. Snyder wore a gold suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Leatherman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy N. Snyder of Headsville and has been employed as cashier at the local A. & P. super market. Leatherman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Leatherman, Headsville, and is employed in the Baltimore and Ohio shops in Keyser.

Upon their return from a wedding trip through the New England states and Canada the couple will live at 67 South Water street.

Births Announced

Births in Potomac Valley hospital are as follows—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Orace McCormack, Barton; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Ezra George, Keyser; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garfield, Luke; and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Halterman, Westernport.

Others admitted to the hospital are Miss Martha Lee Rotruck, Mrs. Elizabeth Endler and William Henry Moreland, Keyser; Lewis Fallon, McCoole, and James W. Gribble, Elk Garden.

A son Richard Elwood, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Iser at their home, Waxler road, Sunday.

Matilda Hutzel Wed In Grantsville To O. M. Broadwater

By MRS. EVA B. BEACHY

GRANTSVILLE, Sept. 10 — The marriage of Miss Matilda Jane Hutzel, daughter of Mrs. Martha Hutzel Glesner, Meyersdale, to Oston Michael Broadwater, son of Mrs. J. B. Hummell, Meyersdale, has been announced. The ceremony was performed in St. John's Evangelical Reformed Church, Grantsville, Sunday, with Rev. George K. Ely, officiating.

Mrs. Helen Weber was her sister's only attendant. John Coburn, Lonaconing, served as best man.

The bride wore a blue suit and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the National Hotel, Grantsville.

The bridegroom is a veteran of World War II. He is in business with his step father, J. B. Hummell, who owns and operates a store in Meyersdale.

Following their wedding trip the couple will live in Meyersdale.

Broderick-Durst Wedding

Miss Ethel S. Broderick, Frostburg and Waynes Henderson Durst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Durst, Grantsville, were married August 25 in the rectory of St. Katherine's Church, Baltimore. Rev. P. Scarff officiated.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown and a veil trimmed with lace and fastened to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a single white orchid on a prayer book.

Miss Ann D. Kerdock, Mt. Carmel, Pa., was maid of honor and wore a pink crepe gown and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of roses.

The bride and groom are graduates of Grantsville High School and have been employed in Baltimore where they will live.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10—Hearty congratulations to Richard Sales. He's just sold his murder mystery, "Benefit Performance," to 20th Century-Fox for Rex Harrison. I am particularly interested, because in the book, Dick has his hero call me with the exclusive story of "Who-Dun-It." That's as it should be, Dick. Mary Anita Loos, who one day will be Mrs. Sales, sent the mystery to Rex Harrison to read, and it was he who persuaded 20th to buy a story in which Rex can play the same type role he did in "Night Train." Remember how good he was?

While I am on the subject, Walter Morosco will produce, and very nice for him, because Rex is a tip-top star since "Anna and the King of Siam."

Alan Ladd's wild eyed fans, and believe me they are wild about him, have been campaigning for him to do more lovin' on the screen so Paramount is going to attend to that little matter pronto. Henry Ginsberg has put James Heneghan and John Leman to work whipping up an original titled "Saigon" with more romance in it than a Tony Martin torch song. It's a yarn of adventure, intrigue and love, love, love in the Far East with Alan heating things up as far as the Johnston office permits.

I don't know whether David Selznick puts Lionel Barrymore in his pictures because he feels he is good luck for him or because he just realizes what a swell actor Lionel is. But I do know that there's seldom a Selznick picture made without Lionel. His next assignment is in "Little Women." He'll play Mr. March, the father of the four March girls, otherwise known as Jennifer Jones, Diana Lynn, Shirley Temple, and Bambi Linn. I want to take this occasion to thank Lionel, who is an old and dear friend. When I was ill, no one inquired about me more often or sent me more encouraging messages. Another friend, Mervyn Le Roy, is directing.

The pride in Nicholas Schenck's eye when he talks about his three daughters is something to see. He was telling us about his seventeen-year-old Martha—her friends call her Marty, which is very cute. He had promised her a trip to the coast this time, but he said he was going to be so tied up he thought she'd better wait for another time. So to console her, he gave her a beautiful new car. She's seriously interested in a stage career, but she goes back to school despite her great desire to be an actress. The thing I like about Pansy and Nick most, is the way they treat their children. They are not only parents, but they're friends as well.

Chatter in Hollywood: Al Matheis, Steve Crane's restaurant partner in Lucey's, is a very unhappy citizen. That deal between them that the one who gets married first has to pay the other $10,000 is no longer funny to Matheis who is but maaad about Cleo Moore and wants to marry her. He's offered to settle for $5,000 with Steve who will have no part of it. And that isn't all the bad luck dogging Matheis and his girl friend. The night after Lucey's was robbed of several thousand dollars, Cleo's purse containing $3,000 worth of jewelry was stolen. Sometimes things go like that—and then get worse.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Ruth Selwyn stops at her ranch near Palm Springs this week enroute to Reno. She goes to divorce her actor husband, John Warburton. . . . Jimmy Stewart has been paying Peggy Cummins quite a lot of attention. . . . Margaret O'Brien was so heartbroken when Joe Pasternak arranged to have a double do her long shots after she broke her toe, that Joe couldn't break her heart—he waited for Margaret. . . . Gus Schirmer, music publisher, who was Gloria Swanson's heartbeat for so long, is expected to marry Boots Youman, once the wife of the late song composer. . . . Kay Kendall, English stage beauty who made her movie debut in Wesley Ruggles' "London Town," is coming to Hollywood with him and Mrs. Ruggles . . . The happiest girl at Del Mar last week was Betty Grable. She and Harry James have been given 10 extra days at Del Mar on their vacation and how they love the horses . . . Barbara Stanwyck and Bob Taylor knocked the diners at the Beverly Hills Club for a loop when they came in wearing identical suits with red carnations in the lapels . . . John Ford's pretty daughter, Barbara, goes to Ireland with her parents when John goes there to make a picture. She's been suffering from a mysterious fever and her father believes a change of climate may help her. . . . June Allyson and Dick Powell head for New York the last of this month, and it wouldn't surprise me if Junie gets classified as one of our best dressed women—she's become that dressy . . . Poor Gus Schilling, the character comedian, has been so dangerously ill with hives that he's been taken to the hospital . . . you can bet Gayle Hoffstad who won the state of Iowa's contest for the song "Sioux City Sue" is heading for Hollywood. She'll be tested by Republic. That's all today.

Paper became available to the western world in the eighth century and the Chinese are credited with using it 1,000 years before that.

Cards Hold 2-Game Edge By Defeating Phils, 4-1

30,085 See Redbirds Pound Blix Donnelly While Harry Brecheen Tosses Six-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10 (AP) — The pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals opened their final eastern trip of the season tonight with a 4 to 1 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. The victory gave the Cards a two-game edge over the pursuing Brooklyn Dodgers.

A crowd of 30,085 watched the Cards decide the game in the opening innings.

Behind Harry Brecheen's six-hit pitching the Redbirds rapped their former teammate, Blix Donnelly, for four hits and three runs in the first. Red Schoendienst singled to center, took third on Harry Walker's single to right and scored on Stan Musial's fly to left. Enos Slaughter forced Walker at second but Whitey Kurowski tripled to right, sending Slaughter across. Kurowski tallied on Dick Sisler's single.

The Cards added a final run in the eighth on a walk, a single and a sacrifice.

Donnelly scored the only Phil run in the third. He singled, went to second on Skeeter Newsome's one-bagger and scored on Charley Gilbert's single.

The victory enabled the Cards to retain a two-game lead over the Dodgers, whose 8-0 victory over Cincinnati earlier in the day brought them temporarily to within one and one-half games of the National League leaders. Box:

DODGERS BLANK REDS

BROOKLYN, Sept. 10 (AP) — Behind the three-hit pitching of Rube Melton and a ten-hit attack on four Cincinnati hurlers, the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Reds, 8-0 today for their sixth straight victory.

The win also temporarily reduced the first-place National League margin of the St. Louis Cardinals, who are slated to clash with the Philadelphia Phillies under the lights at Philadelphia tonight, to a game and a half.

Brooklyn sewed up the game in the initial inning, jumping on starter Ed Heusser for three runs with Ed' Stevens knocking in all three tallies by doubling with the sacks jammed.

Edwards led the Dodgers' ten-hit assault with two singles and a double, while Galan and Stanky chipped in with two blows apiece. Box:

SAIN WINS FOR BRAVES

BOSTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — The Boston Braves today climbed within three and a half games of third place Chicago by defeating the Cubs 10-2 behind Johnny Sain, who outlasted five Chicago pitchers for his 17th victory.

The Braves went right to town at the expense of Hank Borowy in the second when they combined three hits and two walks for three runs.

The Tribe added four more in the third off Bob Chipman and Russ Bauers on three singles, two walks and a flyout.

The Cubs picked up their first run in the second and added the other in the fourth. The Braves added two in the fifth and notched their last run in the sixth. Box:

PIRATES WIN, 7 TO 4

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Pittsburgh opened its last eastern trip of the season tonight with a 7-4 victory over New York that dropped the Giants to within four percentage points of the last place Pirates.

Al Gerheauser hurled two-hit ball after coming to the relief of Rip Sewell who had been knocked out of the box by Johnny Rucker's second inning homer.

Bob Elliott drove in three of the Pirates runs off Ken Trinkle, who absorbed his 13th loss while Gerheauser was picking up his second win of the year. Box:

Detroit Wallops Boston And Takes Runner-Up Spot

Needing Win To Clinch Flag, Red Sox Are Stalled Again 9-1

DETROIT, Sept. 10 (AP)—The runaway Boston Red Sox, needing only one victory over the Detroit Tigers to clinch the American League flag, were stalled again today as the Tigers handed them their fourth straight licking, 9 to 1.

Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning off Mickey Harris sent the Tigers off to a flying start and they coasted in back of Freddie Hutchinson's seven-hit pitching to grab second place from the New York Yankees, who lost at Cleveland. Box:

YANKS ARE ELIMINATED

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—Steve Gromek and the Cleveland Indians eliminated the New York Yankees from the American league pennant race today by defeating the New Yorkers, 4-2.

The loss brought the Yanks' season won-and-lost record to 79 and 59 with 16 games left to play, while the league leading Red Sox sport a 96-and-44 mark with 14 games left to play. Only the Detroit Tigers, who beat the Sox today and advanced over the Yanks into second place remain in the running for the flag. The Tigers have a 77 and 57 record and 20 contests left. Box:

BROWNS HUMBLE A's

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, still hoping to top the American League second division, bunched three singles, a walk and an infield out for two runs in the seventh inning tonight to break a 1-1 tie and went on to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 1.

Two more Brownie tallies were chalked up in the eighth, one when Catcher Lester Moss was hit by Relief Pitcher Russ Christopher after he had loaded the bases with walks and another on Pitcher Cliff Fannin's infield hit.

The only marker off Fannin, who struck out five and kept eight blows scattered, came in the sixth on Gene Handley's bunt, an infield out and Barney McCosky's single. Score:

Legion Plans To Stage Boxing Show October 7

Fort Cumberland Post Donates $100 To Set Up Training Quarters For Simon Pures

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, last night approved an appropriation of $100 to set up training quarters for amateur boxers during the 1946-47 indoor season and announced that an application for a sanction to hold a show at the state armory Monday, October 7 will be filed immediately with the South Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Baltimore.

Robert V. "Sparky" Chisholm, matchmaker for Legion boxing shows, stated that the Legion athletic committee is hopeful of obtaining the Central YMCA gymnasium for training quarters for the simon pures. If the "Y" is obtained training classes will be conducted on two or three evenings a week in advance of each show. The training classes will be in charge of Garford "Red" Albright, former navy boxer, and Chisholm.

Chisholm stressed that the classes will be open to all boys desiring to learn boxing and those who enter will not be compelled to appear in shows.

Discussing plans for his initial program of the season next month, Chisholm stated that four representatives of the Zan Athletic Club, of Morgantown, W. Va., will be sought for top spots on the card. Efforts will be made to match the Klosterman Brothers against worthy opponents and bouts between "Skeets" Starkey and Pat Murphy and Bobby Fuller and Bobby Goss will likely be made for the season's opening punchfest.

Fort Cumberland Post promoted five shows here last year. The season opened with a tournament, Oct. 29-30, followed by shows December 2, January 14 and February 18 and climaxed by a tourney April 1, 8 and 15. Seventy-eight bouts were presented.

New York Will Retain Boxing Weight Limits

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said today the commisson would take no cognizance of the plan to change the poundage limits for fistic weight division, as approved by the National Boxing Association at its convention in Cleveland.

"The weight limits are set by our rules and regulations," he pointed out. "They have proved satisfactory by tradition down through the years. I hear the NBA will notify us officially of the planned change. Well, that's fine. We get notices from boxing bodies all over the world."

"Shorty" McWilliams's Resignation Accepted

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 10, (AP) —The War Department has accepted Thomas E. (Shorty) McWilliams's resignation from the corps of cadets at the U. S. Military Academy, the public relations officer at the Point announced today.

The officer, Col. Ned D. Moore, said the resignation of the Meridian, Miss., halfback was acepted by Washington upon the recommendation of Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the Academy.

Wojcihovski To Coach At Mt. St. Joseph

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10, (AP) — Victor Wojcihovski, former football star at Notre Dame, was signed today for a three-year contract to coach at Mount St. Joseph School.

Wojcihovski, who also will coach basketball and track, succeeds Ben Sheridan, resigned.

The new Gael mentor played right halfback for Elmer Layden's Irish teams in 1935 and 1936.

FOURTH GAME OF CITY SOFTBALL SERIES IS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

The fourth game of the City Softball League's championship series between Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, and the North End Social and Athletic Club is scheduled for today at 5:20 o'clock at Community Park.

The Legion holds a 2-1 edge in the series, having won the first and third games, 12-10 and 3-1. North End took the second, 9-2.

A victory for the Legion today would give Manager Curtis Hickie's outfit the title. If North End wins the series will go the limit of five games.

Franklin To Face Tough Schedule

Pendleton County Team Will Play Nine Grid Games

FRANKLIN, W. Va., Sept. 10.—Franklin High School's Panthers under direction of Coach Dana Propst will face one of the toughest football schedules in the history of the local school during the 1946 campaign.

The Panthers are listed to play nine games, five at home and four away, with the opener set for Friday, September 20 with the Blue Streaks at Harrisonburg, Va.

Propst has nine of last year's regulars back in the fold, together with some returning veterans.

Among the local boys to report for drills were Johnny Sites, 160-pound halfback of last year's team, Bruce Mowery, former sailor and member of the Panthers' 1944 eleven. Mowery, along with Jones, 1945 regular, will hold down guard positions. Also out for drills are Rembert Shobe and Stanley Spaulding, end and back. Both were starters last year. The complete schedule:

Sept. 20—Harrisonburg, away.
Sept. 27—Thomas, home.
Oct. 4—Romney, home.
Oct. 11—Greenbank, away.
Oct. 18—Petersburg, away.
Oct. 25—Moorefield, home.
Nov. 1—Fort Ashby, home.
Nov. 8—Keyser, home.
Nov. 15—Ridgeley, away.

Owens Is New Coach At Petersburg High

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 10—Walter Owens, former Fairmont State College football player, is the new coach of athletics at Petersburg High School.

Owens was active in athletics at Washington-Irving High School, Clarksburg, and played three seasons of football at Fairmont State, being named West Virginia all-conference guard for two years. He is an ex-serviceman, having spent two and one half years overseas.

Thomas To Open 5-Game Schedule With Moorefield

Manpower Shortage Hits Thomas Squad; Opener Set For Friday

THOMAS, W. Va., Sept. 10.—Lack of manpower has forced Thomas high school to limit its football schedule to five games for the 1946 season, according to Coach Emil F. Suder.

"We simply do not have the manpower to play too many games," Suder declared. "However, we would like to book one more game to be played at home or perhaps one away."

Suder hints that his team may be in for a tough season due to the fact that only 11 or 12 boys on his squad have had any experience. Only four have any weight and the rest are light. The squad got away to a late start because school was a week late in opening.

The Thomas mentor said he has no idea what his team will show against Moorefield's Yellow Jackets, who are to open the season here Friday at 2:30 o'clock, as his squad will be fortunate to have one scrimmage before game time and he can't take chances on injuries.

Thomas's schedule is as follows:

Sept. 13—Moorefield, home.
Sept. 20—Petersburg, away.
Sept. 27—Franklin, away.
Oct. 4—Keyser, away.
Oct. 11—Parsons, away.
Oct. 18—Open.
Oct. 25—Open.

The following boys are out:

SPRING GROVE WINS ALL-AMERICAN TITLE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10, (AP) —Spring Grove won the 1946 All-American amateur baseball championship today by turning back Naiman Photo of Washington, D. C., 4 to 2 at nearby New Cumberland.

The rivals finished the regular tournament schedule deadlocked for first place, and a playoff was necessary for the title on an out-of-town field, since Harrisburg's Interstate League club was using the island field.

Spring Grove jumped into the lead in the second inning when Rolf, Haslup, and Hynes all crossed the plate. The Maryland State Champions bunched three of their seven hits in the third, and took advantage of a couple of Washington misplays to clinch the ball game.

Lagos connected for a triple in the sixth to score Kaufman with the first Washington run, and the second tally for the Naiman club came over in the eighth. Despite an array of pinch-hitters in the ninth Neville held his lead and gained a well deserved victory.

Mahoney Reports Horses Stimulated At Timonium

Gay Victory, Char Foot And Wilton Scratched After Given Pre-Race Savila Tests

TIMONIUM, Md., Sept. 10—(AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission said three additional cases of horse stimulation were detected at Timonium in prerace tests today.

Mahoney said the horses involved were withdrawn from the races in which they had been entered.

The racing commission chairman's announcement came shortly after it was disclosed that Edmund P. Coffey, former FBI man recently named an agent for the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, was at the half-mile oval to assist track stewards and the commission in an investigation of racing at the track.

Mahoney said he was "baffled" by the situation.

He said that the three horses scratched today after prerace saliva tests were Wilton, a scheduled starter in the second; Gay Victory in the fourth and Char Foot in the sixth.

The tests were made at the request of the handlers of the horses subsequently scratched, he said, adding:

"It is a commendable thing that owners, trainers and others responsible for the horses are asking for the prerace tests if they feel their thoroughbreds may have been stimulated.

"We are doing all in our power to get to the bottom of this situation."

He said the commission would aid owners and trainers to protect themselves and their horses.

Coffey arrived after the commission temporarily suspended a woman trainer on finding one of her horses had been drugged. Track stewards said they had detected the doping of another horse and said they were investigating "suspicious" circumstances in the scratching of two others from the sixth race at Timonium Monday.

Temporarily suspended was Mrs. George Saportas, Monkton, Md., owner-trainer.

George P. Mahoney, chairman of the racing commission, said it was a "routine action" after the track veterinarian found evidence that one of her horses, Miss Prime, had been stimulated before a race on the opening card at Timonium September 2.

Track stewards refused to comment on the scratching of two horses yesterday except to say it was due to "suspicious circumstances." They were N. S. Scava's Beau Wynn and Mrs. J. G. Needy's Paula Grier.

Louis Pascal, Jr., trainer of W. C. Ensor's Mary Morse, formerly trained by Mrs. Saportas, said he scratched his entry because "I don't want any part of a doping case."

Century Tossers Defeat VFW, 9-2

FROSTBURG, Sept. 10 — The Century Athletic Club earned a spot in the final playoff series for the championship of the Frostburg Softball League by defeating the Veterans of Foreign Wars today by the score of 9 to 2. It was the third and deciding game of the series between the teams.

Jack Wilhelm limited the Vets to three singles while his mates gathered 13, including a double and homer each for Jackson and Reidler and a double and triple by Densmore. Paul "Stoney" Jackson starred afield for the winners.

The Eckhart-Aristocrats best-of-three-games series is scheduled to open Wednesday at 5:30 o'clock at State Teachers' College field. The winner of this series will play Century A.C. in the championship series. Box:

Beauty Will Preside At Bison-Yanks Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Marilyn Buferd of Los Angeles, named Miss America of 1946 last Saturday, will preside at the pre-game ceremonies of the New York Yankees-Buffalo Bison game, Gotham debut of the All-America Football Conference Saturday.

The Yankees, who trained on the west coast, arrived here tonight after their plane was held up more than 24 hours by weather conditions.

Cards Hold 2-Game Edge By Defeating Phils, 4-1

30,085 See Redbirds Pound Blix Donnelly While Harry Brecheen Tosses Six-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10 (AP) — The pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals opened their final eastern trip of the season tonight with a 4 to 1 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. The victory gave the Cards a two-game edge over the pursuing Brooklyn Dodgers.

A crowd of 30,085 watched the Cards decide the game in the opening innings.

Behind Harry Brecheen's six-hit pitching the Redbirds rapped their former teammate, Blix Donnelly, for four hits and three runs in the first. Red Schoendienst singled to center, took third on Harry Walker's single to right and scored on Stan Musial's fly to left. Enos Slaughter forced Walker at second but Whitey Kurowski tripled to right, sending Slaughter across. Kurowski tallied on Dick Sisler's single.

The Cards added a final run in the eighth on a walk, a single and a sacrifice.

Donnelly scored the only Phil run in the third. He singled, went to second on Skeeter Newsome's one-bagger and scored on Charley Gilbert's single.

The victory enabled the Cards to retain a two-game lead over the Dodgers, whose 8-0 victory over Cincinnati earlier in the day brought them temporarily to within one and one-half games of the National League leaders. Box:

DODGERS BLANK REDS

BROOKLYN, Sept. 10 (AP) — Behind the three-hit pitching of Rube Melton and a ten-hit attack on four Cincinnati hurlers, the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Reds, 8-0 today for their sixth straight victory.

The win also temporarily reduced the first-place National League margin of the St. Louis Cardinals, who are slated to clash with the Philadelphia Phillies under the lights at Philadelphia tonight, to a game and a half.

Brooklyn sewed up the game in the initial inning, jumping on starter Ed Heusser for three runs with Ed Stevens knocking in all three tallies by doubling with the sacks jammed.

Edwards led the Dodgers' ten-hit assault with two singles and a double, while Galan and Stanky chipped in with two blows apiece. Box:

SAIN WINS FOR BRAVES

BOSTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — The Boston Braves today climbed within three and a half games of third place Chicago by defeating the Cubs 10-2 behind Johnny Sain, who outlasted five Chicago pitchers for his 17th victory.

The Braves went right to town at the expense of Hank Borowy in the second when they combined three hits and two walks for three runs.

The Tribe added four more in the third off Bob Chipman and Russ Bauers on three singles, two walks and a flyout.

The Cubs picked up their first run in the second and added the other in the fourth. The Braves added two in the fifth and notched their last run in the sixth. Box:

PIRATES WIN, 7 TO 4

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Pittsburgh opened its last eastern trip of the season tonight with a 7-4 victory over New York that dropped the Giants to within four percentage points of the last place Pirates.

Al Gerheauser hurled two-hit ball after coming to the relief of Rip Sewell who had been knocked out of the box by Johnny Rucker's second inning homer.

Bob Elliott drove in three of the Pirates runs off Ken Trinkle, who absorbed his 13th loss while Gerheauser was picking up his second win of the year. Box:

Detroit Wallops Boston And Takes Runner-Up Spot

Needing Win To Clinch Flag, Red Sox Are Stalled Again 9-1

DETROIT, Sept. 10 (AP)—The runaway Boston Red Sox, needing only one victory over the Detroit Tigers to clinch the American League flag, were stalled again today as the Tigers handed them their fourth straight licking, 9 to 1.

Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning off Mickey Harris sent the Tigers off to a flying start and they coasted in back of Freddie Hutchinson's seven-hit pitching to grab second place from the New York Yankees, who lost at Cleveland. Box:

YANKS ARE ELIMINATED

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—Steve Gromek and the Cleveland Indians eliminated the New York Yankees from the American league pennant race today by defeating the New Yorkers, 4-2.

The loss brought the Yanks' season won-and-lost record to 79 and 59 with 16 games left to play, while the league leading Red Sox sport a 96-and-44 mark with 14 games left to play. Only the Detroit Tigers, who beat the Sox today and advanced over the Yanks into second place remain in the running for the flag. The Tigers have a 77 and 57 record and 20 contests left. Box:

BROWNS HUMBLE A's

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, still hoping to top the American League second division, bunched three singles, a walk and an infield out for two runs in the seventh inning tonight to break a 1-1 tie and went on to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 1.

Two more Brownie tallies were chalked up in the eighth, one when Catcher Lester Moss was hit by Relief Pitcher Russ Christopher after he had loaded the bases with walks and another on Pitcher Cliff Fannin's infield hit.

The only marker off Fannin, who struck out five and kept eight blows scattered, came in the sixth on Gene Handley's bunt, an infield out and Barney McCosky's single. Score:

Legion Plans To Stage Boxing Show October 7

Fort Cumberland Post Donates $100 To Set Up Training Quarters For Simon Pures

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, last night approved an appropriation of $100 to set up training quarters for amateur boxers during the 1946-47 indoor season and announced that an application for a sanction to hold a show at the state armory Monday, October 7 will be filed immediately with the South Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Baltimore.

Robert V. "Sparky" Chisholm, matchmaker for Legion boxing shows, stated that the Legion athletic committee is hopeful of obtaining the Central YMCA gymnasium for training quarters for the simon pures. If the "Y" is obtained training classes will be conducted on two or three evenings a week in advance of each show. The training classes will be in charge of Garford "Red" Albright, former navy boxer, and Chisholm.

Chisholm stressed that the classes will be open to all boys desiring to learn boxing and those who enter will not be compelled to appear in shows.

Discussing plans for his initial program of the season next month, Chisholm stated that four representatives of the Zan Athletic Club, of Morgantown, W. Va., will be sought for top spots on the card. Efforts will be made to match the Klosterman Brothers against worthy opponents and bouts between "Skeets" Starkey and Pat Murphy and Bobby Fuller and Bobby Goss will likely be made for the season's opening punchfest.

Fort Cumberland Post promoted five shows here last year. The season opened with a tournament, Oct. 29-30, followed by shows December 2, January 14 and February 18 and climaxed by a tourney April 1, 8 and 15. Seventy-eight bouts were presented.

New York Will Retain Boxing Weight Limits

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said today the commisson would take no cognizance of the plan to change the poundage limits for fistic weight division, as approved by the National Boxing Association at its convention in Cleveland.

"The weight limits are set by our rules and regulations," he pointed out. "They have proved satisfactory by tradition down through the years. I hear the NBA will notify us officially of the planned change. Well, that's fine. We get notices from boxing bodies all over the world."

"Shorty" McWilliams's Resignation Accepted

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 10, (AP) —The War Department has accepted Thomas E. (Shorty) McWilliams's resignation from the corps of cadets at the U. S. Military Academy, the public relations officer at the Point announced today.

The officer, Col. Ned D. Moore, said the resignation of the Meridian, Miss., halfback was acepted by Washington upon the recommendation of Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the Academy.

Wojcihovski To Coach At Mt. St. Joseph

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10, (AP) — Victor Wojcihovski, former football star at Notre Dame, was signed today for a three-year contract to coach at Mount St. Joseph School.

Wojcihovski, who also will coach basketball and track, succeeds Ben Sheridan, resigned.

The new Gael mentor played right halfback for Elmer Layden's Irish teams in 1935 and 1936.

FOURTH GAME OF CITY SOFTBALL SERIES IS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

The fourth game of the City Softball League's championship series between Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, and the North End Social and Athletic Club is scheduled for today at 5:20 o'clock at Community Park.

The Legion holds a 2-1 edge in the series, having won the first and third games, 12-10 and 3-1. North End took the second, 9-2.

A victory for the Legion today would give Manager Curtis Hickie's outfit the title. If North End wins the series will go the limit of five games.

Franklin To Face Tough Schedule

Pendleton County Team Will Play Nine Grid Games

FRANKLIN, W. Va., Sept. 10.—Franklin High School's Panthers under direction of Coach Dana Propst will face one of the toughest football schedules in the history of the local school during the 1946 campaign.

The Panthers are listed to play nine games, five at home and four away, with the opener set for Friday, September 20 with the Blue Streaks at Harrisonburg, Va.

Propst has nine of last year's regulars back in the fold, together with some returning veterans.

Among the local boys to report for drills were Johnny Sites, 160-pound halfback of last year's team. Bruce Mowery, former sailor and member of the Panthers' 1944 eleven. Mowery, along with Jones, 1945 regular, will hold down guard positions. Also out for drills are Rembert Shobe and Stanley Spaulding, end and back. Both were starters last year. The complete schedule:

Sept. 20—Harrisonburg, away.
Sept. 27—Thomas, home.
Oct. 4—Romney, home.
Oct. 11—Greenbank, away.
Oct. 18—Petersburg, away.
Oct. 25—Moorefield, home.
Nov. 1—Fort Ashby, home.
Nov. 8—Keyser, home.
Nov. 15—Ridgeley, away.

Owens Is New Coach At Petersburg High

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 10—Walter Owens, former Fairmont State College football player, is the new coach of athletics at Petersburg High School.

Owens was active in athletics at Washington-Irving High School, Clarksburg, and played three seasons of football at Fairmont State, being named West Virginia all-conference guard for two years. He is an ex-serviceman, having spent two and one half years overseas.

Thomas To Open 5-Game Schedule With Moorefield

Manpower Shortage Hits Thomas Squad; Opener Set For Friday

THOMAS, W. Va., Sept. 10.—Lack of manpower has forced Thomas high school to limit its football schedule to five games for the 1946 season, according to Coach Emil F. Suder.

"We simply do not have the manpower to play too many games," Suder declared. "However, we would like to book one more game to be played at home or perhaps one away."

Suder hints that his team may be in for a tough season due to the fact that only 11 or 12 boys on his squad have had any experience. Only four have any weight and the rest are light. The squad got away to a late start because school was a week late in opening.

The Thomas mentor said he has no idea what his team will show against Moorefield's Yellow Jackets, who are to open the season here Friday at 2:30 o'clock, as his squad will be fortunate to have one scrimmage before game time and he can't take chances on injuries.

Thomas's schedule is as follows:

Sept. 13—Moorefield, home.
Sept. 20—Petersburg, away.
Sept. 27—Franklin, away.
Oct. 4—Keyser, away.
Oct. 11—Parsons, away.
Oct. 18—Open.
Oct. 25—Open.

The following boys are out:

SPRING GROVE WINS ALL-AMERICAN TITLE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10, (AP) —Spring Grove won the 1946 All-American amateur baseball championship today by turning back Naiman Photo of Washington, D. C., 4 to 2 at nearby New Cumberland.

The rivals finished the regular tournament schedule deadlocked for first place, and a playoff was necessary for the title on an out-of-town field, since Harrisburg's Interstate League club was using the island field.

Spring Grove jumped into the lead in the second inning when Rolf, Haslup, and Hynes all crossed the plate. The Maryland State Champions bunched three of their seven hits in the third, and took advantage of a couple of Washington misplays to clinch the ball game.

Lagos connected for a triple in the sixth to score Kaufman with the first Washington run, and the second tally for the Naiman club came over in the eighth. Despite an array of pinch-hitters in the ninth Neville held his lead and gained a well deserved victory.

Mahoney Reports Horses Stimulated At Timonium

Gay Victory, Char Foot And Wilton Scratched After Given Pre-Race Savila Tests

TIMONIUM, Md., Sept. 10—(AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission said three additional cases of horse stimulation were detected at Timonium in prerace tests today.

Mahoney said the horses involved were withdrawn from the races in which they had been entered.

The racing commission chairman's announcement came shortly after it was disclosed that Edmund P. Coffey, former FBI man recently named an agent for the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, was at the half-mile oval to assist track stewards and the commission in an investigation of racing at the track.

Mahoney said he was "baffled" by the situation.

He said that the three horses scratched today after prerace saliva tests were Wilton, a scheduled starter in the second; Gay Victory in the fourth and Char Foot in the sixth.

The tests were made at the request of the handlers of the horses subsequently scratched, he said, adding:

"It is a commendable thing that owners, trainers and others responsible for the horses are asking for the prerace tests if they feel their thoroughbreds may have been stimulated.

"We are doing all in our power to get to the bottom of this situation."

He said the commission would aid owners and trainers to protect themselves and their horses.

Coffey arrived after the commission temporarily suspended a woman trainer on finding one of her horses had been drugged. Track stewards said they had detected the doping of another horse and said they were investigating "suspicious" circumstances in the scratching of two others from the sixth race at Timonium Monday.

Temporarily suspended was Mrs. George Saportas, Monkton, Md., owner-trainer.

George P. Mahoney, chairman of the racing commission, said it was a "routine action" after the track veterinarian found evidence that one of her horses, Miss Prime, had been stimulated before a race on the opening card at Timonium September 2.

Track stewards refused to comment on the scratching of two horses yesterday except to say it was due to "suspicious circumstances." They were N. S. Scava's Beau Wynn and Mrs. J. G. Needy's Paula Grier.

Louis Pascal, Jr., trainer of W. C. Ensor's Mary Morse, formerly trained by Mrs. Saportas, said he scratched his entry because "I don't want any part of a doping case."

Century Tossers Defeat VFW, 9-2

FROSTBURG, Sept. 10 — The Century Athletic Club earned a spot in the final playoff series for the championship of the Frostburg Softball League by defeating the Veterans of Foreign Wars today by the score of 9 to 2. It was the third and deciding game of the series between the teams.

Jack Wilhelm limited the Vets to three singles while his mates gathered 13, including a double and homer each for Jackson and Reidler and a double and triple by Densmore. Paul "Stoney" Jackson starred afield for the winners.

The Eckhart-Aristocrats best-of-three-games series is scheduled to open Wednesday at 5:30 o'clock at State Teachers' College field. The winner of this series will play Century A.C. in the championship series. Box:

By GAYLE TALBOT

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., Sept. 10 (AP)—The crowd banked around Baltusrol's 18th green sent up a sizable cheer today when Robert "Skee" Riegel, 31-year-old pilot-instructor from Upper Darby, Pa., chipped one from about 40 feet, and the ball rolled up and appeared to stop on the edge of the cup, and then dropped lazily in.

The real cheer, mingled with whistles of amazement, came a moment later when it was announced that the slight, mustached airman had shot himself a new record 67 for the "lower course" and had spread-eagled the field in the 36-hole qualifying round of the national Amateur Championship with successive rounds of 69-67—136.

Tops Qualifying Record

Not only did Riegel's brilliant 67—35 out and 32 back—supplant the competitive course mark of 68 set jointly only yesterday by Capt. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Howard Everitt of Philadelphia, but his two-round total also far eclipsed the previous qualifying record of 139 set in the 1939 amateur by Tom Sheehan, Jr., of Chicago.

The two great rounds, which slipped eight strokes off Baltusrol's fairly exacting par, won the medal for Riegel by the wide margin of five blows and established him firmly as the man they all will have to beat in the match play starting tomorrow.

Runners-up to the flying leader, each at 141, were Smiley Quick, the National Public Links champion from Inglewood, Calif., with 70-71, and George Babbish of Royal Oak, Mich., who put today's second best score, a 68, with his opening 73. Tied at 143 were Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion, with 71-72, and Ray Billows, twice runner-up for the amateur title, with 72-71.

Riegel's card:

Out ....554 334 443 — 35
In .....443 344 244 — 32

All the "name" amateurs who figured in pre-tournament speculation passed the entrance test with something to spare and will be in there slugging in the first of tomorrow's two 18-hole rounds of match play, at least. Some of them might not be around for the afternoon round.

Five Are Tied At 144

Middlecoff slipped to a 76 today and wound up in a five-way tie at 144, even par, with George Hamer of Columbus, Ga., Jim McHale of Philadelphia, Neil White of Portchester, N. Y., and Earl Christiansen, Miami's golfing detective. Middlecoff hit a bad drive on the last hole and took a large seven.

Everitt soared to 77 and was bracketed at 145 with Frank Stranahan of Toledo, one of the favorites; Willie Turnesa and Tom Stephenson of Kansas City.

Marvin "Bud" Ward, who won the last championship played in 1941 and still holds the title, racked up rounds of 75-72—147 to qualify comfortably — 11 strokes behind Riegel.

Trainer Tom Smith Withdraws Appeal

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Ashley Trimble Cole, chairman of the New York Racing Commission, said today that Trainer Tom Smith, suspended last November after the jockey club held him responsible for the administration of ephredine to the horse Magnific Duel, had instructed his attorneys to withdraw his appeal which now is before the New York Court of Appeals.

Smith was suspended for one year, effective November 1, 1945, on the stimulation charges. The suspension was upheld by a board made up of members of the racing commission and the jockey club after an open hearing.

Schedule Twin Bill

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox today scheduled a double header for Friday with the Philadelphia Athletics, advancing Saturday's scheduled game to complete the twin bill. There will be no game Saturday.

Ben Chapman Signs Two-Year Contract To Manage Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10—(AP)—Here's a tip to the National League pennant - hungry Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals.

Ben Chapman

Back in May when Ben Chapman was signed to a one-year contract to manage the Phillies in 1947, the Jays went on one of their greatest surges in history, playing the best ball in the league for a month and vaulting almost into the first division.

That contract was scrapped today and Chapman was signed to a two-year pact. The Phils have two dates remaining with the Cardinals and three with the Dodgers.

Riegel Posts 67, Tops Qualifiers 'n Amateur Golf

lis 36-Hole Score of 136 Wins Medal By Margin Of Five Strokes

By GAYLE TALBOT

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., Sept. 10 (AP)—The crowd banked around Baltusrol's 18th green sent up a sizable cheer today when Robert "Skee" Riegel, 31-year-old pilot-instructor from Upper Darby, Pa., chipped one from about 40 feet, and the ball rolled up and appeared to stop on the edge of the cup, and then dropped lazily in.

The real cheer, mingled with whistles of amazement, came a moment later when it was announced that the slight, mustached airman had shot himself a new record 67 for the "lower course" and had spread-eagled the field in the 36-hole qualifying round of the national Amateur Championship with successive rounds of 69-67—136.

Tops Qualifying Record

Not only did Riegel's brilliant 67—35 out and 32 back—supplant the competitive course mark of 68 set jointly only yesterday by Capt. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Howard Everitt of Philadelphia, but his two-round total also far eclipsed the previous qualifying record of 139 set in the 1939 amateur by Tom Sheehan, Jr., of Chicago.

The two great rounds, which slipped eight strokes off Baltusrol's fairly exacting par, won the medal for Riegel by the wide margin of five blows and established him firmly as the man they all will have to beat in the match play starting tomorrow.

Runners-up to the flying leader, each at 141, were Smiley Quick, the National Public Links champion from Inglewood, Calif., with 70-71, and George Babbish of Royal Oak' Mich., who put today's second best score, a 68, with his opening 73. Tied at 143 were Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion, with 71-72, and Ray Billows, twice runner-up for the amateur title, with 72-71.

Riegel's card:

Out ....554 334 443 — 35
In .....443 344 244 — 32

All the "name" amateurs who figured in pre-tournament speculation passed the entrance test with something to spare and will be in there slugging in the first of tomorrow's two 18-hole rounds of match play, at least. Some of them might not be around for the afternoon round.

Five Are Tied At 144

Middlecoff slipped to a 76 today and wound up in a five-way tie at 144, even par, with George Hamer of Columbus, Ga., Jim McHale of Philadelphia, Neil White of Portchester, N. Y., and Earl Christiansen, Miami's golfing detective. Middlecoff hit a bad drive on the last hole and took a large seven.

Everitt soared to 77 and was bracketed at 145 with Frank Stranahan of Toledo, one of the favorites; Willie Turnesa and Tom Stephenson of Kansas City

Marvin "Bud" Ward, who won the last championship played in 1941 and still holds the title, racked up rounds of 75-72—147 to qualify comfortably — 11 strokes behind Riegel.

Trainer Tom Smith Withdraws Appeal

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—Ashley Trimble Cole, chairman of the New York Racing Commission, said today that Trainer Tom Smith, suspended last November after the jockey club held him responsible for the administration of ephredine to the horse Magnific Duel, had instructed his attorneys to withdraw his appeal which now is before the New York Court of Appeals.

Smith was suspended for one year, effective November 1, 1945, on the stimulation charges. The suspension was upheld by a board made up of members of the racing commission and the jockey club after an open hearing.

Schedule Twin Bill

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox today scheduled a double header for Friday with the Philadelphia Athletics, advancing's Saturday's scheduled game to complete the twin bill. There will be no game Saturday.

Ben Chapman Signs Two-Year Contract To Manage Phillies

Ben Chapman

Back in May when Ben Chapman was signed to a one-year contract to manage the Phillies in 1947, the Jays went on one of their greatest surges in history, playing the best ball in the league for a month and vaulting almost into the first division.

That contract was scrapped today and Chapman was signed to a two-year pact. The Phils have two dates remaining with the Cardinals and three with the Dodgers.

Gildersleeve To Return To Air Tonight-New Time

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The veteran Gildersleeve, otherwise Hal Peary, comes back on the air Wednesday night. That's a new day for him. Also Frank Sinatra will be singing again for CBS. Both have been vacationing, more or less.

Gildersleeve's new schedule calls for 7:30 appearances, a shift from Sunday evenings. He takes the spot once occupied by Hildegarde who is transferring to CBS.

Sinatra's scheduling will be the same, at 8. Also like Gildersleeve, the program format will be just about that of the past.

MBS also reports a new concert half-hour, to take over in the last of several times allotted to Bea Kay. Along with the orchestra of Emerson Buckey there will be the classical songs of Mary Henderson and Hugh Thompson. They've sang radio before.

Abbott and Costello will do the finishing-up assignment for the last Wednesday of Kay Kyser's vacation, NBC at 9. Or, they'll be the guest profs in a double act.

One of those all-too-frequent radio changes have been made again. This time it affects Academy Award on CBS at 9, switching out Edward G. Robinson and his "Little Caesar" for Joseph Cotton and "Shadow of a Doubt."

Audry Marsh is to do the guest singing for the continuing Mark Warnow sound-off for the army recruiters on CBS at 6:30 . . . Henry Hazlett and his "Economics in One Lesson" will up for Author Meets the Critics on MBS at 9:30.

The Radio Clock

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

Changes in programs as listed are due to corrections by networks made too late to incorporate.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS NOTE — All times PM eastern standard.
To change to eastern daylight, add one hour; central daylight same as eastern standard.
On the other hand, for central standard subtract one hour; for mountain standard subtract two hours.
Times listed are those supplied by networks. Relay times by local stations may vary in some instances.

Democrats Discuss Plans For Campaign

Arch McDonald, Silver Spring, Montgomery county, spoke at a meeting of Allegany county Democrats at campaign headquarters at the Windsor Hotel Monday night. McDonald is the Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives from the Sixth District and is opposing Rep. J. Glenn Beall, GOP candidate.

McDonald sail "I have nothing against Rep. Beall personally but I am going to battle him purely on his record."

He then pointed out that Beall had held the floor of the House only eight minutes during his four years as representative and that he did not vote for terminal leave pay for veterans.

Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, presided at the session. He said that it was time that Democrats obtained some of the county offices.

"It's time for a change," he said.

It was noted at the meeting that the Democratic ticket, both county and state, has candidates who are active in labor and veterans' circles and that the campaign this fall will not concentrate on state and national offices but will center on local candidates.

Among those who addressed the session were Thomas E. Stakem, who seeks to succeed himself as register of wills of Allegany county; Joseph Buskey, candidate for sheriff; Thomas B. Finan, Jr., candidate for State Senator; Stephen Cesnick, for Maryland House of Delegates; Alexander Nicol, for House of Delegates, and Samuel F. Weatherholt, for Allegany County Commissioner.

Mervin Uhl Is Sent To Jail For 60 Days

Mervin Uhl, Mt. Savage, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail at a hearing in Trial Magistrates court on an assault charge.

Uhl previously was accused of assault with intent to kill his wife, Mrs. Wilda Uhl, but the charge was changed to common assault when the hearing got underway.

According to Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., who presided at the hearing, Uhl admitted striking his wife with his fist during an altercation last Friday.

Douglas fir is the largest tree in Canada, usually attaining a height of from 150 to 200 feet, and a diameter of three to six feet.

Gildersleeve To Return To Air Tonight-New Time

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The veteran Gildersleeve, otherwise Hal Peary, comes back on the air Wednesday night. That's a new day for him. Also Frank Sinatra will be singing again for CBS. Both have been vacationing, more or less.

Gildersleeve's new schedule calls for 7:30 appearances, a shift from Sunday evenings. He takes the spot once occupied by Hildegarde who is transferring to CBS.

Sinatra's scheduling will be the same, at 8. Also like Gildersleeve, the program format will be just about that of the past.

MBS also reports a new concert half-hour, to take over in the last of several times allotted to Bea Kay. Aong with the orchestra of Emerson Buckley there will be the classical songs of Mary Henderson and Hugh Thompson. They've sang radio before.

Abbott and Costello will do the finishing-up assignment for the last Wednesday of Kay Kyser's vacation, NBC at 9. Or, they'll be the guest profs in a double act.

One of those all-too-frequent radio changes have been made again. This time it affects Academy Award on CBS at 9, switching out Edward G. Robinson and his "Little Caesar" for Joseph Cotton and "Shadow of a Doubt."

Audry Marsh is to do the guest singing for the continuing Mark Warnow sound-off for the army recruiters on CBS at 6:30 . . . Henry Hazlett and his "Economics in One Lesson" will up for Author Meets the Critics on MBS at 9:30.

The Radio Clock

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

Changes in programs as listed are due to corrections by networks made too late to incorporate.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS NOTE — All times PM eastern standard.
To change to eastern daylight, add one hour; central daylight same as eastern standard.
On the other hand, for central standard subtract one hour; for mountain standard subtract two hours.
Times listed are those supplied by networks. Relay times by local stations may vary in some instances.

In Memoriam

In memoriam of our beloved daughter and sister, Catherine Landis Lemon, who passed away 11 years ago today, September 11, 1935.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought her death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

She little thought when leaving home,
That she would never return,
That she so soon in death would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.

God knows how much we miss her,
Never shall her memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.

Sadly missed by
MOTHER, FATHER,
SISTERS AND BROTHER.

In Memoriam

In memoriam of our beloved daughter and sister, Catherine Landis Lemon, who passed away 11 years ago today, September 11, 1935.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought her death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

She little thought when leaving home,
That she would never return,
That she so soon in death would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.

God knows how much we miss her,
Never shall her memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.

Sadly missed by
MOTHER, FATHER,
SISTERS AND BROTHER.

MARK McCAULEY, SLAYER OF SHERIFF AND STATE POLICEMAN, IS CAPTURED

Two World War 2 Vets Nab Killer 150 Yards From Scene Of Slaying

Owen D. Hughes, Fort Ashby, Conservation Officer, And Andrew Landis, McCoole, B. And O. Fireman, Take Murderer At 9:30 P. M.; Officers Say 35-Year Old Strip Miner Admits Shooting

By A. TRAGO BRUST, JR.

Two veterans of World War II last night captured Mark McCauley, 35-year-old strip miner, within 150 yards of the house where he admittedly shot and killed two West Virginia police officers at Emoryville, W. Va., Monday afternoon.

McCauley surrendered without resistance to Owen D. Hughes, Fort Ashby, West Virginia conservation officer, and Andrew Landis, McCoole, a Baltimore and Ohio railroad fireman at 9:30 p. m., according to Cpl. R. R. Karrickhoff, of the West Virginia State Police.

Karrickhoff added that McCauley admitted to Landis and Hughes as well as to State Police that he shot and killed Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, veteran West Virginia State Policeman, and Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter of Tucker County, and wounded the sheriff's son, Donald Hovatter, 20, who is now recovering in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, from gunshot wounds.

Offered No Resistance

Although McCauley offered no resistance, he turned and started to run when Landis ordered him to halt on the narrow road through Emoryville, police said.

Landis ordered him to halt three times and then called, "Halt, or I'll shoot," Karrickhoff reported.

At that, McCauley stopped, threw a pistol and a shotgun over an embankment and then surrendered.

State Police said McCauley would be taken last night to Clarksburg, W. Va., as a precautionary measure. Vernon E. Rankin, Mineral County prosecuting attorney, said he would be taken "to a place of safekeeping," but would not name the place.

Members of the two-state posse of some 250 police officers, auxiliary policemen of the old Civilian Defense organization and armed deputized volunteers who were looking for McCauley were placed at strategic points in the Emoryville section last night in the belief that McCauley might pass them, Karrickhoff said.

He explained that Landis, who was an auxiliary policeman, and Hughes parked their car along the road near where the shooting occurred in Emoryville, and that Hughes remained in the machine while Landis walked down the road a short distance. Both were armed with a revolver and shotgun. Landis stepped off the road and was leaning against a brush on a bank when he saw a man approaching.

Spotted Him In Moonlight

There was enough moonlight last night, Karrickhoff reported, to make out the outlines of a man at a distance of some 200 yards.

Landis let him come within 30 yards when he turned a flashlight on the man and ordered him to halt.

McCauley, who Karrickhoff said apparently was heading back to the James Harding home in Emoryville where the shooting occurred or to one of three or four houses near it, first started to run but finally halted after going 30 or 40 feet at Landis's threat to shoot. As he stopped he threw a short barrelled 38 caliber revolver and a 20 gauge bolt action shotgun over the embankment and threw up his hands.

Landis and Hughes searched him thoroughly, handcuffed him and drove him to the junction of State Route 42 and U. S. Route 50 at the top of the mountain at Allegany Front where he was turned over to First Sgt. Gail W. Bush, Moorefield, of Company C of the West Virginia State Police.

With Prosecutor Rankin's permission, Capt. Ermil Clark, Elkins, commander of Company C of the State Police, ordered McCauley taken to Clarksburg as a safety measure.

Guns Are Recovered

Officers recovered the weapons McCauley tossed over the embankment and Rankin said he believes the short barreled 38 is the one that fired the three shots killing Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter. A long barrelled 38 McCauley was believed to be carrying has not been located.

Rankin said, however, he would not be able to say definitely if the three fatal bullets came from the short barrelled revolver until they were compared.

McCauley, when asked why he shot the officers and the sheriff's son said only "I thought they were going to shoot me," Rankin reported.

Both he and Cpl. Karrickhoff said not enough credit can be given to Landis and Hughes for capturing McCauley. Rankin said the two veterans may have saved the lives of three or four other persons searching for McCauley.

While McCauley is being taken to Clarksburg, Rankin said he will be tried in Keyser and that the case will be presented to the Mineral County Grand Jury when it meets on October 15. Trials of the October term will begin on October 22. Rankin added that he is not sure whether he will try McCauley first or whether Oscar Cosner, held in the Mineral County Jail on a

Dracy Carlton Is On Terminal Leave

Dracy Carlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Carlton, Park Heights, was commissioned a captain in the Reserve Officers and received terminal leave, Saturday at Fort Bragg, N. C., according to word received here. He was discharged earlier in the week from Pratt General Hospital, Coral Gables, Fla., where he had been hospitalized for a major operation.

Capt. Carlton, who is a veteran of 37 months in the service, of which 16 were on duty in the ETO, is spending his leave with his wife and infant child at West Palm Beach, Fla., where he will reside and be associated in business with Elliott Gross in his Civil Engineering Contracting Company.

Local News In Brief

William E. Davies, Arlington, Va., and Donald D. Mears, Chillum, Md., will speak at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club here tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. Davies will give a review of the scientific problems in his work, especially at Twigg cave, near here, and the results so far obtained. Mears will speak on the experiences and adventures encountered in cave work.

Dr. LeRoy Allen, chief of the tuberculosis division of the State Department of Health, will go to Oakland today with Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, to observe the monthly tuberculosis clinic in the health center there. Dr. Allen arrived here yesterday from Baltimore on an official visit.

Showers last night afforded little relief from the warm weather which has prevailed for the past few days. Monday was Cumberland's hottest September day in ten years, with the official reading at 99 degrees. Yesterday, however, the high reading was 90 degrees.

West Side Fire Company was called to the intersection of Paca street and Wilton place yesterday at 7 p. m., when a telephone pole caught fire. Firemen said the slight blaze was practically out when they arrived.

The Western Maryland Safety Council will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the City Hall auditorium.

The Optimist Club will meet this evening at 6:15 o'clock in Central YMCA.

Suits For $15,000 Are Filed By Two Accident Victims

Pedestrians Hurt By Cars Charge Operators With Negligence

Two damage suits totaling $15,000 were filed in Circuit Court yesterday as a result of accidents in which two pedestrians were injured last month.

David Sheetz, a minor, filed suit through his father and next friend, Edgar B. Sheetz, against Carl Petenbrink, asking damages of $10,000.

Morgan C. Harris, attorney for the plaintiffs, said the Sheetz boy was injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by Petenbrink on August 11.

Crossing Grape Alley

The boy, the attorney said, was crossing Grape Alley when he was struck and injured. Harris said the victim suffered a fractured right leg and "excruciating pain." He said he was caused to undergo long confinement in the hospital and will be unable to attend school. Harris also cited that a large amount of money was spent for hospital and medical expenses.

In the other action, William R. Zimerla asks damages of $5,000 from Benjamin H. Snyder.

Harris, who also represents Zimerla, said Snyder was driving on Frederick street with the rear door of his car open. The door, he said, struck Zimerla, who was walking on the sidewalk, and injured his chest. He said Zimerla was confined to the hospital and his home and lost his income when he was unable to work. Medical and hospital expenses also were cited.

Snyder also is charged with negligence.

Dairy Stockholder Sued

Clarence U. Llewellyn and Harvey E. England filed suit for $2,500 against Harmon R. Simons, charging that he signed an option last December 29 agreeing to sell his Queen City Dairy stock to them.

Llewellyn and Harvey said they offered Simons $300 a share for each of his six shares of stock but that he refused to transfer it. Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., and Thomas Lohr Richards represent Llewellyn and Harvey.

Stuby Will Head Clerks Union Here

Clyde W. Stuby, 407 Prince George street, was elected president of Local 654, Retail Clerks Union, at a meeting of the group yesterday afternoon in Allegany Trades Council hall, William R. McGinnis, international representative, reported.

Other officers of the union will be Miss Mildred Payne, first vice president; Mrs. Jean Lynch, second vice president; Mrs. Ruth Cramblitt, recording secretary, and Miss Rose Boch, financial secretary.

Members of the board of trustees will be Mrs. Margaret Preskorn, chairman, and Miss Phyllis Brode and Miss Eleanor Rice.

The local voted to increase the monthly dues by 25 cents and to hold regular meetings the first Monday of each month at 5 p. m. in Allegany Trades Council hall.

C. E. Stutzman, who is business manager of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, was named business agent of the Clerks union.

McGinnis said contracts have been reached with the Cumberland Cloak and Suit, Rosenbaum and People's Clothing stores and added the local is negotiating on several other agreements.

Three Applicants File For Police Positions

Three applicants for positions on the Cumberland Police Department have secured papers at City Hall, according to Samuel E. Griminger, city clerk.

So far there is one applicant for the post of milk inspector and one applicant for fireman. The deadline for filing before taking the September 25 test at Fort Hill High School is Friday, September 20, at noon.

To be eligible for any of the positions applicants must have been residents of Cumberland for three years. Police and fire applicants must be between 21 and 36 years of age, while aspirants for milk inspector must be over 21.

Times-News School To Feature Cooking Hints For Brides Today

Cooking information for brides including the buying and preparation of meat and recipes for meals of smaller quantity, will feature this morning's session of the Times-News Cooking School, which will begin at 9:15 at the Strand Theater.

Over 1,200 persons attended the opening session yesterday of the four-day event, which is being conducted by Miss Edalene Stohr, noted home economist, and her assistant, Miss Irene Hansen. Miss Stohr was introduced by J. William Hunt, editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times, on behalf of the sponsoring newspapers. She conducted a two-hour demonstration of modern cookery, called "A Symphony of Foods."

Cooking demonstrations scheduled for this morning include an apple pork steak, a small rib roast of beef, hamburger "scramble", made with eggs for a breakfast or luncheon dish; barbecued lamb shank, individual pecan pies, made without sugar, an upside down cake, using part syrup and part sugar; chocolate oatmeal cookies, and veal stew dumplings.

In addition to 10 baskets of groceries given away yesterday, the following women were given the dishes prepared on the Strand stage: Mrs. Carl Herpich, 832 Columbia avenue, Mrs. Albertus White, Bedford road; Mrs. D. J. Harvey, Valley road; Mrs. C. W. Gatrall, 17 Henderson avenue; Mrs. Albert Clark, 443 Goethe street; Mrs. Mary Yankie, 447 Waverly Terrace, Frances Grabenstein, 625 Elwood street. A carving set was awarded to Mrs. L. E. Watkins, 814 Sylvan avenue.

The doors will be opened at 8:30 a. m. today and succeeding days, and the school will begin at 9:15. The sessions will be over not later than 11:30 a. m. Admission is free.

Lilya Asserts Education May Halt Accidents

Education on traffic regulations for both drivers and pedestrians will help to lessen the traffic accident toll in this city, Detective Edwin R. Lilya told the Cumberland Exchange Club last night.

Detective Lilya, a member of the Cumberland Police Department, pointed out that in the past year 107 pedestrians have been struck by cars on the streets of Cumberland and that most of the victims were injured while stepping between cars and between intersections.

In 90 per cent of pedestrian accidents, he said, the cause is over optimism, hurry or ignorance on the part of the pedestrian of their responsibilities.

Of the one and one-half million traffic mishaps reported in 1946, eight per cent can be attributed to faulty mechanism, five per cent to road conditions and the other 87 per cent to the driver or pedestrian, Lilya asserted.

From a traffic map showing the location of accidents here, Detective Lilya pointed out special danger points. The worst, he said, is on Wineow street and is caused chiefly by faulty parking on red lines in the area.

On Baltimore street at Centre, where pedestrian traffic is 40 times as great as vehicular, the accident toll is less than on Wineow steet, he added.

Jack Brehman, Baltimore, a representative of the J. Engle wholesale jewelry company, was a guest of the club at its meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club yesterday at 6:30 p. m.

Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill High School will be the guest speaker of the club next week.

Hunters Obtain 340 Licenses From Clerk

With the opening of the initial squirrel hunting season set for September 15, wouldbe hunters lined up yesterday in the office of the Clerk of Circuit Court and obtained a total of 340 licenses, attaches reported, boosting to a total of 1,913 county licenses and 1,024 state-wide permits, issued this year.

Hunters thronged the office throughout the day and often stood six deep as three clerks issued the permits amounting to 228 county licenses at $1.25 each, 108 state-wide licenses at $5.25 each, and three non-resident licenses at $15.50 each. Incidentally one fishing license also was issued.

Although the squirrel season opens on September 15, it will be postponed one day because the 15th falls on Sunday, a day on which hunting is illegal.

CAPTURED KILLER—Two young World War II veterans shown here, captured Mark McCauley at Emoryville, W. Va., last night, near the scene of the fatal shooting of Sergeant Joseph P. Horne, Davis, W. Va., and Sheriff O. G. Hovatter of Parsons, W. Va., and wounded the sheriff's son, Donald Hovatter. The two men are Andrew Landis, (left) McCoole, railroad fireman and Owen Hughes, (right) Fort Ashby, W. Va., conservation officer. The two young veterans joined the posse in the hunt for McCauley, which extended over a large area around Emoryville, Hartmansville, Elk Garden, Oakmont and Allegany Front, W. Va.

Sheriff's Son Recounts Events Leading Up To Double Slaying

Donald Hovatter Says Shooting "Happened Awfully Fast"

By F. ALAN WEATHERHOLT

"It happened faster than you can tell about it," Donald Hovatter, 20-year-old Navy veteran of World War II, said last night as he lay wounded in a hospital bed at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., victim of a cold-blooded shooting Monday in which his father, Sheriff Orsa Gay Hovatter, of Tucker county, and West Virginia State Trooper Joseph P. Horne of Davis, were killed.

Young Hovatter, despite gun shot wounds in his arm, lip and shoulder, replied when asked if he felt like talking about the experience, "Yes, I'll tell you about it, but it happened awfully fast."

"My father, Sgt. Horne and I went to Emoryville, W. Va., in Mineral county to apprehend Mark McCauley of Davis, W. Va., who was living at Emoryville and was suspected of stealing a truck in Davis.

"When we got to Emoryville, we saw the truck in the yard of the James Harding home, where McCauley was boarding. Inquiry at the home revealed that McCauley had accompanied Harding to Keyser, where he planned to buy some clothes or something.

Waited At House

"Dad and I waited at the house and Sgt. Horne drove to Keyser. About 4 p. m., he returned with McCauley in the state police cruiser. I was just standing around talking with Dad. I know it was about 4 o'clock, because I had asked Dad

Legion Offers $100 Award For Capture

A $100 reward for the "man or men who would capture or kill" Mark McCauley, Davis, W. Va., who authorities said killed a sheriff and a state trooper at Emoryville, W. Va., Monday afternoon, was voted last night by the executive committee of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

The action was approved two hours before word came that McCauley had been captured by Robert Landis, Keyser, near the scene of the double murder.

Phil Fleming, post commander, said that the reward was offered because Sheriff O. G. Hovatter, Parsons, W. Va., one of the slaying victims, was a veteran of World War I and an active Legion member in his community, and because the latter's son, Donald Hovatter, 20, who was wounded in the shooting fray, is a World War II veteran.

Joins Police Force

Andrew R. Burns, 30, 606 Elm street, an army veteran, began work as a probationer on the Cumberland Police Department yesterday on the 1 a. m. to 9 a. m. platoon, Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, announced yesterday.

Burns, who is married, was discharged from the army October 4, 1945. He was formerly employed at the Cumberland Steel Company.

William Johnson, Truck Driver, Is Found Dead Here

William Harrison Johnson, about 50, 506 Greene street, was found dead in the cab of his truck parked on a vacant lot near the A&P Super Market on Wineow street yesterday at 11:15 a. m.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from a heart attack and estimated the man had been dead about 20 hours.

Mr. Johnson was employed by the Vang Construction Company for about five years and later by the Potomac Edison Company. In recent years he operated his own truck on a number of construction jobs in this area.

He was a native of Artemas, Pa., and was a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Flora B. Johnson, he is survived by three stepsons, Louis and Robert Haines, both of this city, and William Haines, Baltimore; two brothers, John Johnson, Artemas, Pa., and Wesley Johnson, address unknown.

JOSEPH ROWLEY RITES

Funeral services for Joseph L. Rowley, 62, machinist at the B. and O. back shops, who died Sunday morning at his home, 1101 East Oldtown road, will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

A native of this city, he was a son of the late Richard and Jane Brown Rowley, both of whom were natives of England.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Annie V. Fisher Rowley; two sons, Richard R. Rowley, this city, and Chester D. Rowley, of Punxsutawney, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Hausman, this city; a brother, Thomas Rowley, and a sister, Mrs. Nora Hewitt, both of Cumberland, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Rowley's name was given as Riley in an account of his death in Monday's News. The News regrets the error.

MRS. NORRIS RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Harriet E. Norris, 70, widow of George W. Norris, who died yesterday morning at her home, 436 Laing avenue, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Assembly of God Church, Elder street.

Rev. Charles V. Elliott, pastor of the church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

She was a native of Little Orleans and a daughter of the late Henry and Anne Linaburg Appel. Mrs. Norris belonged to Assembly of God church.

Surviving are six sons, Filmore Norris, Cottage City; Robert R. and Gorge V. Norris, at home; Raymond and Jesse Norris, both of this city, and Elmore Norris, Winchester, Va.; a daughter, Mrs. H. H. Squires, this city; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Sweitzer, Cumberland; two half-brothers, Charles Appel, Virginia, and George Appel, this city; 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

MISS DUCKWORTH RITES

Funeral services for Miss Mary A. Duckworth, 77, 205 Davidson street, who died Saturday in Memorial Hospital, were conducted yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Charles W. Bogan, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass and interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were E. F. Brode, Paul C. Weisenmiller, Albert M. Kerns, George Cline, Ronald Shires and Truman Fuller.

ORA LARGENT RITES

Funeral services for Ora S. Largent, 60, 35 Virginia avenue, B. and O. passenger engineer, who died Saturday, were conducted yesterday at 2 p. m. at the home by Rev. W. Clark Main, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. Interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were J. G. Myers, S. L. Wauhop, R. G. Morgan and H. E. Abe, of Local 352, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and S. Pittman, J. C. Catlett, T. W. Gatrell and W. D. Ambrose, of Local 448, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

GEORGE LIPPOLD RITES

Funeral rites for George E. Lippold, 50, who died Monday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary L. Owens, 133 Virginia avenue, will be conducted tomorrow at 9 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and burial will be in the church cemetery. The body is at the George Funeral Home.

THOMAS SIMPSON

Thomas Simpson, 78, Cresaptown, died last night at 9:13 o'clock in Allegany Hospital where he was admitted Sunday.

U.S.S. Cumberland Will Be Scrapped

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 10 (AP) — The U. S. S. Cumberland, Annapolis station ship for negro Naval Academy personnel since 1919, left here today under tow for Norfolk, Va., where it will be scrapped.

The vessel, built at the Boston Navy in 1904, started out at once on 40 years' uneventful service as a training unit.

It was docked respectively at Boston, Newport, R. I., Guantanamo Bay and Norfolk, where it was used from 1915 to 1919 as a receiving ship.

The vessel then went to the Naval Academy, where it has been docked beside the Reina Mercedes, station ship for white enlisted personnel.

It will be replaced by a barracks barge.

Rail Officials Say Smoke Ordinance Is "Too Rigid"

Wyatt Asks Council To Postpone Action On Control Measure

Terming the proposed smoke control ordinance "too rigid" to permit practical observance, officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday asked the Mayor and Council to postpone action on the ordinance for several months to give them a chance to prove that such a strict measure is not necessary in controlling smoke.

Harrison F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division, said that the railroad is willing to co-operate with the city, but that it would be "practically impossible" to operate steam locomotives and to comply with the ordinance.

With improved new equipment, more disciplinary action and the current education program for firemen and engine crews, the problem of smoke control can be handled without such a strict ordinance, Wyatt stated.

No Action Taken

The problem was discussed at a conference of representatives of the B. and O. and the Western Maryland Railway with city officials in the Council Chamber. Former Judge D. Lindley Sloan and William A. Gunter represented the railroads.

No action was taken on the railroads' request for postponement, but Mayor Thomas S. Post, who presided, said that the council would take the matter under consideration.

Chief speaker for the B. and O. was W. E. Sample, Baltimore, assistant superintendent of fuel conservation for the railroad, who travels to the various divisions throughout the year with a crew of nine or ten men to check on excessive smoke and other factors in fuel consumption. He was here in March and April to work with employes of the Cumberland division in the conservation program, and has been making similar trips throughout the system since 1941.

Declaring that excessive smoke means "dollars going out of the stack" because of improper combustion of fuel, and that the railroad is trying to prevent it, Sample said that the proposed ordinance is more rigid than any other in cities on the system.

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, pointed out that the ordinance was based on a model measure adopted by the American Society of Chemical Engineers, and that Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore ordinances have similar provisions prohibiting discharge of smoke the shade or density of which is equal to No. 2 of the Ringleman Chart.

Situation Improved

He added that Chicago is considering revising an ordinance to include prohibition of No. 1 type of smoke as well. Sample described No. 2 density of smoke as being "rather hazy" and said that other cities allow more time than the period of 30 seconds in any two or two and a half minutes during which smoke may be discharged when building a new fire or cleaning a fire, as proposed in the local ordinance.

Heskett said that during March and April, when Sample and his crew were working here to control locomotive smoke, the situation was greatly improved, but that the firemen apparently tended to become careless after that time and to neglect precautions to avoid excessive smoke.

Regarding the second section of the ordinance, which makes it unlawful for dust in the gases discharged from steam locomotives within the city limits to exceed .85 pounds per 1,000 pounds of gases, adjusted to 12 per cent CO-2 content for products of combustion, Sample said that the CO-2 amount and the amount of "fly ash" could not be determined on moving locomotives. He added that he had never heard of a similar provision in other smoke control ordinances.

Jets Described

Sample reported that about 10 over fire steam jets have been applied on yard engines here, out of 22 such engines, explaining that the jets take care of excessive smoke when the locomotive is standing still, but that they cannot prevent smoke when the locomotive is "working hard." That, he added, is up to the engine crew.

Fire door jets are inexpensive and are about equally as effective as over fire steam jets, Sample said. The installation of the former, a new type of equipment which has been in use here only since April 1, costs from $10 to $12. Neither is effective except when locomotives are standing still or are under light throttle, he explained.

The ordinance provides that, on or after April 1, 1947, it will be unlawful for a bituminous steam locomotive to be operated in the city unless it is equipped with over fire jets, which shall be in use during any time when the locomotive is in operation or standing, but ready for operation in the city limits.

Best Grade Of Coal Used

Stating that the best grade obtainable of deep-mined coal from West Virginia is used in locomotives, Sample said that on the Cumberland division in July, passenger trains burned approximately 85,000 tons, while engines in yard service here burned 22,847 tons.

Two men of his fuel conservation crew will be stationed here indefinitely, Sample said, adding that the high cost of fuel and the fact that fuel may be conserved through smoke control are incentives to encourage the B. and O.'s education program for firemen.

Following a request by Mayor Post, Wyatt said that he would furnish copies of reports made by

Two World War 2 Vets Nab Killer 150 Yards From Scene Of Slaying

Owen D. Hughes, Fort Ashby, Conservation Officer, And Andrew Landis, McCoole, B. And O. Fireman, Take Murderer At 9:30 P. M.; Officers Say 35-Year Old Strip Miner Admits Shooting

By A. TRAGO BRUST, JR.

Two veterans of World War II last night captured Mark McCauley, 35-year-old strip miner, within 150 yards of the house where he admittedly shot and killed two West Virginia police officers at Emoryville, W. Va., Monday afternoon.

McCauley surrendered without resistance to Owen D. Hughes, Fort Ashby, West Virginia conservation officer, and Andrew Landis, McCoole, a Baltimore and Ohio railroad fireman at 9:30 p. m., according to Cpl. R. R. Karrickhoff, of the West Virginia State Police.

Karrickhoff added that McCauley admitted to Landis and Hughes as well as to State Police that he shot and killed Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, veteran West Virginia State Policeman, and Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter of Tucker County, and wounded the sheriff's son, Donald Hovatter, 20, who is now recovering in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, from gunshot wounds.

Offered No Resistance

Although McCauley offered no resistance, he turned and started to run when Landis ordered him to halt on the narrow road through Emoryville, police said.

Landis ordered him to halt three times and then called, "Halt, or I'll shoot," Karrickhoff reported.

At that, McCauley stopped, threw a pistol and a shotgun over an embankment and then surrendered.

State Police said McCauley would be taken last night to Clarksburg, W. Va., as a precautionary measure. Vernon E. Rankin, Mineral County prosecuting attorney, said he would be taken "to a place of safekeeping," but would not name the place.

Members of the two-state posse of some 250 police officers, auxiliary policemen of the old Civilian Defense organization and armed deputized volunteers who were looking for McCauley were placed at strategic points in the Emoryville section last night in the belief that McCauley might pass them, Karrickhoff said.

He explained that Landis, who was an auxiliary policeman, and Hughes parked their car along the road near where the shooting occurred in Emoryville, and that Hughes remained in the machine while Landis walked down the road a short distance. Both were armed with a revolver and shotgun. Landis stepped off the road and was leaning against a brush on a bank when he saw a man approaching.

Spotted Him In Moonlight

There was enough moonlight last night, Karrickhoff reported, to make out the outlines of a man at a distance of some 200 yards.

Landis let him come within 30 yards when he turned a flashlight on the man and ordered him to halt.

McCauley, who Karrickhoff said apparently was heading back to the James Harding home in Emoryville where the shooting occurred or to one of three or four houses near it, first started to run but finally halted after going 30 or 40 feet at Landis's threat to shoot. As he stopped he threw a short barrelled 38 caliber revolver and a 20 gauge bolt action shotgun over the embankment and threw up his hands.

Landis and Hughes searched him thoroughly, handcuffed him and drove him to the junction of State Route 42 and U. S. Route 50 at the top of the mountain at Allegany Front where he was turned over to First Sgt. Gail W. Bush, Moorefield, of Company C of the West Virginia State Police.

With Prosecutor Rankin's permission, Capt. Ermil Clark, Elkins, commander of Company C of the State Police, ordered McCauley taken to Clarksburg as a safety measure.

Guns Are Recovered

Officers recovered the weapons McCauley tossed over the embankment and Rankin said he believes the short barreled 38 is the one that fired the three shots killing Sgt. Horne and Sheriff Hovatter. A long barrelled 38 McCauley was believed to be carrying has not been located.

Rankin said, however, he would not be able to say definitely if the three fatal bullets came from the short barrelled revolver until they were compared.

McCauley, when asked why he shot the officers and the sheriff's son said only "I thought they were going to shoot me," Rankin reported.

Both he and Cpl. Karrickhoff said not enough credit can be given to Landis and Hughes for capturing McCauley. Rankin said the two veterans may have saved the lives of three or four other persons searching for McCauley.

While McCauley is being taken to Clarksburg, Rankin said he will be tried in Keyser and that the case will be presented to the Mineral County Grand Jury when it meets on October 15. Trials of the October term will begin on October 22. Rankin added that he is not sure whether he will try McCauley first or whether Oscar Cosner, held in the Mineral County Jail on a

Dracy Carlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Carlton, Park Heights, was commissioned a captain in the Reserve Officers and received terminal leave, Saturday at Fort Bragg, N. C., according to word received here. He was discharged earlier in the week from Pratt General Hospital, Coral Gables, Fla., where he had been hospitalized for a major operation.

Capt. Carlton, who is a veteran of 37 months in the service, of which 16 were on duty in the ETO, is spending his leave with his wife and infant child at West Palm Beach, Fla., where he will reside and be associated in business with Elliott Gross in his Civil Engineering Contracting Company.

Local News In Brief

William E. Davies, Arlington, Va., and Donald D. Mears, Chillum, Md., will speak at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club here tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. Davies will give a review of the scientific problems in his work, especially at Twigg cave near here, and the results so far obtained. Mears will speak on the experiences and adventures encountered in cave work.

Dr. LeRoy Allen, chief of the tuberculosis division of the State Department of Health, will go to Oakland today with Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, to observe the monthly tuberculosis clinic in the health center there. Dr. Allen arrived here yesterday from Baltimore on an official visit.

Showers last night afforded little relief from the warm weather which has prevailed for the past few days. Monday was Cumberland's hottest September day in ten years, with the official reading at 99 degrees. Yesterday, however, the high reading was 90 degrees.

West Side Fire Company was called to the intersection of Paca street and Wilton place yesterday at 7 p. m., when a telephone pole caught fire. Firemen said the slight blaze was practically out when they arrived.

The Western Maryland Safety Council will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the City Hall auditorium.

The Optimist Club will meet this evening at 6:15 o'clock in Central YMCA.

Suits For $15,000 Are Filed By Two Accident Victims

Pedestrians Hurt By Cars Charge Operators With Negligence

Two damage suits totaling $15,000 were filed in Circuit Court yesterday as a result of accidents in which two pedestrians were injured last month.

David Sheetz, a minor, filed suit through his father and next friend, Edgar B. Sheetz, against Carl Petenbrink, asking damages of $10,000.

Morgan C. Harris, attorney for the plaintiffs, said the Sheetz boy was injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by Petenbrink on August 11.

Crossing Grape Alley

The boy, the attorney said, was crossing Grape Alley when he was struck and injured. Harris said the victim suffered a fractured right leg and "excruciating pain." He said he was caused to undergo long confinement in the hospital and will be unable to attend school. Harris also cited that a large amount of money was spent for hospital and medical expenses.

Petenbrink was charged with carelessness and negligence.

In the other action, William R. Zimerla asks damages of $5,000 from Benjamin H. Snyder.

Harris, who also represents Zimerla, said Snyder was driving on Frederick street with the rear door of his car open. The door, he said, struck Zimerla, who was walking on the sidewalk, and injured his chest. He said Zimerla was confined to the hospital and his home and lost his income when he was unable to work. Medical and hospital expenses also were cited.

Snyder also is charged with negligence.

Dairy Stockholder Sued

Clarence U. Llewellyn and Harvey E. England filed suit for $2,500 against Harmon R. Simons, charging that he signed an option last December 29 agreeing to sell his Queen City Dairy stock to them.

Llewellyn and Harvey said they offered Simons $300 a share for each of his six shares of stock but that he refused to transfer it. Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., and Thomas Lohr Richards represent Llewellyn and Harvey.

Stuby Will Head Clerks Union Here

Clyde W. Stuby, 407 Prince George street, was elected president of Local 654, Retail Clerks Union, at a meeting of the group yesterday afternoon in Allegany Trades Council hall, William R. McGinnis, international representative, reported.

Other officers of the union will be Miss Mildred Payne, first vice president; Mrs. Jean Lynch, second vice president; Mrs. Ruth Cramblitt, recording secretary, and Miss Rose Boch, financial secretary.

Members of the board of trustees will be Mrs. Margaret Preskorn, chairman, and Miss Phyllis Brode and Miss Eleanor Rice.

The local voted to increase the monthly dues by 25 cents and to hold regular meetings the first Monday of each month at 5 p. m. in Allegany Trades Council hall.

C. E. Stutzman, who is business manager of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, was named business agent of the Clerks union.

McGinnis said contracts have been reached with the Cumberland Cloak and Suit, Rosenbaum and People's Clothing stores and added the local is negotiating on several other agreements.

Three Applicants File For Police Positions

Three applicants for positions on the Cumberland Police Department have secured papers at City Hall, according to Samuel E. Griminger, city clerk.

So far there is one applicant for the post of milk inspector and one applicant for fireman. The deadline for filing before taking the September 25 test at Fort Hill High School is Friday, September 20, at noon.

To be eligible for any of the positions applicants must have been residents of Cumberland for three years. Police and fire applicants must be between 21 and 36 years of age, while aspirants for milk inspector must be over 21.

Lilya Asserts Education May Halt Accidents

Education on traffic regulations for both drivers and pedestrians will help to lessen the traffic accident toll in this city, Detective Edwin R. Lilya told the Cumberland Exchange Club last night.

Detective Lilya, a member of the Cumberland Police Department, pointed out that in the past year 107 pedestrians have been struck by cars on the streets of Cumberland and that most of the victims were injured while stepping between cars and between intersections.

In 90 per cent of pedestrian accidents, he said, the cause is over optimism, hurry or ignorance on the part of the pedestrian of their responsibilities.

Of the one and one-half million traffic mishaps reported in 1946, eight per cent can be attributed to faulty mechanism, five per cent to road conditions and the other 87 per cent to the driver or pedestrian, Lilya asserted.

From a traffic map showing the location of accidents here, Detective Lilya pointed out special danger points. The worst, he said, is on Wineow street and is caused chiefly by faulty parking on red lines in the area.

On Baltimore street at Centre, where pedestrian traffic is 40 times as great as vehicular, the accident toll is less than on Wineow steet, he added.

Jack Brehman, Baltimore, a representative of the J. Engle wholesale jewelry company, was a guest of the club at its meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club yesterday at 6:30 p. m.

Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill High School will be the guest speaker of the club next week.

Hunters Obtain 340 Licenses From Clerk

With the opening of the initial squirrel hunting season set for September 15, wouldbe hunters lined up yesterday in the office of the Clerk of Circuit Court and obtained a total of 340 licenses, attaches reported, boosting to a total of 1,913 county licenses and 1,024 state-wide permits, issued this year.

Hunters thronged the office throughout the day and often stood six deep as three clerks issued the permits amounting to 228 county licenses at $1.25 each, 108 state-wide licenses at $5.25 each, and three non-resident licenses at $15.50 each. Incidentally one fishing license also was issued.

Although the squirrel season opens on September 15, it will be postponed one day because the 15th falls on Sunday, a day on which hunting is illegal.

Times-News School To Feature Cooking Hints For Brides Today

Cooking information for brides including the buying and preparation of meat and recipes for meals of smaller quantity, will feature this morning's session of the Times-News Cooking School, which will begin at 9:15 at the Strand Theater.

Over 1,200 persons attended the opening session yesterday of the four-day event, which is being conducted by Miss Edalene Stohr, noted home economist, and her assistant, Miss Irene Hansen. Miss Stohr was introduced by J. William Hunt, editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times, on behalf of the sponsoring newspapers. She conducted a two-hour demonstration of modern cookery, called "A Symphony of Foods."

Cooking demonstrations scheduled for this morning include an apple pork steak, a small rib roast of beef, hamburger "scramble", made with eggs for a breakfast or luncheon dish; barbecued lamb shank, individual pecan pies, made without sugar, an upside down cake, using part syrup and part sugar; chocolate oatmeal cookies, and veal stew dumplings.

In addition to 10 baskets of groceries given away yesterday, the following women were given the dishes prepared on the Strand stage: Mrs. Carl Herpich, 832 Columbia avenue, Mrs. Albertus White, Bedford road; Mrs. D. J. Harvey, Valley road; Mrs. C. W. Gatrall, 17 Henderson avenue; Mrs. Albert Clark, 443 Goethe street; Mrs. Mary Yankie, 447 Waverly Terrace, Frances Grabenstein, 625 Elwood street. A carving set was awarded to Mrs. L. E. Watkins, 814 Sylvan avenue.

The doors will be opened at 8:30 a. m. today and succeeding days, and the school will begin at 9:15. The sessions will be over not later than 11:30 a. m. Admission is free.

CAPTURED KILLER—Two young World War II veterans shown here, captured Mark McCauley at Emoryville, W. Va., last night, near the scene of the fatal shooting of Sergeant Joseph P. Horne, Davis, W. Va., and Sheriff O. G. Hovatter of Parsons, W. Va., and wounded the sheriff's son, Donald Hovatter. The two men are Andrew Landis, (left) McCoole, railroad fireman and Owen Hughes, (right) Fort Ashby, W. Va., conservation officer. The two young veterans joined the posse in the hunt for McCauley, which extended over a large area around Emoryville, Hartmansville, Elk Garden, Oakmont and Allegany Front, W. Va.

Sheriff's Son Recounts Events Leading Up To Double Slaying

Donald Hovatter Says Shooting "Happened Awfully Fast"

By F. ALAN WEATHERHOLT

"It happened faster than you can tell about it," Donald Hovatter, 20-year-old Navy veteran of World War II, said last night as he lay wounded in a hospital bed at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., victim of a cold-blooded shooting Monday in which his father, Sheriff Orsa Gay Hovatter, of Tucker county, and West Virginia State Trooper Joseph P. Horne of Davis, were killed.

Young Hovatter, despite gun shot wounds in his arm, lip and shoulder, replied when asked if he felt like talking about the experience, "Yes, I'll tell you about it, but it happened awfully fast."

"My father, Sgt. Horne and I went to Emoryville, W. Va., in Mineral county to apprehend Mark McCauley of Davis, W. Va., who was living at Emoryville and was suspected of stealing a truck in Davis.

"When we got to Emoryville, we saw the truck in the yard of the James Harding home, where McCauley was boarding. Inquiry at the home revealed that McCauley had accompanied Harding to Keyser, where he planned to buy some clothes or something.

Waited At House

"Dad and I waited at the house and Sgt. Horne drove to Keyser. About 4 p. m., he returned with McCauley in the state police cruiser. I was just standing around talking with Dad. I know it was about 4 o'clock, because I had asked Dad

Legion Offers $100 Award For Capture

A $100 reward for the "man or men who would capture or kill" Mark McCauley, Davis, W. Va., who authorities said killed a sheriff and a state trooper at Emoryville, W. Va., Monday afternoon, was voted last night by the executive committee of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

The action was approved two hours before word came that McCauley had been captured by Robert Landis, Keyser, near the scene of the double murder.

Phil Fleming, post commander, said that the reward was offered because Sheriff O. G. Hovatter, Parsons, W. Va., one of the slaying victims, was a veteran of World War I and an active Legion member in his community, and because the latter's son, Donald Hovatter, 20, who was wounded in the shooting fray, is a World War II veteran.

Joins Police Force

Andrew R. Burns, 30, 606 Elm street, an army veteran, began work as a probationer on the Cumberland Police Department yesterday on the 1 a. m. to 9 a. m. platoon, Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, announced yesterday.

Burns, who is married, was discharged from the army October 4, 1945. He was formerly employed at the Cumberland Steel Company.

William Johnson, Truck Driver, Is Found Dead Here

William Harrison Johnson, about 50, 506 Greene street, was found dead in the cab of his truck parked on a vacant lot near the A&P Super Market on Wineow street yesterday at 11:15 a. m.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from a heart attack and estimated the man had been dead about 20 hours.

Mr. Johnson was employed by the Vang Construction Company for about five years and later by the Potomac Edison Company. In recent years he operated his own truck on a number of construction jobs in this area.

He was a native of Artemas, Pa., and was a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 265, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Flora B. Johnson, he is survived by three stepsons, Louis and Robert Haines, both of this city, and William Haines, Baltimore; two brothers, John Johnson, Artemas, Pa., and Wesley Johnson, address unknown.

JOSEPH ROWLEY RITES

Funeral services for Joseph L. Rowley, 62, machinist at the B. and O. back shops, who died Sunday morning at his home, 1101 East Oldtown road, will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

A native of this city, he was a son of the late Richard and Jane Brown Rowley, both of whom were natives of England.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Annie V. Fisher Rowley; two sons, Richard R. Rowley, this city, and Chester D. Rowley, of Punxsutawney, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Hausman, this city; a brother, Thomas Rowley, and a sister, Mrs. Nora Hewitt, both of Cumberland, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Rowley's name was given as Riley in an account of his death in Monday's News. The News regrets the error.

MRS. NORRIS RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Harriet E. Norris, 70, widow of George W. Norris, who died yesterday morning at her home, 436 Laing avenue, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Assembly of God Church, Elder street.

MISS DUCKWORTH RITES

Funeral services for Miss Mary A. Duckworth, 77, 205 Davidson street, who died Saturday in Memorial Hospital, were conducted yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Charles W. Bogan, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass and interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were E. F. Brode, Paul C. Weisenmiller, Albert M. Kerns, George Cline, Ronald Shires and Truman Fuller.

ORA LARGENT RITES

Funeral services for Ora S. Largent, 60, 35 Virginia avenue, B. and O. passenger engineer, who died Saturday, were conducted yesterday at 2 p. m. at the home by Rev. W. Clark Main, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. Interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were J. G. Myers, S. L. Wauhop, R. G. Morgan and H. E. Abe, of Local 352, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and S. Pittman, J. C. Catlett, T. W. Gatrell and W. D. Ambrose, of Local 448, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

GEORGE LIPPOLD RITES

Funeral rites for George E. Lippold, 50, who died Monday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary L. Owens, 133 Virginia avenue, will be conducted tomorrow at 9 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and burial will be in the church cemetery. The body is at the George Funeral Home.

THOMAS SIMPSON

Thomas Simpson, 78, Cresaptown, died last night at 9:13 o'clock in Allegany Hospital where he was admitted Sunday.

U.S.S. Cumberland Will Be Scrapped

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 10 (AP) — The U. S. S. Cumberland, Annapolis station ship for negro Naval Academy personnel since 1919, left here today under tow for Norfolk, Va., where it will be scrapped.

The vessel, built at the Boston Navy in 1904, started out at once on 40 years' uneventful service as a training unit.

It was docked respectively at Boston, Newport, R. I., Guantanamo Bay and Norfolk, where it was used from 1915 to 1919 as a receiving ship.

The vessel then went to the Naval Academy, where it has been docked beside the Reina Mercedes, station ship for white enlisted personnel.

It will be replaced by a barracks barge.

Rail Officials Say Smoke Ordinance Is "Too Rigid"

Wyatt Asks Council To Postpone Action On Control Measure

Terming the proposed smoke control ordinance "too rigid" to permit practical observance, officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday asked the Mayor and Council to postpone action on the ordinance for several months to give them a chance to prove that such a strict measure is not necessary in controlling smoke.

Harrison F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division, said that the railroad is willing to co-operate with the city, but that it would be "practically impossible" to operate steam locomotives and to comply with the ordinance.

With improved new equipment, more disciplinary action and the current education program for firemen and engine crews, the problem of smoke control can be handled without such a strict ordinance, Wyatt stated.

No Action Taken

The problem was discussed at a conference of representatives of the B. and O. and the Western Maryland Railway with city officials in the Council Chamber. Former Judge D. Lindley Sloan and William A. Gunter represented the railroads.

No action was taken on the railroads' request for postponement, but Mayor Thomas S. Post, who presided, said that the council would take the matter under consideration.

Chief speaker for the B. and O. was W. E. Sample, Baltimore, assistant superintendent of fuel conservation for the railroad, who travels to the various divisions throughout the year with a crew of nine or ten men to check on excessive smoke and other factors in fuel consumption. He was here in March and April to work with employes of the Cumberland division in the conservation program, and has been making similar trips throughout the system since 1941.

Declaring that excessive smoke means "dollars going out of the stack" because of improper combustion of fuel, and that the railroad is trying to prevent it, Sample said that the proposed ordinance is more rigid than any other in cities on the system.

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, pointed out that the ordinance was based on a model measure adopted by the American Society of Chemical Engineers, and that Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore ordinances have similar provisions prohibiting discharge of smoke the shade or density of which is equal to No. 2 of the Ringleman Chart.

Situation Improved

He added that Chicago is considering revising an ordinance to include prohibition of No. 1 type of smoke as well. Sample described No. 2 density of smoke as being "rather hazy" and said that other cities allow more time than the period of 30 seconds in any two or two and a half minutes during which smoke may be discharged when building a new fire or cleaning a fire, as proposed in the local ordinance.

Heskett said that during March and April, when Sample and his crew were working here to control locomotive smoke, the situation was greatly improved, but that the firemen apparently tended to become careless after that time and to neglect precautions to avoid excessive smoke.

Regarding the second section of the ordinance, which makes it unlawful for dust in the gases discharged from steam locomotives within the city limits to exceed .85 pounds per 1,000 pounds of gases, adjusted to 12 per cent CO-2 content for products of combustion, Sample said that the CO-2 amount and the amount of "fly ash" could not be determined on moving locomotives. He added that he had never heard of a similar provision in other smoke control ordinances.

Jets Described

Sample reported that about 10 over fire steam jets have been applied on yard engines here, out of 22 such engines, explaining that the jets take care of excessive smoke when the locomotive is standing still, but that they cannot prevent smoke when the locomotive is "working hard." That, he added, is up to the engine crew.

Fire door jets are inexpensive and are about equally as effective as over fire steam jets, Sample said. The installation of the former, a new type of equipment which has been in use here only since April 1, costs from $10 to $12. Neither is effective except when locomotives are standing still or are under light throttle, he explained.

The ordinance provides that, on or after April 1, 1947, it will be unlawful for a bituminous steam locomotive to be operated in the city unless it is equipped with over fire jets, which shall be in use during any time when the locomotive is in operation or standing, but ready for operation in the city limits.

Best Grade Of Coal Used

Stating that the best grade obtainable of deep-mined coal from West Virginia is used in locomotives, Sample said that on the Cumberland division in July, passenger trains burned approximately 85,000 tons, while engines in yard service here burned 22,847 tons.

Two men of his fuel conservation crew will be stationed here indefinitely, Sample said, adding that the high cost of fuel and the fact that fuel may be conserved through smoke control are incentives to encourage the B. and O.'s education program for firemen.

Following a request by Mayor Post, Wyatt said that he would furnish copies of reports made by
